FELL INTO THE OHIO.

Train Wreck Near Beaver, Pa.

One Man Dead and Four Men Injured.

Night Express for Cleveland Caught by Fill-in.

Passengers Smash Windows and Climb Bank—First Report Gave More Killing.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PITTSBURGH (Pa.,) Nov. 28.—At 1:15 o'clock a.m., the night express for Cleveland and Pittsburgh road, was thrown into the Ohio River, two miles below Beaver. The scanty information at hand shows that one man was drowned and four others badly hurt. The dead:

CASEY, Adams Express messenger, Cleveland; drowned.

L. COUCHANOUR, engineer, Cleveland; right foot cut off.

J. A. ALLEN, Pittsburgh, baggageman, several bones broken.

JOHN TAYLOR, colored porter, ankle injured.

The accident occurred at a point where extensive fill-ins have been made, and it is supposed the high water had washed the fill from under the track and let the entire train of engine and five cars into the Ohio River. The officials say no passengers were hurt.

The excitement was indescribable. The passengers were compelled to break their way out from under the cars by smashing the windows and climbing to the bank. The express messenger is supposed to have been imprisoned by baggage and drowned.

THE FIRST REPORT.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

BEAVER (Pa.,) Nov. 27.—Late tonight a Cleveland and Pittsburgh flyer went into the Ohio River at this place. Three Cleveland men, Engineer Couchanour, Fireman Allen and Express Messenger Casey were killed. Nineteen others are reported dead, and the entire train is said to be in the river.

LATER DETAILS.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

BEAVER, Nov. 28.—The loss of life, while not known, is thought to be considerable. The five cars were comfortably filled with passengers for Ohio points, thirty-six being destined for Cleveland alone. At 3 o'clock a.m., one body had been taken from the wreck, that of Express Messenger Adam Casey of Cleveland. The engineer, who has both legs cut off, will die. Baggagemaster Allen of Pittsburgh has his skull crushed. Others injured are:

CONDUCTOR FRANK BONNELL, Cleveland, arm broken.

PORTER JOHN TAYLOR, Cleveland, skull fractured.

PULLMAN CONDUCTOR M'ILWAINE, internally injured.

It is thought many passengers are in the wreck, which lies under ten feet of water. Ten passengers swam out and were taken to Conway with the dead and injured. The heavy rains were responsible for the wreck. The bank gave way while the train was running thirty miles an hour. The meager details from the wreck indicate that many are not yet accounted for.

LATEST PARTICULARS.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 28.—All of the passengers are now thought to have been saved, though many of them were badly shaken up.

When the train left Pittsburgh Union Station, it was composed of engine, express and baggage cars, two coaches, mail car and one sleeper. There were a total of nineteen through, and, in all, thirty-five passengers. Those who escaped the wreck had left the train at points between Pittsburgh and Sewickly.

The cause of the wreck was a washout. There has been recently laid some new tracks along this section of the road, and the heavy rise in the Ohio had loosened the earth. The earlier train had passed over safely, but some time before the arrival of No. 41 the tracks had been carried away. Into this, while going at its usual speed, No. 41 plunged, and the engine and the entire train were precipitated into the river.

The home of Engineer Coughanour is in Cleveland, and he, with the passengers, were sent on their way as soon as another train could be made up at Beaver. There had been alarming reports of heavy loss of life spread in Pittsburgh and at Beaver. In the latter place, some of the passengers who had made their way into the town from the scene of the wreck placed the number of dead at nineteen, but this was denied by the railroad officials.

The engine and express car are completely submerged, and all coaches are on their sides down in the river. The express messenger is in his car yet.

UNPRECEDENTED FLOOD IN PENNSYLVANIA.

MONONGAHELA AND ALLEGHENY RIVERS RAGING.

At Least Three Lives and Thousands of Dollars' Worth of Property Lost. Danger Feared for City of Pittsburgh. Wire Service Crippled.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 27.—After three days of incessant rain, a flood unprecedented for this season of the year swept down the Monongahela and Allegheny rivers last night, ruined hundreds of thousands of dollars' worth of property, caused the loss of at least three lives, temporarily threw out of employment thousands of workmen by the forced suspension of industrial establishments and rendered hundreds of families homeless:

JOSEPH DAVIS, mill worker, drowned.

JOSEPH FLOCKER, mill worker, drowned.

A November flood is quite common, but it rarely reaches the danger line, and for this reason the steady rains of the past few days caused no alarm until late yesterday, when warning was sent out that a dangerous flood was SANK IN DEATH.

Davis Out of All Earthly Pain.

Senator Had Been Out of His Mind Weeks.

Dying He Wished to Live for His Country's Sake.

Dye From a Stocking Caused Fatal Illness—Sketch of Remarkable Career.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ST. PAUL (Minn.,) Nov. 27.—Senator Cushman Kellogg Davis, chairman of the Committee on Foreign Relations of the Senate, died at his home in this city tonight at 8:40 o'clock. He had suffered greatly during two months of sickness, and gradually sank away, being unconscious for several hours before death, and so far as could be known, suffered no pain. Yesterday, appreciating the approach of the end, Mrs. Davis sent for venerable T. H. M. Villiers Appleby, archdeacon of the Protestant Episcopal diocese of Minnesota, and Rev. Theodore Sedwick, rector of the Church of St. John the Evangelist. Senator Davis was for a time sufficiently rational to express his grateful appreciation of the clergymen's ministrations.

Grouped about the death bed were Senator Davis's immediate family, his devoted wife, his aged father, Maj. H. H. Davis, and his two sisters, Mrs. Morford and Mrs. Bartlett Tripp. His law partner, C. A. Verance, and his wife were also present, as well as the doctors and nurses. The family had been prepared for the end since the first sinking spell, which occurred last Friday night, and all have been with the Senator or where they could be summoned at a moment's notice.

The Senator had been in a comatose state during the day. Death came almost imperceptibly, and the closing scene was marked with but little incident. His last conscious utterance was the expression of a wish to live; not for the sake of life itself, but because he believed his country needed him. His words were: "Oh, that I might live five years more for my country's sake."

Senator Frye, president pro tem. of the Senate, has been notified of the Senator's death, and his wishes with reference to the funeral arrangements will be complied with.

For more than a week it has been known that the death of Senator Davis was certain to occur within a short time. Although the bulletins issued by Dr. Stone form day to day made no positive statement to this effect, they nevertheless gave the impression that the case was a hopeless one. However, the announcement came as a shock to friends and fellow-townsmen of the Senator. In his moments of lucidity, he expressed a strong determination to recover, and within a week told a friend he was positive he would soon be well. Indeed, it is the general belief that the Senator's will is all that has kept him alive for the last week.

RAVED OF HIS WORK.

The kidney affection, which developed during his early illness, refused to yield to treatment, and resulted in death. It was Sunday, November 4, when the first note of warning was sounded, and since that time the lucid intervals have become less and less frequent, until the Senator was almost constantly out of his mind. He raved of his work. He would declaim in praise of the nation's foreign policy. A sentence about the Philippines would be followed by a comment upon the Monroe doctrine or a suggestion of an impending war with Spain. But always in his diseased mind, his patriotic and official duties were with him.

Two trained nurses were in attendance, relieving each other after short intervals. By the Senator sat his wife, who, despite the doctors' orders that she go to rest, refused to leave the bedside. Her vigil has been a long and trying one, but she has borne the ordeal bravely, and if wifely devotion could have saved the dying man he could have been saved. Even in his delirium the Senator was quick to notice her absence from his side and would toss feverishly about until again quieted by her presence. When rational he assured her that he would owe his recovery, which he never seemed to doubt, to her unwavering cheerfulness and encouragement.

Second only to Mrs. Davis in his devoted attention was the Senator's father. The elder Davis has borne the terrible strain with great fortitude and has watched over the sickbed of his son with tender solicitude. The Senator's mother has herself been very feeble of late, and she has not realized her son's condition. Mrs. Norford and Mrs. Bartlett Tripp, the Senator's sisters, have been staying at the house since the Senator's disease became so serious. Every day there has been received hundreds of cable and telegraphic messages of sympathy. They have come from many distinguished members of the diplomatic corps and high government officials as well as those in the humbler walks of life.

HISTORY OF DISEASE.

After his return from the Maine campaign in September, Senator Davis was troubled with twinges of pain in his foot, to which he paid little attention. He began an active campaign in this State, speaking at Duluth, September 21, and Alexandria, Minn., September 25. During the latter speech he suffered so greatly that he could not wear his shoe. He returned home at once, and was ordered to bed by his physician. A few days later an operation was performed but he failed to improve and a consultation of physicians was called. An operation, October 15, was beneficial, as was another October 22.

The case was one of blood-poisoning caused by an infection through a slight abrasion of his foot from the dye of black silk stockings, and the operations drew off the accumulation of puss. His condition improved steadily until November 4, when he grew worse, and Dr. J. B. Murphy, the Chicago specialist, was sent for, a consultation being held the next day. At that time a slight gangrenous substance formed and an operation was had, a portion of one toe being taken

IRRIGATIONISTS AND THE PRESIDENT.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Several delegates from the National Irrigation Congress in Chicago called at the White House today and had a talk with the President about irrigation work. Among the delegates were George H. Maxwell and Prof. Ferguson from California. After their talk with the President, the delegates went to the Department of Agriculture and had a conference with Secretary Wilson upon the same subject.

The chances for a fairly large irrigation appropriation at the hands of this session of Congress appear to be very good, and it is likely that an appropriation will be made directly for that work, instead of being tucked away under an obscure head. Last session an appropriation for surveying went through. Congress never yet has made a direct irrigation appropriation.

The delegation which called upon the President today presented the resolution adopted by the Chicago meeting, hailing with satisfaction the adoption of a policy for the reclamation of arid lands, and urging a liberal appropriation from Congress.

GOOD ROADS COMMITTEE.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—The President today received a delegation from the Good Roads Congress, which recently held a session at Chicago. The delegation was headed by W. H. Moore, who presented a memorial urging the President to recommend an appropriation of $150,000 for the construction of sample roads and the diffusing of information on the subject of road making.

The President expressed his interest in the purpose of the congress, and said he would be glad to further their aims.

[THE CRISIS IN CHINA.]

CONGER DISOBEYS.

Has Signed Peace Agreement.

Copy of Instrument is Before Cabinet.

Important Negotiations Nullify the Minister's Act.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A complete copy of the agreement reached by the foreign ministers at Peking arrived here today and was laid before the Cabinet at its meeting. As heretofore predicted, this agreement follows the French note, and provides for the execution of the leading Chinese princes, the destruction of the fortifications between Peking and the sea, and other matters objectionable to this government.

Minister Conger has disobeyed instructions in signing this agreement, and will be called to account. It is supposed that he has signed it, because in his telegram transmitting the copy of the agreement to the State Department he says: "We have signed," and gives no information about who "we" are. The agreement is in direct opposition to the notes issued by this government and in direct violation of the instructions sent to Conger personally by the State Department.

Secretary Hay today sent Conger a telegram asking him if he had received his instructions, sent at different intervals since the siege of Peking was raised, and if so, why he did not follow them. That Conger did receive all the instructions sent is shown by the State Department records, wherein his acknowledgment of their receipt is shown.

President McKinley and the State Department officials were much stirred up today when they learned how completely Conger had disobeyed orders. What they know now that he made complete job of his disobedience in every essential particular. If the agreement reached by the ministers amounted to anything, the United States would be compelled to repudiate it, but it is of no consequence anyway. There are some really important negotiations on foot, and they are making surprisingly good progress.

Secretary Hay's note to the powers last week made three important suggestions. They were: That the demands upon China be not presented in the form of an ultimatum; that the powers forbear to demand the decapitation of important Chinese dignitaries, and that there be moderation in demanding an indemnity. The note containing these suggestions has been answered by every power interested in China. Germany sent her answer here through Ambassador White, late this afternoon, and she accepts the suggestions. A reply from every other power had been received, so now Secretary Hay has all the powers united upon these three principles, which it was not expected that he would be able to do. The next step that the State Department hopes to induce the powers to take will be to withdraw all negotiations from Peking. Some foreign capital is favored as the place for continuing the dealings.

Secretary Hay believes the ministers at Peking are incapable of handling this question; that their judgment is warped all out of shape by the events there. He now wishes to get the powers to reach an agreement, frame their own demands upon China in their own Foreign Offices, and transmit these demands to Chinese authorities through the minister at Peking.

AN EARLIER REPORT.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—The Cabinet meeting today was occupied mainly in a discussion of Chinese affairs and the reading of portions of the President's forthcoming message to Congress.

The result of the discussion of the last phases of the Chinese problem was a thorough approval at every point of the policy of Secretary Hay, especially of the last instructions to Minister Conger, which were forwarded just a week ago.

While Minister Conger has full plenipotentiary powers and consequently by his acts at Peking can finally commit the government of the United States to an agreement, it is understood by the officials that so far he has not signed any protocol or preliminary treaty. So, regardless of Conger's disposition toward the agreement reached by the ministerial council, the government of the United States still stands uncommitted, and therefore is in a position to endeavor to bring about such changes in the arrangements as are deemed indispensable.

Ambassador White at Berlin has not yet communicated to the State Department the reception accorded by the German government to the copy of the instructions supplied by our State Department to Minister Conger. It is stated that these instructions, not being in the form of a direct address, would not necessarily call for a formal response, and it is even probable that the only result will be such an exchange of views as have taken place verbally at Berlin between our Ambassador and the German Minister for Foreign Affairs. It is expected that several days will be consumed in this kind of negotiation with the various powers before the last phase of the question initiated by Secretary Hay's instructions to Minister Conger can be passed.

Private advices received here indicate the suggestions of this government as embodied in these instructions, meet with general favor abroad.

MOST IMPORTANT CRISIS.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 27.—John Barrett, former United States Minister to Siam, today in an address before a special meeting of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, called to consider the oriental situation, emphasized the present crisis at Peking as the most important in the history of America's foreign relations, saying it would determine forever our relations, moral and material, with one-third of the active population of the world, and urging that business and religious organizations, merchants and ministers, should support the administration in its policy to preserve the "open door," both for commerce and Christianity, where reinvigorating of China, not revenge upon her, is the avowed purpose of our government.

DENBY MAY GO BACK.

TO SUCCEED MINISTER CONGER.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

CHICAGO, Nov. 27.—A special to the Tribune from Evansville, Ind., says: "Friends of Col. Charles Denby here assert that they have reasons to believe that the late United States Minister to China is to be sent back to that post to succeed Minister Conger, who, it is believed, will soon resign his office. Minister Conger succeeded Mr. Denby at Peking. Col. Denby is now in the East."

AMERICAN INTRIGUES.

RUMORS AFLOAT AT SHANGHAI.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

BERLIN, Nov. 27.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The Lokal Anzeiger publishes a dispatch from Shanghai, which says: "Unfavorable reports are in circulation concerning alleged American intrigues."

The dispatch adds: "The Germans have occupied the rich coal fields on the borders of the provinces of Chi Li and Shan Si."

LEIGH HUNT'S OPINION.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—Leigh Hunt, who has been in Korea and China for several years, will sail on the Oceanic tomorrow for the capital of China. He thinks that nothing is to be gained by withdrawing from a concert of the powers at Peking. He said: "It would be suicide for us to attempt to negotiate with the Chinese, because they are incapable of making a contract except such as the concert of the powers dictate."

GERMANY MAKES INQUIRIES.

UNCLE SAM NOT ANSWERED.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

BERLIN, Nov. 27.—[By Atlantic Cable.] Andrew D. White, United States Ambassador, today reiterated to the correspondent of the Associated Press that his recent interview with Baron Von Richthofen, the Secretary of Foreign Affairs, was a mere discussion of the Chinese question. Germany gave no refusal, and does not know whether she will make any answer to the United States suggestions.

A representative of the Foreign Office informed the correspondent of the Associated Press that he could not go into any details about the matter. He assumed that the note had been communicated to all the other powers, and refused to say whether Germany was preparing any answer or how she would answer, adding: "We must not interfere in the matter. It is the United States government's business to give out information on the subject, especially since the diplomatic negotiations at Peking are about finished."

The correspondent, from various sources, gathers the following facts: Germany, before replying to Secretary Hay's note, wishes to ascertain from her diplomatic representatives at the capitals of the powers how the other powers have received the United States' suggestions. Replies from the representatives are expected within forty-eight hours. If Germany, from the answers, should find that grave danger exists of Germany's isolation by not heeding the United States suggestions and insisting on extreme punishment, then Germany will answer the United States favorably. If, however, Germany should find enough of the powers siding with her, then she will adhere to her original demands.

Field Marshal Count Von Waldersee reports that Col. Arnstedt, with a small detachment of German troops, has left the country on a punitive expedition to Wu Sing Hsien and Nan Tsai Tsun, northwest of Tien-Tsin. Col. York's column left Kaigan for Peking November 23.

CRUELTIES TO PRISONERS.

GERMAN STORIES TABOOED.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

BERLIN, Nov. 27.—[By Atlantic Cable.] Several papers today print letters from German soldiers in China, describing cruelties practiced by the Chinese upon white prisoners. It appears that the limbs of the German, Lieut. Ferdinand, and two Italians were severed, one by one, until the tortured victims were dead.

"Thus," says the letter, "every white prisoner is treated by the Chinese."

Confirmation has arrived here of the report that Count Von Waldersee had taken special steps to prevent any more letters of this nature being printed here. The field marshal has issued a general order threatening to punish severely those who write letters containing war news, also those allowing them to be printed.

CHINESE ACTIVITY.

TUAN RAISING A BODYGUARD.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SHANGHAI, Nov. 27.—[By Asiatic Cable.] It is reported from Nanking that all the viceroys and governors have been ordered to prepare to defend the coasts and rivers whose security is important.

It is asserted in Chinese quarters that a body of palace guards has started for Sian Fu for the purpose of arresting Prince Tuan, who is raising a bodyguard among the Mongol princes.

The Governor of the province of Che Kiang, yielding to consular pressure, has appointed a deputy to negotiate with the British and American consuls as to the terms of satisfaction for the Chu Chuan massacre.

It is rumored that with a view of getting his army from Sian Fu, Gen. Tung Fu Hsiang has received orders to transfer the provinces of Shan Si and Kansu and parts of Mongolia to raise troops, but that he is not likely to obey.

CAUGHT COMING OVER.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

PLATTSBURGH (N. Y.,) Nov. 27.—The business of smuggling Chinamen across the border from Canada into this State is believed to have received its death blow. Late Saturday night two Chinamen were seen as they were being drawn through this village in a covered wagon. They were traced to Keeseville, N. Y., to which point they had been driven from Hemmingford, a distance of forty-five miles, and there located in a Chinese laundry. They were arrested and brought to Plattsburgh, where they were given a hearing before United States Commissioner Woodward. They gave their names as Foong Laing, aged 23, and Ham Chin Gee, aged 24, and they both stated through an interpreter that they were born in China and that they were from the province of Quong Tung. They were committed to jail and will be given their examination today.

The man who drove them from Hemmingford to Keeseville escaped, but the customs officials think they know who he is. Last night four more Chinamen were captured at Malone by officers who were raiding a Chinese "restaurant" which has recently been opened in Malone by Frank C. Parks, a Chinaman who came there a few days ago from St. Albans, Vt. These four Chinamen were driven from Athelstan, Quebec, to Malone, N. Y., in a sleigh, covered with robes and delivered to the Parks restaurant.

Parks was also arrested. He is believed to be an old offender, and is also believed to be in league with certain persons in New York. The driver of the team escaped. Parks and possibly the four Chinamen arrested with him will be brought to Plattsburgh, as the Malone jail is full and running over with Chinamen, there being no less than ninety-seven there today. There are six or eight in jail here awaiting trial.

ACTORS WANT REST.

Players' Church Alliance Begins an Active Campaign Against Sunday Theatrical Performances.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—The Actors' Church Alliance of America has begun an active campaign against Sunday theatrical performances, and its membership promises to keep it up until actors have one day of rest in seven, the same as persons in the ordinary avocations of life. It claims to have caused the arrests which have been made at New York theaters the past three Sundays, and it is now keeping an eye on the prosecution of these cases.

The Rev. Francis J. Clay Moran, chief of the law college, has given out a copy of a letter which he had sent to Deputy Chief Cortwright last Friday, dealing with the subject. It had been stated that the arrests in question were due to the actions of the Tammany Purity Committee, and Moran took occasion to correct this impression. He said that the law committee of the alliance had not had any communication with the Tammany committee in any way, and knew nothing of its actions.

PHILIPPINE CABLES.

The Islands Covered at Every Important Point With a Thorough System of Wire Connections.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27. — Gen. Greely, Chief Signal Officer of the Army, has received from Col. Allen at Manila a fresh map of the Philippine land and cable line, showing that the islands practically are covered at every important point with a thorough system of wire connection.

A new cable has been put in within the past month across the eastern end of Laguna de Bay, from Santa Cruz to Sinaloa, thus giving assured communication with the southeastern section of Luzon, where it heretofore has been very difficult to maintain land wires.

Boys Throw Nitroglycerine Upon a Fire—Four Lives Wiped Out and Fourteen Children Injured.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WHEELING (W. Va.,) Nov. 27.—At Leaserville, W. Va., twenty miles above Wheeling, on the Ohio River, a crowd of twenty boys had built a fire on the river bank from driftwood and were watching the rising waters.

In a lot of driftwood one of the boys threw on the fire was a can partially filled with nitroglycerine. Immediately there was a terrific explosion, and three boys and a baby were killed, and fourteen boys were injured, of whom two may die.

HONDURAS PAYS PEARS'S CLAIM.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—The State Department received a cablegram today from United States Minister Hunter at Guatemala City, announcing that he had just received from the Honduran government a draft for $10,000 American gold as indemnity for the killing of Frank Pears. The killing occurred at San Pedro Sulu in May, 1899, and the indemnity is the full amount of the claim set up. A settlement might have been reached earlier, but for some differences between the claimants themselves.

THAT ALLEGED ALLIANCE.

ST. PAUL (Minn.,) Nov. 27.—Vice-President Miller of the Great Northern today made the following statement regarding the much discussed "traffic alliance" between the Union Pacific and the Great Northern: "There is absolutely nothing in the matter but an extension of the tariffs that have always existed from other points between the Union Pacific and the Great Northern to the Great Northern mills of Spokane."

CLEVELAND, Nov. 27.—The culmination of ten years of constant effort to discourage all free transportation on railroads seems to be progressing. The first move was made by the Southwestern Passenger Association, and a committee will be appointed by the trunk-line associations as soon as the Central Traffic Association can canvass the situation. All requests for passes have been pigeonholed until December 15.

The plan is to place all favors on the basis of 1 cent per mile.

Impressive Funeral of Sir Arthur Sullivan.

Whole World Mourns Great Composer.

Remains Interred in St. Paul's Cathedral, London, With the Pomp of Royalty.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

LONDON, Nov. 27.—[By Atlantic Cable.] With all the pomp and ceremony which have attended the obsequies of a member of the royal family, the remains of Sir Arthur Sullivan, who died Thursday last, were interred in St. Paul's Cathedral today. Long before the hour set for the first portion of the services in the Chapel Royal, immense crowds assembled in the vicinity of the residence of the deceased and St. James Palace, while every point of vantage around St. Paul's was taken up hours prior to the arrival of the cortège. The immense crowds lining the route traversed by the procession testified to the widespread sympathy of the public, while both the Chapel Royal and St. Paul's were filled to their capacity with privileged ticket holders.

The Queen, Emperor William of Germany, the Prince of Wales and other royalties were represented, while the musical and dramatic world attended in large numbers. The presence of Joseph H. Choate, the United States Ambassador, and other diplomats and numerous Americans, including the Countess of Essex and Mrs. Ronalds, testified to the international position held by the dead composer.

The coffin was embedded in magnificent floral tributes sent from far and near in such numbers that they filled four hearses.

At the entrance of the chapel, in Ambassadors' Court, the body was met by the pallbearers, Sir Squire Bancroft-Bancroft, the actor manager; Sir Frederick Bridge, the organist of Westminster Abbey; Sir Alexander Campbell Mackenzie, principal of the Royal Academy of Music; Sir George Henry Lewis, the well-known lawyer; Sir John Stainer, inspector of music to the education department; Sir George Clement Martin, organist of St. Paul's Cathedral; Lieut.-Col. Arthur Collins, gentleman usher to the Queen, and Francois Cellier, the composer.

The clergy and the full choir of the Chapel Royal were attired in the historic robes of scarlet and gold, and the remains were borne up the aisle of the effectively-draped chapel behind, the choir chanting the plaintive opening verses of the burial service. The whole service was most impressive and the anthems were especially mournful. The audience displayed deep emotion as the strains of the anthem "Yea, Though I Walk" from Sullivan's "Light of the World" resounded through the sacred edifice.

PROCESSION TO ST. PAUL.

The preliminary service ended, the procession reformed and proceeded to St. Paul's Cathedral, along Pall Mall, the Thames embankment and Ludgate Hill. Large crowds gathered and the men took off their hats as the hearse passed. St. Paul's Cathedral was crowded and during the long wait the band of the Scots Guards played Chopin's and Beethoven's dead marches, while from the organ pealed Mendelssohn's tribute to the dead.

On the broad steps of the cathedral the dean and chapter of St. Paul's and the white-robed choristers, surrounded by thousands of spectators, met the procession. As the great doors flew open the sunlight streamed in and the voices of the choir, strong and sweet, broke the solemn silence which had prevailed up to that time throughout the cathedral. In a coffin, almost hidden beneath wreaths of flowers, the remains were borne up the aisle until they reached the chancel steps, directly beneath the dome. There a catafalque had been erected, on the edge of a narrow opening which led to the crypt.

Around the opening the inscription was worked in flowers: "His Sun Has Gone Down While it was yet Day."

IMPRESSIVE SERVICES.

Archdeacon Sinclair read the latter part of the service, and then the coffin was lowered into the crypt, the silence being only broken by the sobbing of a few women.

The benediction was given by the dean, and then occurred what has never before been heard in St. Paul's. Fifty women, all dressed in deepest black, and the same number of men, gathered near the coffin, arose from their knees. They were the chorus of the Savoy Theater. In quivering, trembling tones they commenced to sing Sullivan's "Brother, Thou Art Gone Before Us."

A great hush fell on the crowd that had started to leave the building. Gathering courage, the women's voices swelled out until every corner of the vast cathedral reechoed this sad requiem from those who had so often sung the lighter lyrics of the composer they then mourned. As they died away the organ took up the majestic strains of the "Dead March" from "Saul," the choir, clergy and mourners filed out, and one of the most impressive national funerals held in England came to an end.

The vault containing the remains of Sir Arthur Sullivan is situated in the extreme eastern corner of the crypt, close to the tomb of Dr. Boyce, the famous writer of church music of the last century. Near by lie the remains of Sir John Millais, who was president of the Royal Academy, and who died in 1896.

CHOATE KEPT WAITING.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

LONDON, Nov. 27.—Just as Mr. Choate, Charles Wyndham, George R. Sims and other well-known persons arrived at the Chapel Royal the attendants received orders to close the doors, as the chapel was full. Mr. Choate expostulated and showed his card of admission, but all to no avail. Mr. Sims remarked in a low tone: "The Anglo-American entente cordiale shattered, after all these years."

For ten minutes the United States Ambassador was kept waiting, but finally the attendants were ordered to admit him and the distinguished persons with him. The service was now well advanced. The door is known as the Ambassadors' entrance. One of them referred to Mr. Choate as a "foolish virgin."

MANILA, Nov. 28.—[By Manila Cable.] A detachment of the Third United States Infantry was ambushed Sunday near Malolos. Ladrones fired a volley at the Americans, killing two privates of Co. F, and wounding three. The insurgents escaped into a swamp.

Numerous insurgent bands have been dispersed and considerable stores destroyed in the province of Bulucan by Gen. Grant's mounted scouts.

Gen. Bates reports the capture of thirty-three insurgents, six of whom murdered seven persons last spring.

While returning by steamer, a detachment of Americans landed at San Vincente and attcked a body of rebels, killing seven.

A branch party attacked a party beyond Palestina, killing five and capturing nineteen. The Americans had no casualties. There has been considerable wire-cutting in that district.

Gen. Boynton Reports Work in Chickamauga and Chattanooga Parks—Region Not Unhealthy.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—The annual report of Gen. H. V. Boynton, chairman of the Chickamauga and Chattanooga National Military Park Commission, to the Secretary of War says:

"There are now erected on the Chickamauga field 107 field guns, mounted on iron carriages to imitate the pattern in use during the Civil War, marking forty-three Union battery positions, and ninety-four field guns, similarly mounted, marking thirty-nine Confederate battery positions. On the Chattanooga field forty-five guns, mounted as above, mark ten Union and ten Confederate battery positions there.

In view of the sensational reports current during the occupation of the park by the troops during the Spanish-American war that the park was in an unhealthy region, the commission calls special attention to the report of the engineers, showing in connection with the last annual report that the entire absence of fever or any general sickness in the park force, has continued from the time it began to clear up the park after the troops left to the present time.

Citizens armed themselves, and, forming a posse, followed the desperado on horseback and afoot and overtook him today in a swamp.

The negro was literally shot to pieces, fully 200 bullet holes being found in his body. The body was brought into town and placed in front of the courthouse gate, where it was viewed by hundreds.

off. It healed well and the doctors were hopeful. On November 12 nephritis and diabetes took form. Another consultation was held November 13, confirming the previous opinion and settling the presence of the kidney trouble.

Dr. Murphy had been sanguine of the Senator's recovery up to this time, but upon the discovery of the fresh complications he privately expressed the opinion that the case was hopeless. Since then the patient has grown steadily worse. Some days showed slight improvement, the patient being encouraged by hope of recovery, only to fail on the succeeding day. The patient's strength was kept up, but the failure of his kidneys to act left his system impregnated with poison. It daily became more difficult to induce him to take nourishment. His delirium increased, and he sank into unconsciousness.

SKETCH OF HIS LIFE.

Cushman Kellogg Davis was born in Henderson, Jefferson county, N. Y., June 16, 1838. In that year his parents moved to Waukesha, Wis., where his father farmed until 1850. After attending the common schools young Davis spent three years in Carroll College, at Waukesha, preparing himself for the University of Michigan, from which he graduated in 1857. During his boyhood he held for some time a position as telegraph operator in what is now a suburb of Milwaukee. After his graduation he entered the law office of Alexander Randall, afterward war Governor of Wisconsin.

In 1860 Mr. Davis began the practice of law, and also took an active part in the campaign resulting in the election of Lincoln. Two years later, war having come, he closed his law office to enlist in the volunteer army. He served for two years in the Army of the Tennessee in Kentucky, Tennessee, Arkansas and Mississippi, part of the time on staff duty. When, in 1864, broken health compelled his retirement, he was first lieutenant of Co. B, Twenty-eighth Wisconsin Volunteer Infantry.

Going to St. Paul, he formed a law partnership with his army chief, Gen. W. Gorman, ex-Governor of Minnesota Territory. In 1868 he was elected to the State Legislature, and two years later was appointed United States District Attorney, serving five years in that position.

In 1873, by a majority of one vote, he was nominated by the Republicans for Governor, and elected by a majority of 5496. The campaign issue was then new, being whether the State could control the charges of the railroads. Gov. Davis asserted this right, and such legislation was enacted and enforced during his term of office.

It was at this time that the great grasshopper plague devastated southwestern Minnesota, and Gov. Davis raised over $160,000 in money, besides supplies for the victims of the plague. Gov. Davis declined a renomination, and resumed the practice of law. When the Legislature of 1887 met, United States Senator McMillan withdrew as a candidate for reelection, and Mr. Davis received every vote.

Mr. Davis's first chairmanship of the Senate was of the Committee on Pensions, which he held throughout his first term. He was author of the pension law of 1890, which terminated the demands for excessive pension legislation, and also satisfied the old soldiers. As a member of the Committee on Territories Senator Davis led the fight of the administration of the Dakotas to statehood, making his first speech in the Senate on this occasion.

As a student and an authority on international law Senator Davis furnished briefs to President Harrison and Secretary of State Blaine on the Chilean dispute and the Bering Sea controversy. His advocacy of the new locks at the Sault Ste. Marie ship canal carried to a successful result legislation the wisdom of which has since been amply demonstrated.

In 1898 the Republican legislative caucus voted in favor of the reelection of Senator Davis, but before the Legislature voted on the Senatorship various influences intervened and he was finally elected by a majority of 1, although the Republicans had 17 on joint ballot.

At the beginning of his second term Senator Davis was placed on the Committee on Foreign Relations, and when Senator Sherman was transferred to the Cabinet of President McKinley, Senator Davis was placed at the head of that important committee.

During the past four years Senator Davis has been chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee of the Senate, and later was one of the Paris peace commissioners, which has kept him prominently before the public of all nations. He was reelected without opposition in 1899 for his third term.

Senator Davis has been twice married. His first wife was Miss Laura Bowman, and after she had secured a divorce from him he married in 1880 Miss Anna Malcolm Agnew.

REGRET AT WASHINGTON.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—The death of Senator Davis, although expected, came as a shock to his colleagues in the Senate, who had gathered here preparatory to the meeting of Congress. The Senator's genial manner had endeared him to his colleagues and others. Many genuine expressions of regret were heard when his death became known. President McKinley was informed of the Senator's death, and sent a telegram of condolence to the widow.

The sergeant-at-arms of the Senate, after the announcement of Senator Davis's death, sent notifications to the following Senators, requesting them to represent the Senate at the funeral: Nelson, Cullom, Lodge, Foraker, Wolcott, Morgan, Daniel, Clark of Wyoming and Pettigrew.

WASHBURN TO BE NAMED.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ST. PAUL (Minn.,) Nov. 27.—Gov. Lind, who is a Democrat, will have the naming of a Senator to fill the vacancy caused by Senator Davis's death in the interval between now and the time the Legislature elects. It is understood the Governor will not name a Senator of his own political faith. The time of his service is short and nothing would be gained by the move. It is stated that Gov. Lind will name former Senator W. D. Washburn to fill the vacancy. Although opposed politically, Gov. Lind and Senator Washburn have long been close personal friends, and it is regarded as highly probable that the ex-Senator will be named.

Senator Knute Nelson, whose term expires in March next, is a candidate for reelection, and had the indorsement of the last Republican State Convention. The forthcoming Legislature will therefore have the choosing of two United States Senators.

ANARCHIST AT LARGE.

Letter to Hoboken Police Discloses Plot Against the President.

[NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—The police of Hoboken, N. J., have received a letter alleging the existence of a plot to assassinate President McKinley. The writer of the letter gave the name of the alleged chief conspirator, which the police refuse to make public at this time. The letter, which is illegibly signed, is as follows:

"Sir: Having almost thoroughly assured myself of an anarchist plot against His Excellency, McKinley, I consider it my duty to advise you of the name of one who is more than suspected of being a leader, whose name is found in the enclosed slip. He is a fugitive from justice and a dangerous man, having been convicted several times, and on the last occasion being sentenced to five years' imprisonment for anarchist attempt.

"My statement can be verified on appealing to the prefect of police at Paris, France. In the course of the past year he had concealed with him a man named Francois, the author of an anarchistic attempt at Scranton, where he mortally wounded an agent of the police."

The writer of this letter, the police say, has been located, and his story will be investigated.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—George W. Wilson, Commissioner of Internal Revenue, died this forenoon in his apartments at the Riggs House of Brights disease, complicated with asthma. There were with him at the time of his death, Mrs. Wilson, his daughter, Mrs. Pardonner, and several of his associates of the Treasury Department.

George Washington Wilson was 57 years of age and a native of Ohio. He entered the Union army when 18 years of age as a private in the Fifty-fourth Ohio Volunteer Infantry and served throughout the war, coming out a first lieutenant. In 1866 he took up the practice of law, and in 1869 entered the internal-revenue service, rising from one important position to another.

He was regarded as the most thoroughly-informed man on internal-revenue subjects who ever entered the government service, and was consulted on all measures affecting the revenues that have been before Congress for many years. The funeral will be at Hamilton, O., on Thanksgiving day.

KAISERIN GROWING OLD.

Empress Augusta Victoria Obeys the Emperor Explicitly—Stories of the Young Princes.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

BERLIN, Nov. 27.—[By Atlantic Cable.] From a high court official it is ascertained that Empress Augusta Victoria has greatly aged of late, her hair being now entirely gray and thin and her forehead furrowed.

"Her Majesty obeys the Kaiser implicitly," says the official in question, "and he orders everything in connection with her affairs, even her immediate entourage. The present equerry of the Kaiserin, Capt. Eckhardt, was appointed by the Emperor without consulting the Empress, who was much astonished when he presented himself.

The Kaiserin is suspicious of all new faces, and only trusts the lower servants, who have been long in the service. Crown Prince Frederick William has been carefully educated all around, but the other imperial children are afraid of horses and most sports, owing to the Kaiserin's constant surveillance. Recently Prince Oscar told his mother who had reproved him that this was 'not the way to talk to an imperial prince.'

"The Crown Prince, however, is universally loved and respected. He is an excellent sportsman and rider. His relations with his father have been far continued good. Recently the Crown Prince, while attending a parade given by officers of the first regiment of foot guards at Potsdam, was obliged to listen to a number of personal anecdotes. He said nothing until the time came for him to withdraw, and he quietly observed: 'Gentlemen, you have understood the peril of all these stories, but hereafter please refrain from anecdotes of that character.'

Emperor William has shown a fondness for automobiling since his recent overturn. At the recent St. Hubert hunt at Doejerits the Kaiserin was unhorsed, and the animal she rode has been sold.

SURE OF ARBITRATION.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, Nov. 28.—The Paris correspondent of the Daily Mail says he had a conversation with Kruger yesterday, and that the Boer statesman grew excited and vehement when the reporter hinted that the world would ignore all attempts at arbitration and would fight a combination of powers rather than the republics.

"Mr. Kruger insisted," says the correspondent, "that Mr. Chamberlain signed The Hague convention, but could not withdraw. He knows that England had earned a just position, and that if there was a God, England would be punished."

Talk of Arbitration—Sword for Gen. Cronje—Anti-English Demonstration.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PARIS, Nov. 27.—[By Atlantic Cable.] Kruger began a busy day by making an official call. Before 9 o'clock he departed from the Hotel Scribe, driving in a landau surrounded by Republican Guards and by cycle policemen, to visit the Premier, M. Waldeck-Rousseau. He was accompanied by Dr. Leyds, Dr. Van Hammel and Secretary Fischer. The party was met at the entrance to the Premier's saloon by M. Ulrichs, director of the Cabinet, who introduced the visitors to the prime minister. The interview took place in M. Waldeck-Rousseau's private study and lasted ten minutes. At 9:30 o'clock, the Premier, accompanied by M. Ulrichs, returned the call.

The officers of the Municipal Council of Paris and of the General Council of the Seine were received at 10 o'clock a.m. by Kruger in the Hotel Scribe, the interview was private and brief. Immediately after the visitors had departed, Kruger drove to the Hotel de Ville. He received an ovation from a large crowd massed in the square in front of the edifice. Kruger was conducted to the debating hall, where he was given the arm-chair reserved for representatives of governments. The municipal councillors and people in the galleries loudly cheered the distinguished visitor.

Vice-President Escudier delivered an eloquent address, saying Paris had given Kruger a welcome worthy of his noble character and the grandeur of his cause. He also said: "You have heard the heart of Paris beat. It is the heart of France. Let the people speak and speak loudly, and arbitration will impose itself as necessary satisfaction to justice and civilization."

The president of the General Council spoke in a similar strain.

KRUGER GIVES THANKS.

Kruger replied in energetic tones, thanking the speakers for the sentiments expressed. He said he was deeply grateful for the welcome, which was a continuation of and a crowning of what France had already given him. Since he landed, the former president added, he had been on a rising wave of acclamation. He was very thankful for what had been done and for what they wished to do for him and his people, who were still struggling and were not yet defeated. They will ever struggle, he said, for independence, liberty and justice.

Continuing, Kruger said: "Ah, why cannot they hear your acclamations? They would redouble their courage."

Kruger also said he hoped they would yet know them, one day in the future, when they had recovered their independence. He regretted arbitration had been refused, and he would never cease to demand it.

The Boer leader was then shown through the superbly-decorated halls of the Hotel de Ville. Once he appeared at a window and was enthusiastically cheered. As he drove back to his hotel he was accorded a warm greeting on the road.

The president of the Municipal Council tomorrow will propose in the council a vote in favor of arbitrating the Transvaal disputes.

SWORD FOR GEN. CRONJE.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PARIS, Nov. 27.—Henry Rochefort, accompanied by a deputation including several deputies, today presented Kruger with a sword of honor destined for Gen. Cronje, now a prisoner on the island of St. Helena.

M. Rochefort, in handing the sword to Kruger, spoke of the heroism of the Boers and expressed the hope that "the syndicate of thrones" will some day be overthrown by "a syndicate of the peoples."

During the day a thousand students formed in line, preceded by a banner and the whole headed by a band. They carried the French and Boer colors and the students presented to Kruger a neat address. They were loudly cheered on their way to the Hotel Scribe. There Kruger appeared on the balcony and saluted them.

TROUBLE THREATENED.

An incident similar to the one that took place at Marseilles occurred on the arrival of the students' procession at the Hotel Scribe. An upper window of the Grand Hotel opposite was opened and a handful of small copper and silver coins was thrown down. The students, incensed at the insult, attempted to attack a shipping office which is on the street level, but the police interfered, pointing out that the shippers had no connection with the affair. Ultimately the shippers were persuaded to close the office.

A delegation of four students entered the hotel and presented a bouquet to Kruger, who accompanied them upon the balcony arousing great enthusiasm among the students, who now numbered 2000. A considerable body of students stood below the window from which the coins had been thrown, singing anti-English songs. No disturbance, however, occurred.

This evening Kruger and Secretary Leyds drove to the Foreign Office where they were received by the Minister of Foreign Affairs M. Delcasse, with whom they had an interview lasting three-quarters of an hour. On their departure M. Delcasse conducted Kruger from the staircase.

Dr. Leyds, referring to a statement attributed to Samuel Parson, former Commissary General of the Transvaal, that Kruger would probably soon proceed to the United States, said "the statement is without foundation."

SURE OF ARBITRATION.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

LONDON, Nov. 28.—The Paris correspondent of the Daily Mail wires that he had a conversation with Kruger yesterday, and that the Boer statesman grew excited and vehement when the reporter hinted that England would ignore all attempts to secure arbitration and would fight any combination of powers rather than give up the republics.

"Mr. Kruger insisted," says the correspondent, "that Mr. Chamberlain has signed The Hague convention, and could not withdraw. He said that England had earned a just punishment, and that if there was a God, she would be punished."

PETITION TO THE POWERS.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

LONDON, Nov. 28.—The Vienna correspondent of the Daily Chronicle says he hears that President Kruger has petitioned the powers for arbitration under The Hague convention; that two powers acceded to his request, but all the others rejected the petition.

New York Police Arrest Man Who Has Been Victimizing Physicians. Told "Touching" Stories.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—The police say they had in custody a man who for more than a year has been victimizing physicians and surgeons throughout the Eastern States. The man who has been arrested describes himself as William Ferguson, 59 years old, living at the Capital Hotel, Bowery. He is of Irish birth and says he is a physician.

Ferguson called on Dr. William M. Polk and told a touching story about having lost his wife, two children and all his property in the Galveston storm and flood. Dr. Polk afterward remembered having received a call a year ago from Ferguson and notified some of his professional friends. He further remembered that at that time his visitor said he had lost all he had in a fire in Michigan. Dr. George E. Jarman was one of those communicated with. Dr. Jarman received Ferguson and again the Galveston flood story was told. Dr. Jarman gave his visitor a marked $1 bill and later the pretended physician was turned over to the police.

MARY ELLEN LEASE UNTYING HOLY BONDS.

HER "LIFE PARTNER" WILL NOT REGRET THE DIVORCE.

Says He is Tired of Being Known as the "Husband of Mrs. Lease"—She May Be Very Bright, but is No Wife for Him.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WICHITA (Kan.,) Nov. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. Mary E. Lease will this week file a suit in the District Court of Wichita, asking that a divorce be granted her from her husband, Charles Lease. She will charge incompatibility and failure to provide. Lease says he will not contest the suit. It will probably be filed here tomorrow, as the papers are now in the hands of attorneys here.

For the last three years the couple have not lived together. During the seven years before that she was in politics, and was at home little of the time. Three years ago she wanted her husband to go to New York and live, so she could give her voice wider scope, but he refused and objected to her going. She went anyway, and took her three children with her. They are there now, but Lease has supported them.

Mrs. Lease is making very little money now out of her lectures. This summer, when she changed politics, he scored her in an interview. He said today he was getting tired of being referred to as "the husband of Mrs. Lease." He said she was a very bright woman, so far as learning went, but she was no kind of a wife for him.

SOME OF KAISER'S DOINGS.

BERLIN, Nov. 27.—Emperor William, it is understood, during his recent visit to Kiel, approved plans which involve an expenditure of 30,000,000 marks on the navy improvements under consideration. When traveling nowadays, the Emperor usually takes with him a specially-carved pulpit, elaborately ornamented, from which he delivers his speeches and sermons.

GEODETIC SUPERINTENDENT.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—Otto H. Tittman, assistant superintendent of the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey, has been appointed superintendent of that bureau to succeed Superintendent Pritchard, who has resigned to accept the presidency of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

ISLANDS ARE ALL RIGHT.

President Taft Says the Capacities for Trade Are Unlimited.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 27.—In a private letter just received here from Judge Taft, president of the Philippine Commission, speaking of the resources and needs of these islands, he says:

"With these islands completely pacified, they are far and away the best possessions in the Orient for purposes of trade and development. The climate is better than the climate of any other tropical country of which I know, and the capacity for agricultural, mineral and commercial development would seem to be unlimited.

"Even with the unsettled condition of the country, as it is, the tonnage of the vessels coming into the harbor of Manila, excluding the government transports, is double what it ever was in Spanish times, and the same thing is true of the inter-island tonnage.

"With the construction of roads and railroads through these islands, the opportunities for development cannot be exaggerated. One of the things needed here is the introduction of American business methods. The establishment of two or three large American business houses here, both retail and wholesale, would do wonders for the business standards of these islands."

PLOT TO KILL LORD ROBERTS.

A Johannesburg Church Was Mined for Him.

Conspiracy Fails and Ten Men Jailed

Small British Victories Reported—Dewet in Portuguese Territory.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

LONDON, Nov. 27.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The War Office has the following from Lord Roberts, dated Johannesburg, November 26:

"As reports of a plot against my life will probably reach you, I think you should know the facts. It is believed that there was a plot in existence, and five Italians, four Greeks and one Frenchman were arrested November 16, and are now awaiting trial. The intentions were to explode a mine under St. Mary's Church during the morning services at 11 o'clock on November 18."

CONSPIRACY FRUSTRATED.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

LONDON, Nov. 27.—According to a special edition of the Evening Standard today, a plot to assassinate Lord Roberts, in which two foreigners are concerned, has been discovered. It appears that the conspirators laid a mine, which was designed to be blown up Sunday while Lord Roberts was in church at Johannesburg, but the police and Lord Roberts's bodyguard frustrated the conspiracy. Ten men, mostly Italians, have been arrested. These details, the paper says, it has been unable to verify.

BRITISH VICTORIES.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

LONDON, Nov. 27.—Lord Roberts, cabling from Johannesburg, under date of November 26, reports a number of encounters with the Boers at widely-separated points, in which the British captured some cattle and a few prisoners and suffered slight casualities. The most serious affair was an engagement with the forces of Gen. Delarey, numbering about 100 men, with three guns, who opposed Gen. Clement's march toward Rietfontein. The Boers, the dispatch adds, were completely dispersed.

PORTUGUESE CROSS RIVER.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

LORENZO MARQUEZ, Nov. 27—A detachment of eighty mounted Portuguese troops, with two guns, crossed the river this morning at Catembo. It is reported Gen. Dewet is in Portuguese territory and in that district.

ENGLISH PUBLIC DAZED.

WAITING FOR PARLIAMENT.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—A dispatch to the Tribune from London says the meeting of Parliament next week will not occur too soon. The public is dazed and bewildered by the confusion which prevails, both in South Africa and China. The trend of events will be clearer when the members are in their places to answer questions, and the leader writers are provided with cues by those behind the scenes.

A war costing $7,500,000 weekly is going on and nobody seems to know when it is likely to stop. Everybody is in a critical mood. Lord Roberts is sharply criticised for a mistaken policy of leniency; there is an amazing outbreak of invective and abuse directed against Gen. Kitchener; there are remonstrances in Liberal journals and from pro-Boer platforms against the barren policy of burning farms and starving the burghers in the impoverished Dutch territory, and Lord Salisbury is attacked for neglecting to inform France and others powers that the two republics have been annexed and that the Boers were no longer entitled to recognition as belligerents when they are merely rebels, guerrillas and bandits.

When so many games at cross purposes are in progress it is impossible for the public to know what is going on. The only point on which there is general agreement is that the French government has maintained a correct attitude during the last week, and that the English people have no reason to complain of the reception of Kruger. Lord Salisbury has clearly acted with some intelligible motive in refraining from changing the status of the Boers from belligerents to rebels.

CHAMBERLAIN'S IGNORANCE.

ANSWER MADE TO CHARGES.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

LONDON, Nov. 27.—[By Atlantic Cable.] Joseph Chamberlain, Secretary of State for the Colonies, says he is part holder in companies profiting by government contracts.

"I hold a very small portion of the capital of the Birmingham Trust," he said. "I do not know and never have known anything about its investments, which, of course, are constantly changing.

"I did not know it had any investment in the company called 'The Tubes, Limited,' and I did not know that the company was interested in government business. I was not aware of these facts when I asserted in the House of Commons that I had no interest in the firms supplying stores to the army."

WOLSELEY'S HASTE.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

LONDON, Nov. 27.—The Standard expressing great regret at Lord Wolseley's refusal to retain his office until the return of Lord Roberts, says: "It is not calculated to reassure an observant public."

MISS GOULD'S GENEROSITY.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—Miss Helen Gould, accompanied by her maid, has purchased over $3000 worth of clothing and toilet articles which she has ordered dispatched to the distributing officer of the United States army at Manila, Philippine Islands.

The goods will be presented with Helen Gould's compliments and Christmas greeting to the New Yorkers of the troops in the Philippines. Miss Gould personally selected every article, and in each case bought the best quality obtainable. She carefully examined the clothing in order to see, she explained, that it was of suitable weight.

KIDNEY TROUBLE PREYS UPON THE MIND

Women as Well as Men Suffer and Are Made Miserable by Kidney and Bladder Troubles.

To Prove what Swamp-Root, the Great Kidney Remedy, will do for YOU, every reader of The Times May Have a Sample Bottle Sent Free by Mail.

The kidneys filter and purify the blood—that is their work.

So when your kidneys are weak or out of order you can understand how quickly your entire body is effected and how every organ seems to fail to do its duty.

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking the great kidney remedy, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, because as soon as your kidneys are well they will help all the other organs to health. A trial will convince anyone.

Women suffer as much from kidney and bladder troubles as men do, which fact is often lost sight of. Many times when the doctor's services are sought he quickly comes to the conclusion that here is another case of female weakness or womb trouble of some sort.

Many of the so-called female complaints are nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease.

Among the many famous investigated cures of Swamp-Root, the one which we publish to-day for the benefit of our readers speaks in the highest terms of the wonderful curative properties of this great kidney remedy.

Mrs. H. N. Wheeler, of 117 High Rock St., Lynn, Mass., writes: "About 18 months ago I had a very severe spell of sickness. I was extremely sick for three weeks, and when I finally was able to leave my bed I was left with excruciating pains in my back. My water at times looked very like coffee. I could pass but little at a time, and then only after suffering great pain. My physical condition was such that I had no strength and was all run down. The doctors said my kidneys were not affected, but I felt certain that they were the cause of my trouble. My sister, Mrs. J. E. Littlefield, of Lynn, advised me to give Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root a trial. I procured a bottle and inside of three days commenced to get relief. I followed up that bottle with another, and at the completion of this one found I was completely cured. My strength returned, and to-day I am as well as ever. My business is that of canvasser, I am on my feet a great deal of the time, and have to use much energy in getting around. My cure is, therefore, all the more remarkable, and is exceedingly gratifying to me."

MRS. H. N. WHEELER.

If kidney trouble is permitted to continue, much suffering with fatal results are sure to follow. Kidney trouble irritates the nerves, makes you dizzy, restless, sleepless and irritable. Makes you pass water often during the day and obliges you to get up many times during the night. Unhealthy kidneys cause rheumatism, gravel, catarrh of the bladder, pain or dull ache in the back, joints and muscles; makes your head ache and back ache, causes indigestion, stomach and liver trouble; you get a sallow, yellow complexion, makes you feel as though you had heart trouble; you may have plenty of ambition, but no strength; get weak and waste away.

In taking Swamp-Root you afford natural help for Nature, for Swamp-Root is the most perfect healer and gentle aid to the kidneys that is known to medical science.

If your water, when allowed to remain undisturbed in a glass or bottle for twenty-four hours, forms a sediment or settling, or has a cloudy or milky appearance; if there is a brick-dust settling, or if small particles float about in it, your kidneys and bladder are in need of immediate attention.

The great Kidney Remedy, Swamp-Root, is pleasant to take, is used in the leading hospitals, recommended by physicians in their private practice, and is taken by doctors themselves who have kidney ailments, because they recognize in it the greatest and most successful remedy for kidney, liver and bladder troubles.

Swamp-Root has been tested in so many ways, and has proved so successful in every case, that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of The Times who have not already tried it may have a sample bottle sent absolutely free by mail. Also a book telling more about Swamp-Root and containing some of the thousands upon thousands of testimonial letters received from men and women who owe their good health, in fact their very lives, to the wonderful curative properties of Swamp-Root. Be sure and mention the Los Angeles Daily Times when sending your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

If you are already convinced that Swamp-Root is what you need, you can purchase the regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles at the drug stores everywhere.

CANAL BILL IS A SURE WINNER.

MORGAN SAYS IT WILL SURELY GO THROUGH THIS SESSION.

Alabama Senator Says Trouble Will Be Over Permission to Consider It. Favors Ratification of the Hay-Pauncefote Treaty.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—Senator John T. Morgan of Alabama is quoted in a Tribune special from Washington as saying in an interview about the Nicaragua Canal project:

"I can see no reason why the canal measure should not go through this session. Every Senator who has thus far returned to Washington has expressed his willingness and determination to vote for it, and I have no doubt that a large majority of the Senate will vote for the bill when the time arrives. The trouble has been and is likely to be, in securing permission to consider the bill. When a vote is taken a great majority will vote in its favor.

"I am in favor of the ratification of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty and I think this treaty will be disposed of favorably.

"The question of fortifications along the canal is one which has more interests for the countries of Nicaragua and Costa Rica than for the United States. Nicaragua and Costa Rica own the ground and ought to have a right to say just what they want in this direction. If they want the right to fortify the canal then there will be some necessity for the discussion of this subject, but so far as the interests of this country are concerned, the matter is of very little consequence.

"Some of the military authorities may take the ground that in view of the uncertain character of the government of South American republics, a few fortifications might be a good thing, but this is an opinion that does not bear on the canal project proper, and is of no great consequence. Let the nations owning the land have their say in this respect and let us not worry over the subject."

IMPORTS INTO SIBERIA.

DUTIES NOT PROHIBITIVE.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—A special to the Journal of Commerce from Washington says the levy of duties on certain imports into Siberia will not affect some of the important articles necessary to the development of the country. The report that flour would be taxed 80 per cent. is emphatically denied by the official representatives here of the Russian government. It is declared that the duties will be the same as in European Russia on flour, amounting to about 15 cents per 56 pounds, or 80 cents per barrel. The entire European tariff will not be applied, however, upon imports into Siberia. Many articles, like railway equipment, locomotives, structural iron and agricultural iron and agricultural machinery, will be continued to be admitted free of duty into all parts of Asiatic Russia.

The duties announced, moreover, which take effect on January 1, will apply only to articles imported at Vladivostok, and other neighboring ports, and will not extend to the entire country north of the trans-Siberian Railway. These duties will not be levied in any manner in Manchuria, the Chinese province which is practically under Russian control since the lease was made for the construction of the eastern branch of the trans-Siberian Railway. The Russian government, so far as the State Department is advised, proposes to adhere firmly to the agreement for the open door in all parts of the territory of China, including those under temporary Russian control.

The Russian government is desirous of raising the revenues protecting domestic industry in Siberia to a certain extent, but proposes to leave free of duty such articles as are not produced in the country, and will contribute to its rapid development. It is declared by the representatives of the Russian government tha it is not proposed at present to seek any large loan, and that the expenses of recent military operations in China will be defrayed from the free cash balance in the treasury.

HOPES FOR OLEO BILL.

MILLIONS OF FARMERS WANT IT.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—Representative Tawney of Minnesota, one of the leaders in the effort to pass the Oleomargarine Bill, is quoted in a Washington special to the Tribune as saying in an interview:

"The bill is set in the House for December 6. It will be a very lively day, and the debate will be spirited on both sides, as the opposition will make a hard fight. I am confident, however, of the passage of the bill in the House by a safe majority, and I believe that the prospects are good for its passage in the Senate. The fight will be made on the bill in both houses of Congress. Farmers from the Atlantic to the Pacific are in favor of the bill, and the customer who wishes pure butter is with me. A petition of 5,000,000 farmers has been signed in favor of the bill."

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—Secretary Root returned today. He was not in time for the Cabinet meeting, having been delayed five hours by a landslide.

Mr. Root said his trip to Cuba had been quite satisfactory. He had confined his inspection to the east of the island. His annual report, Mr. Root said, would be ready for the press by the time Congress meets.

San Anselmo Orphanage Saved by Boys.

Harry Gerald Captains the Little Host.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN RAFAEL, Nov. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] With smoke curling through the building and the fire bell clanging its alarm, a score of children manned the fire hose at the Presbyterian Orphanage at San Anselmo yesterday, and saved the building from destruction.

When the alarm was given, the matron collected the girls and little boys and marched them out of the building. The boys, some just out of kilts, had their hose reels placed out, and under the direction of Harry Gerald, their fourteen-year-old chief, had attached the fire by the time the girls were formed by their teachers.

Sending the smaller boys with buckets of water to flood the floors, Gerald, with his juvenile pipemen, entered the blazing room, where, nearly blinded by smoke, the brave lads kept a stream of water on the blazing ceiling. The matron telephoned for the fire department, but the blaze was out before the engine arrived. She praised the youthful firemen warmly, and said their courage and skill had saved the building, which houses 110 orphans.

KENDALL'S PIPE DREAM
TOOK HIM TO ENGLAND.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

VANCOUVER, Nov. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In April, 1894, Dr. W. H. Kendall arrived in Vancouver with an invalid aunt. He was a man of wealth, but not wishing to be idle, he bought a large stone quarry here and was carrying on a big business, supplying all British Columbia cities with stone when, April 14, 1896, he suddenly disappeared.

Dr. Kendall's aunt engaged Pinkerton detectives. She told them that the day before his disappearance, her nephew made over to her all his wealth as if contemplating a desperate act, but as he was in the habit of smoking opium and was known to have several hundred dollars when he disappeared, it was thought by many, including the detectives, that he had been made away with in some Chinese opium joint. The Pinkerton men worked for six months on the case, but could not find Kendall's dead body or his supposed murderers. His partner, R. J. Clarke, however, believed him to be alive, and after working four years on the case, his suspicions have been confirmed.

A letter arrived today, four years after Kendall's supposed murder, saying Harry Cotton, a former Vancouver newspaper reporter, saw Kendall in London, and traced him to Worthing, Eng., and simultaneously with the receipt of the letter, a cable has been received by Clarke from the Chief of Police at Worthing, saying "Kendall here with aunt."

Kendall left his business in bad shape here, and let others suffer through his conduct, but it is supposed that after he awoke from his strange pipe dream he was ashamed to declare himself.

SHE WISHES TO VOTE.

Therefore Mrs. Sargent Has Sued to Recover Taxes Paid.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A novel application was made here today by one of the leaders of the California society for securing female suffrage. Mrs. Ellen C. Sargent, widow of the late United States Senator Aaron A. Sargent, petitioned through her attorney to the Board of Supervisors to order the Tax Collector to refund her taxes on the ground that she is deprived of the right to vote. She paid taxes amounting to $440, under protest, and in her petition she claims that the deprivation of the right of suffrage because of her sex robs her of the political power that should belong to every taxpayer.

Several other prominent women belonging to this female-suffrage association also paid taxes this year under protest, among them being Mrs. Jane L. Stanford, who pays taxes on several millions of securities, and Mrs. John F. Swift, widow of the former United States Minister to Japan. They have gathered statistics showing that two-fifths of all taxes in San Francisco are paid by women, and they claim they should have the right to vote on municipal, if not on general, matters.

sive Dispatch.] Eugene Brooks, the elder of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion, and W. W. Maltby, a carpenter, were arrested this afternoon at the conclusion of the Coroner's inquest, the jury in which placed upon them the blame for the death of the six-year-old son of Maltby.

On the street in which the Maltbys reside there are a number of cases of diphtheria, and the houses in which the patients reside are quarantined. A week ago, one of the Maltby children was taken ill, but instead of calling in a physician, the father and mother sent for the Zionist elder, who prayed over the sick child, and then went out and mixed with the public again. Maltby and Brooks say the child had croup, but the doctors and bacteriologists say it was suffering from diphtheria, and that its life was sacrificed.

When asked why prayers had not saved the child, the father and mother, without the least concern, said because there was sin in the heart of one of the family. The greatest indignation exists, as the doctors who made the post-mortem say the child's life could have been saved if a physician had been summoned.

WOMAN BETRAYED BY COLLEGE PROFESSOR.

HILDA JOHNSON ACCUSES DAVID RINEHART PORTER KING.

He is Polished and Highly Educated and She the Motherless Daughter of a Ranchman—Lived Together in Father's Absence.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN JOSE, Nov. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A story of wooing, false pledges in return for sacred confidence, ruin of a young life and base desertion, is the tale related today by Miss Hilda Johnson of Agnews station to Justice Wallace. The villain in this drama of real life is Prof. David Rinehart Porter King, who, when on duty, occupies the chair of social economics of the State Normal School of Pennsylvania. He is polished, highly-educated and possesses all the qualities necessary to playing his part on any modern stage. Diplomas from Yale and University of Pennsylvania are among his possessions.

He came to this country some months ago to attend the final settling of the estate of D. J. Rinehart, whose nephew and heir he is. One of the properties of the estate was an orchard near Agnews. On this resided Johnson the father of the girl. King took up his residence on the farm and commenced at once to bestow attentions upon Miss Johnson. Evident attachment grew rapidly between the two and much of King's time was spent here in company with Miss Johnson. The mother of the girl being dead, and there being no other woman on the place, the two were thrown together with none to intrude.

Some months ago the father went to San Francisco to work, and the two were left entirely alone except the presence on the farm of employés. Professions of love and pledges of marriage, it is alleged, overcame the unsuspecting maiden. Unmolested, they lived in continued love relations, the date of marriage being continuously postponed until the deceived girl suspected the worst and she demanded that his promises be made good. He left with a last false promise to obtain the necessary papers and return, and has not since been seen. The ruined girl sought the law's defense as a last resort. Sheriff Langford is endeavoring to intercept King by wire, and obtain his arrest. It is thought that he has fled to Oregon.

MURDER MYSTERY UNSOLVED.
FRESH FACTS FROM REDDING.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

REDDING, Nov. 27.—The mystery surrounding the murder or suicide, last Thursday night, on Fraser's Hill, just this side of Bella Vista depot, is unsolved. The body still lies in the morgue here, is now thought the remains are those of Frank Michaels of Portland, Or.

Michaels stayed in Redding one night, and went on to Bully Hill next day. He stayed there two days unemployed, and started to walk back to Redding Thursday morning. He is said to have been without money. He never reached Redding. That evening the body of a stranger was found on Fraser's Hill with a bullet in the head. People who saw Michaels believe it was he who was murdered or committed suicide, although their short acquaintance with Michaels precludes positive indentification.

While the officials are trying to ferret the manner of death of Thursday's victim, there comes a report of an attempted holdup in the same locality, which adds to the mysteriousness of the whole affair. Bert Hall, who farms beyond Bella Vista, claims that as he was returning home about dusk, he was passing the spot where the body was found when a highwayman stepped from the brush, and demanded "Hands up." Instead of complying, Hall pulled the trigger of a shotgun which lay across his knees. The robber replied with an ineffective shot, which seemed to be from a rifle. Hall's horse took fright and ran away down hill.

FOUR-MASTER'S DISASTER.
POLTALLOCH'S CREW SAVED.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SOUTH BEND (WASH.), Nov. 27.—The four-masted bark Poltalloch, which went ashore yesterday, two miles north of Willapa, is gradually working into a hopeless position. This morning she was southwest of the lighthouse, inside the breakers, bow on, and creeping further up on the sand. Seventeen of the crew got off in lifeboats yesterday evening, and all of the officers and three of the crew remained aboard all night. All hands were brought ashore this morning by the life-saving crew.

At the time the vessel stranded a dense fog prevailed, and she was right in the breakers when her position was discovered. The first anchor had to be slipped. The chain of the second parted, and then the bark was helpless, there being no wind. As soon as the fog lifted, she was discovered by Capt. Oleson of the tug Astoria, and he made an effort to get to her, but found that the water was too shallow for near approach. It is now believed she cannot be taken off except by the use of cables and anchors with a favorable conjunction of wind and tide. At this time of the year the latter seldom occurs, and it is the general opinion that the vessel will prove a total loss.

FATHER VARSI DEAD.
SANTA CLARA COLLEGE'S HEAD.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 27.—The Rev. Father Aloysius Varsi, for many years president of Santa Clara College, superior of the Home Mission of the Society of Jesus, and prefect of the church of St. Ignatius of this city, died this afternoon at the parish house of St. Ignatius, aged 70 years. The immediate cause of death was heart disease, due to a complication of ailments from which he had been suffering for more than a year. Although an invalid, Father Varsi had regularly attended to his religious duties, saying his last mass today.

Father Varsi was a native of Sardinia. He came to California in 1864, and taught at Santa Clara College from 1865 to 1867, after which he became president of the institution and remained at its head for nine years, the usual term being only three years. During that time he built the celebrated theater at Santa Clara.

STATEHOOD FOR ARIZONA.
GOV. MURPHY SEEKING IT.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PHOENIX (Ariz.,) Nov. 27.—The Arizona Republican tomorrow will say Gov. N. O. Murphy, the defeated Republican candidate for Governor, accompanied by his brother, Frank Murphy, will go to Wahington next week to endeavor to secure aid in getting Statehood for Arizona. The announcement created much surprise, as the Murphy platform at the recent election was built entirely on the hope of Statehood and with the knowledge that a Republican Congress would hardly admit a Territory showing Democratic control.

It is generally understood that Oklahoma and New Mexico, by virtue of big Republicans majorities at the late election, will be admitted, and it is hoped by Gov. Murphy that an omnibus bill may be prepared and pushed through, taking in all three Territories.

TOO DRUNK TO RISE.
MAN DROWNED IN A PUDDLE.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 27.—D. C. Wilson, a boilermaker, aged about 60, was drowned last night in the water under a building being constructed on Beale street. The body was found by men employed by the contractor who is constructing the building. Dr. Leland says that the deceased died from asphyxia by submersion. He thinks that the boilermaker fell into the excavation while under the influence of liquor. The water was only a couple of feet deep and he would easily have saved himself had he been in a normal condition. A card with the address, "James D. Wilson, San José," was found in his pocket.

GOVERNOR-GENERAL OF THE PHILIPPINES.

GEN. JAMES F. SMITH LIKELY TO BE APPOINTED.

The Former Colonel of the First California Regiment Has the Confidence of the President Because of His Marked Successes.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A private dispatch received here from Washington by a prominent public man says the President is considering the advisability of appointing Gen. James F. Smith, recently Governor of Negros Island, and now collector of customs at Manila, as Governor-General of the Philippines. This is because all regular army officers of high rank are tired of service in the Philippines, and have made application to be relieved. The chiefs in the different army bureaus in this country are too old to be assigned to such service. In this emergency Smith was suggested, and the President is said to favor him for the civil governorship. The Military Governor will probably be Chaffee.

Gen. Smith went to Manila as colonel of the First California Regiment of Volunteers. He was in the front of the fighting from the first, and after the conclusion of most important military operations, was appointed a brigadier-general and made Governor of the Island of Negros. When Smith first took command in Negros, he found it in rebellion and without government of any kind. Within two years he established order and set up a government that is as safe and complete as any territorial government in the world. It is maintained exclusively by native officers, and is almost free from military regulations. In fact, there are now but two battalions of soldiers on this island.

In his two years of service under Gens. Otis and MacArthur, Gen. Smith has won the full confidence of the administration. To his ability is attributed the fact that the island of Negros has been pacified, and is now enjoying perfect civil government. Gen. Smith has marked executive ability, and it is in recognition of this that he was recently promoted from the governorship of Negros to be collector of customs at Manila. The customs service at Manila has assumed gigantic proportions under the American administration. For the six months ending last July its receipts were $7,000,000, a sum without a precedent in the history of the city. Over this vast business Gen. Smith has now complete control, which means that even at this time he has one of the most important posts in the government of the Philippines.

ROCKY MAN DUG OUT.

Petrified Corpse in Which Are Bullet Holes Found In Arizona.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

JEROME (Ariz.,) Nov. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Almost lifelike in its every feature, the petrified body of a man was uncovered this morning by a prospector in Deception Gulch, half a mile south of Jerome. Every curve and line had been preserved in the process of fossilization, and interest is added to the discovery by evidences that the unknown had died a violent death. His heart and right arm had been pierced by bullets, and gaping wounds tell a story of probable murder.

While a prospector was at work in Deception Gulch he noticed the foot of a man protruding from the side of a hill. He hastened to a camp near by and informed its occupants of his find, proceeding then to the scene. They exhumed the petrified body of a man in perfect condition. It was found in lime formation, and has all the appearances of lime rock.

END OF THE CZAR.
OVERDUE SCHOONER WRECKED.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 27.—Word has been received here that the overdue schooner Czar of this city has been wrecked off the Mexican coast. Her crew, composed of Capt. Wagner and eight men, have probably been drowned.

William Oleson, owner of the Czar, today received a telegram which says that the wreck of the schooner has been sighted drifting off the coast, about sixty miles from San Blas. The Czar left San Blas for this city September 20, and was forty days overdue.

CAN HOLD TWO OFFICES.
ASSEMBLYMAN DURYEA SAFE.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 27.—In response to an inquiry from F. A. Duryea, who was recently elected to the Assembly from Placer county, Atty-Gen. Ford has rendered an opinion to the effect that one person may at the same time hold the office of Assemblyman and town clerk of the town of Lincoln, in Placer county, a city of the sixth class, under the Municipal Incorporation Act.

Although one of such offices is legislative and the other executive, in character, they do not come within the inhibition of the State constitution, which latter instrument relates solely to State offices.

CHINESE TOOK A SNEAK.
WERE AWAITING DEPORTATION.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 27.—Eight Chinese who were awaiting deportation escaped from the detention room at the mail dock early this morning, and have succeeded in remaining at large.

About 1 o'clock this morning Watchman Borreo discovered that a board had been taken out of a small room on the east side of the detention loft. He and the watchman employed by the Pacific Steamship Company made an investigation and learned that eight Chinese had escaped.

The Celestials had knocked the board out and then scrambled over the roof in the direction of the bonded warehouse. They then lowered themselves to the ground near the railroad tracks and made good their escape.

The matter was reported to the surveyor's office and the Chinese bureau today. Men were detailed to search for the missing Chinese, and an investigation will be made. Some of the Chinese who escaped were to have been sent home on the Doric tomorrow. There were 105 Chinese in the shed at the time of the break.

RENO FIGHTS THE LOTTERY.
PLEDGE FOR LEAGUE WORK.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

RENO (Nev.,) Nov. 27.—The people of Reno met in mass meeting today to devise ways and means of organising the fight against the lottery amendment, which comes up before the Legislature next January.

A. C. Bragg was chosen chairman and E. D. Ayers secretary. Judge Curler moved that pledges be passed through the audience for signatures to the Anti-lottery League. The pledge, which was passed, read as follows:

"We, the undersigned, hereby join the Anti-lottery League and pledge ourselves to use all honorable means at our command to aid in killing the scheme at the incoming session of the Legislature, or, failing in that, to redouble our efforts against it when it is submitted to a vote of the people for ratification."

A motion was then made empowering the chairman to appoint a committee of twenty-five to organise the fight, and with power to appoint from their number or otherwise sub-committees to carry forward the work of the Anti-lottery League in such manner as seemed to them most expedient.

Judge Curler in the course of a speech said that the corporation that the citizens of Reno have to fight is nothing more nor less than the Louisiana Lottery Company, and if the company once should get a foothold in the State, they will control the elections in every precinct; will set aside from their vast profits a sum to buy votes and corrupt the politics of this State and will control every office. They will control the Legislature and the State officers, and will see to it that the State does not grow in population to make their burdens heavier.

The motion was then adopted, and, after a committee was appointed, the meeting adjourned.

CANADIAN JEALOUSY ASTIR.
BOSTONIANS TO BE TAXED.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

VANCOUVER (B. C.,) Nov. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Vancouver capitalists have long been jealous of the enormous business done by the Boston Halibut Company, which has been doing a very large business with New England fish markets by shipping halibut in ice, caught in northern neutral waters, and now a Canadian company is to embark in the business on a large scale.

According to an agreement with the customs department of Canada, the Boston Fish Company's halibut has been shipped duty free. A million pounds of the fish have been shipped this season, and the duty saved by this agreement amounts to $10,000. The understanding is, however that if a Canadian company embarks in halibut fishing in British Columbia, this agreement is to be revoked. Thus the Boston company is deeply concerned in the Canadian proposition, and it is understood that it is its intention to move its halibut fleet to the Sound as soon as the Canadian authorities revoke the customs arrangements.

NEW GARRISON TOWN.
PLANS FOR VANCOUVER.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

VANCOUVER (B. C.,) Nov. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A special dispatch from Ottawa states that the British War Office has decided to make Vancouver a garrison town by erecting barracks and establishing a garrison in the city. The reason given for the establishment of a military post here is that the geographical position of Vancouver demands it, as the city is the terminus of the Canadian Pacific railroad, Canada's transcontinental line, which is under contract to handle troops by special trains in emergency, and is also the home of the big Pacific naval-reserve liners. Military men here say no word as to the intention of the Federal government has reached them.

TRAMP SOLD AT AUCTION.
HER CAPTAIN DIED AT SEA.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 27.—Another chapter in the queer history of the tramp British bark Melanope was closed today, when the United States Marshal sold the vessel at auction. The sale was made to satisfy numerous claims against the bark that have arisen from time to time since she came into port with the tragic story of the death of her captain and his mistress on the high seas. John Rosenfeldt and sons of this city were the purchasers and the price paid was $53,900.

San Francisco Likes Opera.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 27.—That Wagner's music is appreciated in this city is evidenced by the interest attendant upon the first production in San Francisco of "Der Ring Des Nibelungen" by the Maurice Grau Grand Opera Company. Scores of people were unable to gain admittance, and police aid was necessary to keep the aisles clear. A large number of people stood during the entire performance.

UNCLE RUSSELL AND THE WICKED PLUMBER.

SAGE NOWHERE SO WISE AS HIS NAME INDICATES.

He Beats Down the Prices of the Man of Lead Pipe and Iron Nerve and Falls a Victim to an Awful Revenge.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Chuckles and broad grins are current in the little Long Island village of Lawrence on account of the rich joke that the villagers have heard at the expense of Russell Sage. In round figures the joke on the financier is estimated at $35.

Sage, who owns several houses in Lawrence, recently engaged Plumber Holler to make some repairs. When the work was done the plumber presented to Sage personally his bill, amounting to $72. The Wall-street authority looked the account over carefully and said, decisively: "I'll give you $18 cash."

"All right," said Holler, "I need the money."

Sage asked him for an estimate on another job. Holler spent considerable time figuring, and then said: "Mr. Sage, "I'll do that job for $54."

When the work was completed Sage examined the work and professed his satisfaction. The plumber presented his bill in person for $54.

"It's worth $50 cash," said the financier. Meekly the plumber took his check. Then, so the villagers say, Holler took his revenge, also.

"Sage," he said, "I could have done that job for $25 and made a profit of $5, but I expected you to beat me down. I guess I'm about $25 ahead of you."

TROUBLE IS BREWING IN SOUTH AMERICA.

URUGUAY TO SEVER FRIENDLY RELATIONS WITH BRAZIL.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

RIO JANEIRO, Nov. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Official information of a positive character has confirmed the reports that Uruguay is about to sever friendly relations with Brazil. It is admitted that the government at Montevideo has intimated it will soon hand passports to the Brazilian Minister. The Cabinet has discussed the attitude of Uruguay, but in the absence of definite action, has not decided what course shall be pursued.

Bolivia also is showing some feeling against Brazilians. Its Minister has presented a protest against alleged support given to the cause of Acre by the authorities of the State of Amazonas. The Bolivian Minister informed the Minister of War that Bolivian troops have been massed greatly in their work of suppressing the rebellion, because supplies have been received by the insurgents through Brazilian territory.

Through its soldiers and its fleet on the ship with Peru, the Bolivian government has been able to stop warlike supplies from the west. Its officers are endeavoring to suppress the trouble, report, however, that the rebels, many of whom have come from the State of Amazonas, have no difficulty in obtaining munitions of war by way of the Amazon and Purus rivers. Bolivia is asked to take decisive measures in coöperation with Bolivia to end the rebellion.

ISLE OF PINES OURS.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—The United States will retain possession of the Isle of Pines, whatever the final disposition of Cuba, says a Washington dispatch to the Journal and Advertiser. It will be fortified and a strong garrison will be kept there.

Lying south of the western end of Cuba, the Isle of Pines commands the western Yucatan entrance to the canal and forms an important outpost for the defense of the Nicaragua Canal.

While Secretary Root visited Cuba he went to the island and recognized its strategic importance. The State Department now holds that under the treaty of peace the title of the Isle of Pines passed to the United States. Secretary Root holds a similar view of the northern side of the island—that next to the Cuban shores—is admirably adapted for the purposes of the government. It is high, thickly timbered, valuable woods and the climate is so healthful that prior to the war it was a favorite resort for pulmonary patients established there.

Naval officers say that Siguanea Bay on the northwest coast will, with a little dredging, afford an excellent and safe harbor.

THE CRIPPLED SANTA ANA.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PORT TOWNSEND, (Wash.,) Nov. 27.—The revenue cutter McCulloch, flagship of the revenue fleet in Alaskan seas, arrived today direct from Nome Harbor. The McCulloch sailed from Nome October 28. She reports having steamer Centennial towed to Nome by steamer Santa Ana from Dutch Harbor, and will come to this place.

Officers of the McCulloch express the opinion that the Santa Ana will report in safety, provided she encounters no severe storms, which would improve disastrous in her present condition, two blades of her propeller being gone.

The steamer Portland sailed from Dutch Harbor November 18, having convoyed the little side-wheeler Sadie, bound for San Francisco, and then proceeded to Puget Sound. She should arrive here tonight or tomorrow. After leaving Dutch Harbor the McCulloch encountered three days of storm of unusual severity.

FINISH FIGHT FOR FITZ.

Jeffries Offers to Make It Interesting.

Will Wait Until May to Meet Him.

Ruhlin and Maher Matched. "Kid" Carter Beat by Ryan. Benefit for Hall.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The announcement by Fitzsimmons that he is anxious to meet Jeffries and that the chances of a match between the pair is bright, was received with pleasure by the sports today. Jeffries said to a reporter today:

"I am pleased to hear that Fitz wishes to fight me. It is my ambition to meet him once more, not because I will gain any further prestige if I defeat him again, for I am champion, but just to convince my detractors that my victory over him at Coney Island was no fluke. Bob is a mighty good fellow personally, and a fine fighter. I don't like to hurt his feelings, but if he doesn't wish to 'queer' himself, he ought to sidetrack that 'Dixie gag,' for it's rusty by now.

"I am prepared to wait until next May or June to fight him. But it would suit me all the more to tackle him before then, because I have two other fights on hand, which will take up my time. Fits is not too old to fight. He proved this by defeating both Ruhlin and Sharkey. I wish he would sign articles at once, so as to prove to the public that he will not back out between now and next spring. You know a lots of things are likely to occur in that time. I am satisfied to fight him to a finish if he cares to.

"If we meet, the encounter must be for twenty-five rounds under the same conditions which governed our last battle, save that the victor must take all the spoils. I am tired of talk, and the sooner my prospective opponents realize this, the better for all concerned."

Manager Brady said he would draw up a set of articles this week and forward the papers to Fitzsimmons for his signature.

VARDON DISAPPOINTED.

DID NOT SEE THE COAST.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—Harry Vardon will make a flying trip to Colorado before sailing for home December 15. The Denver Golf Club has been trying for some time to get him for an exhibition match, but he declined to make so long a trip for one game. The golf club at Colorado Springs recently requested a Vardon match, and plans have been perfected so that Vardon will leave the city for Denver Monday. The return trip will be made one week from that date, giving him two or three days in New York before sailing for home.

Vardon is evidently disappointed in not being able to reach the Pacific Coast, but that plan had to be abandoned. The Chicago professionals, Willie Smith and David Bell, are going to make a tour of the Pacific Coast clubs, and Vardon a short time ago wrote to Smith expressing his wish to meet him in some matches on California links.

Vardon, it seems, is not going to remain long in his native country. He will return to America early in the year, and there is some talk that he will settle here permanently.

GOT HIS MONEY'S WORTH.

LONG TRIP TO SEE FOOTBALL.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—George Carter, Yale, '97, who played tackle on the team captained by Harry Beecher, came all the way from Honolulu to see the recent Yale-Harvard game at New Haven, and he brought his wife with him. He was on the road seventeen days, and before he gets home he will have traveled 11,400 miles and the trip will have cost him more than $1000. He stepped over in this city last night on his way back to Honolulu from New Haven.

Since going to Honolulu to live some years ago he had seen some football games in San Francisco, but not a college championship game. "It was worth every cent it cost us," said Mr. Carter last night. "When I get back, I will have covered about half the distance around the world. I would so clear around the world to see another game like it, and my wife would not have missed the trip for all we have spent."

THE CRIPPLED SANTA ANA.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PORT TOWNSEND (Wash.,) Nov. 27.—The revenue cutter McCulloch, the last of the revenue fleet from Arctic seas, arrived today direct from Dutch Harbor. The McCulloch sailed from Nome October 26. She reports that the steamer Centennial towed the disabled steamer Santa Ana from Nome to Dutch Harbor, and will convey her to this place.

Officers of the McCulloch are of the opinion that the Santa Ana will reach port in safety, provided she encounters no severe storms, which would prove disastrous in her crippled condition, two blades of her propellor being gone.

CHICAGO, Nov. 27.—Tommy Ryan of Chicago defeated "Kid" Carter of Brooklyn in six rounds at Tattersall's tonight before a crowd of 5000 people. Ryan had the better of the mill all the way though, with the exception of two intervals in the first and second rounds, when Carter sent him to the mat with right swings.

Carter was beaten fearfully about the head and face, and although he went the limit, he fought the last three rounds without knowing much about what he was doing except that there was a man in front of him, whom he had to hit. He fought gamely to the last, and his superior weight and strength were a heavy handicap to Ryan. The latter, however, was much too clever for Carter, and got inside nearly every swing he made and blocked three out of five blows that were sent to his body.

Morris Rauch of Chicago and McFadden of San Francisco came together at 115 pounds, McFadden forfeiting for being overweight. He looked about eight to ten pounds the heavier of the two. They went six very fast rounds, the decision being given to McFadden.

CORBETT-YANGER FIGHT.

CROWD HISSES AT DECISION.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

DENVER (Colo.,) Nov. 27.—Benny Yanger, the "Tipton Slasher" of Chicago, and "Young Corbett" of Denver fought a ten-round draw before the Colorado Athletic Association tonight. The decision was very unpopular, and Referee Jack McKenna was hissed by the entire crowd as he left the ring. Corbett floored Yanger seven times during the fight, and was himself down once.

In the eighth round Yanger went to the floor from a right swing on the jaw and got up very groggy. Corbett went in to finish him, and put him down four times more, each time for eight seconds, but he was himself so tired that he could not land hard-enough blows to put Yanger out. Yanger recovered strength by the time the ninth round began, and fought hard until the end, although his blows lacked the usual steam.

With the exception of the eighth round, when Corbett had all the best of it, Corbett broke even with Yanger, and finished in as good condition, neither being very strong, a result of their hard fighting.

Eddie Jones at Twelve to One the Winner of a Seven-furlong Dash. Morinel Beats Tappan by a Close Finish—Sea Lion Wins.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 27.—The sport was characterized by two extremely close finishes, Morinel beating Tappan by a short head, while Sea Lion beat Dr. Bernays in another race.

The surprise of the day was the winning of Eddie Jones in the seven-furlong dash, beating the crack local sprinter True Blue, and the eastern sprinter John Morris. The two sprinters raced out at a terific clip, killing one another off, which enabled Eddie Jones to win. The winner was as good as 12 to 1.

The weather was fine, and the track fast. Results:

RELATIONS WITH TURKEY ARE BECOMING ACUTE.

GRISCOM CALLS AT THE PALACE, BUT WITHOUT RESULT.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 27.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The relations between the United States government and the Porte are becoming acute. Mr. Griscom, the American chargé d'affaires, went to the Yildis Palace Sunday and had an interview with Tewfik Pasha, Minister of Foreign Affairs, and Tahain Bey, First Secretary at the Palace. The interview, however, was barren of result.

While the Porte outwardly persists in the attitude it has assumed regarding the question of granting an exequatur to the United States Consul at Harpoot, there is reason to believe the dispatch of the battleship Kentucky to Smyrna has made a marked impression in official circles.

ARMY AFFAIRS BEFORE HOUSE COMMITTEE.

AT LEAST THREE MILITARY BILLS TO BE CONSIDERED.

Chairman Hull Places Maximum at One Hundred Thousand—Root Consulted on War Department Measure. Proposal by Gen. Miles.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—The House Committee on Military Affairs today met for the purpose of considering the new army bill. The business was mostly of a preliminary character, the discussion being quite general on army affairs. The Republican members of the committee are apparently in favor of giving the President such an army as he requires.

The draft of the bill prepared by Chairman Hull will be the basis of the measure which the committee will consider. This bill provides for an army of the maximum strength of 100,000 men, with a minimum of 50,000, and general officers at the rate of one brigadier-general for each 4000 men, with major-generals in proportion.

Chairman Hull stated there will be but one bill prepared, and if any staff changes are contemplated they will be incorporated in that measure.

TO CONFER WITH ROOT.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—The members of the Military Committee probably will confer with Secretary Root in a day or two. This afternoon they went over the bill which has been known as the Department Bill, drawn on lines suggested and approved by Secretary Root. The Secretary expects to give further consideration to the bill, and then will send it to members of the committee. The War Department bill provides for a maximum of 90,000 men and a minimum of 58,000, with thirty regiments of infantry, fifteen regiments of cavalry and a gradual increase of the artillery until at the end of five years there will be 18,000 men. The artillery is not to be organized into regiments, but as batteries and organizations of heavy and field artillery.

With the maximum army there is to be 150 men to each infantry company, making 1830 men to a regiment. The maximum of cavalry troops is to be 100 men. There is no provision for a lieutenant-general in the War Department bill, but under the present law the senior major-general commanding would have the rank of lieutenant-general. The War Department bill does not give the same increase of major-generals and brigadier-generals as the Hull.

The detailed staff provisions are an important feature of the measure. It provides that hereafter vacancies in the staff, except the medical corps, pay corps and engineers, shall be filled by details from the line, such detailed officers being subject to line duty at any time. This is the same as the Hull bill of the last Congress, and is earnestly favored by Secretary Root. The War Department bill provides that the promotions shall be made from the regular army according to the present rank, down to and including the rank of captains. The officers of the present volunteer army can become officers in the regular army but in the grades of first and second lieutenants only, the vacancies in the captains' rank being filled from the first lieutenants of the present regular establishment. The relative rank of the volunteer officers entering the regular establishment to be determined by seniority.

The committee will not hold another session until Friday, adjourning over tomorrow and Thanksgiving.

GEN MILES'S BILL.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—Copies of the letter of Gen. Miles to the Secretary of War, submitting the draft of a proposed bill for the reorganization of the army have been furnished to the military committees of both houses of Congress. Gen. Miles favors an army proper based on one man for every 1000 of the population of the country. This will provide for 76,730 men, the army to be made up of fourteen regiments of cavalry, fourteen regiments of heavy artillery, four regiments of field artillery and thirty-two regiments of infantry. In addition to these the bill provides for 5086 non-combatants, divided as follows: Quartermaster's Department, 1000 men; Subsistence Department, 500 men; Engineer Corps, 2276 men; Ordnance Department, 590, and Signal Corps, 720 men.

Provision is made for an auxiliary force of 20,000 men to serve for three years, unless they are discharged, whenever in the opinion of the President such is necessary for an auxiliary force to be divided into infantry, cavalry and artillery, as may be required. The bill contains elastic provisions by which the enlisted force may be increased or decreased, provided the total strength of the army is not increased beyond the numbers provided by law. Provision is made for one general, two lieutenants-general, seven major-generals, and twenty-one brigadier-generals, the heads of the Adjutant-General's department, the Inspector-General's department, and the Quartermaster-General's department to have the rank of major-general, each with an assistant, with the rank of brigadier-general. Gen. Miles favors rotation in service of the officers in the different arms and also between the line and staff of the army up to the higher grades.

VIRTUAL AGREEMENT.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—According to a special dispatch from Washington to the Tribune, a virtual agreement upon the essential features of proposed legislation for the army was reached last night by War Department officials with the President's approval, and that of the Congressional leaders. It provides for a permanent standing army organization with a minimum strength of 50,000 men, to be increased as occasion demands by doubling the size of companies in the discretion of the President as commander-in-chief, and subject to the limitation of annual appropriations.

The new line organization will provide sufficient officers, about 4000 in excess of those at present in the regular establishments, to meet the requirements of companies of seventy men each. These companies may be increased to 140 men each without additional officers. Permanent allowances will be made for 18,000 artillery men in regimental organizations who are needed to care for the coast defense.

The framers of the adopted plan favor empowering the President to enlist natives in the Philippines not to exceed 15,000 men, as needed, to be organized in regiments with American officers, after the English manner of fighting rebellious natives with their people. Gen. MacArthur has urged this step, and gives assurances that he can easily select experienced officers from the volunteers in his division and will have no difficulty in getting desirable enlistments for an efficient and loyal native contingent similar to the Macabebe cavalry, now 500 strong.

The new permanent organization, 50,000 strong, is confidently believed to be insured, no doubt being expressed by War Department officials and Congressional leaders that the House and Senate are prepared to agree promptly to the new military basis. As to the elastic features involving the discretionary power of the President to increase the size of companies to not more than double their strength, there is some doubt.

ANCIENT CIVILIZATION.

Dr. Cole Finds Interesting Relics of Ye Olden Time in the Ruins Along the Mancos River.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, (Ill.,) Nov. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Dr. eGorge L. Cole, archaeologist of the University of Southern California, is now in Evanston with a large collection of relics, discovered by him in the ruined abode of the cliff dwellers in southwestern New Mexico. This abode was found by Dr. Cole and his party last summer, while engaged in work for the Northwestern University.

Dr. Cole, speaking of the explorations today said: "I began my work among the ruins along the Mancos River. Here are numerous cañons, fortified at the opening by watch towers from 160 to 400 feet high. The ruins of what appears to be the first buildings on the American continent are found in these cañons. Cities were numerous along the Mancos. In the side of sheer cliffs, 2000 feet above the river, were built the homes of this ancient people. The only way of reaching them was by climbing up from a second terrace below or down from above. In this region I counted 108 large buildings, and I believe there are more than 100 more along the river."

Dr. Cole located a pyramidal building containing 400 rooms, and in the same district found another building in the form of a letter Z. This had been originally four stories high, and had contained 150 rooms. In this building found bones of a woman from seven and a half to eight feet tall. In one of the rooms were cooking vessels still in the ashes, and containing the bonds of birds and cobs and kernels of corn.

The bones were of a turkey of much larger in size than those of today. The corn resembled popcorn. Stones on which the corn was ground, and tortillas were in abundance. Axes, knives and hammers of stone were in several rooms. Bone instruments were found, among them six flutes made from the leg bones of pelicans.

LOUD AND LONG.

Work on the Perennial Postoffice Bill Will Be Renewed as Soon as Congress Reassembles.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Representative Loud of California had a talk with the President today about postal affairs. Loud is chairman of the House Postoffice Committee. He wants Congress to pass his Postal Reform Bill this session.

Loud's bill has been pending a good many years now, and the Postoffice Department has been running behind in consequence. Last winter Congress metaphorically tore the bill into small pieces and then kicked it out of the window, but Loud says he is going to gather up the fragments again this year and see what can be done. It is reported that he is going to be backed this time by Postmaster-General Smith, who has come to believe the only way to stop second-class postal frauds is by taking Loud's bill.

The Postoffice Appropriation Bill this year, Loud says, is going to be about ten million dollars bigger than last. His committee will begin work on the preparation of the bill as soon as the session opens.

TRAIN WRECK.

threatened. The rising waters caught many wholly unprepared. The danger line is twenty-four feet, and this was passed about 3 o'clock this morning. At 11 a.m. the marks at Davis Island dam registered 25 feet 7 inches. Both rivers were stationary, and it was thought that the worst was over.

The lowlands in Pittsburgh, Allegheny, South Sharpsburg and McKeesport are inundated and nearly every plant fronting the two rivers has been forced to shut down. Hundreds of families in these districts have either been driven from their homes or are living in the upper floors and using skiffs. There were many narrow escapes from drowning during the night, and several men are reported as missing. Davis and Flocker, with three companions, attempted to row across the Allegheny in a skiff, which became unmanageable. The men were thrown into the river and Davis and Flocker drowned. The others were rescued.

At Nelville Island, the four-span railroad bridge in course of construction was swept away during the night. It was being erected by the American Steel and Wire Company, and was also to be used for passenger traffic by the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie Railroad Company.

PITTSBURGH IS SAFE.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 27.—At midnight the marks on the dam registered 23.7 feet, and falling. All danger has passed, so far as Pittsburgh is concerned.

One of the most remarkable incidents of the flood was the wild ride of an empty 35,000-barrel metal tank down the Monongahela River today. Where it came from has not yet been discovered, but the huge vessel came plunging over the dam at lock No. 1 at an eight-mile-an-hour gait. It was in the middle of the channel, and met with no obstruction until it came to the Panhandle Railroad bridge. Here it struck the stone pier with a terrific crash, rebounding, and repeated the operation several times before it passed. It finally sank in twenty-five feet of water at a point opposite the mouth of Ferry street, and just where it will impede navigation when the river resumes its normal stage.

The Tenth-street bridge will have to be rebuilt as a result of the flood. It has been shaky for some time, and today was carried away.

British Ship Lanarkshire Rescues the Crew of the Italian Coal Steamer Assiduita.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

FALMOUTH (Eng.,) Nov. 27.—[By Atlantic able.] The British ship Lanarkshire, Capt. Douglas, from Iquique, August 18, for the channel, has arrived here having on board Capt. Zino and thirty-eight of the crew of the Italian steamer Assiduita, laden with coal, which left New Orleans October 29, via Norfolk November 6, for Genoa and Naples.

The Assiduita was abandoned on fire November 16, in lat. 38 N., long. 39 W. The crew were transferred to the Lanarkshire in a heavy sea, during which two men were injured. When the Lanarkshire arrived here her supplies of food and water were exhausted.

HE PAYS FOR SKIN.

Dr. Prescott Giving Three Dollars a Square Inch for it to Graft on Felix Machut's Hand.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Nov. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Three dollars a square inch is the value that Dr. Elmer E. Prescott places on good healthy skin for the purpose of grafting upon the hand of Felix Machut of No. 208 Cleaver street. At this price he has advertised for twenty young men, from the arm of each of whom he will cut one inch square of skin and graft it on the hand of his patient. Seven have already answered the advertisement and have agreed to report to the doctor's office next Sunday.

"Felix Machut is 17 years old, and was employed in a cabinet factory when he met with a serious injury, October 23. While operating a revolving sandpaper machine, the wheels of which turn at the rate of 4000 times a minute, his hands became caught, and what flesh was not torn from the hand at the time was so thoroughly burned by friction that it sloughed off and wholly exposed all the muscles. Dr. Prescott has concluded that he can only restore the injured member by skin grafting.

SPEAK OVER OCEAN WITHOUT WIRES.

MARCONI SAID TO HAVE MASTERED WORST DIFFICULTY.

Inventor Confident That Messages Will Be Sent Across the Atlantic Before Christmas of the New Century. Will Supersede Cables.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, Nov. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "Sig. Marconi has mastered his mast difficulty," remarked one of his staff yesterday. He added: "According to reasonable calculations we shall have America and Great Britain upon speaking terms before the first Christmas of the new ceptury."

To make this statement, however, was a very different thing from making known Sig. Marconi's secret. In general terms, though, the basis of his triumph may be indicated to a small degree. Wires must be used, one at either end about two hundred feet long, called antennae, or feelers. This is obviously not a costly expedient, but the new fact that obviates need for masts as high as Snowdon is the discovery of a means of controlling air waves.

Sig. Marconi's infinite capacity for taking pains has enabled him to construct apparatus whereby he can lengthen the air waves to almost an unlimited extent. Furthermore by the same ingenious device sound will be made to travel close to the surface of the ocean over the whole distance, thus circumventing the dreaded difficulty presented by the curvature of the earth. Hence masts erected at Southampton and on Long Island need not, it is now contended, be higher than the roof of a New York sky-scraper.

"All this seems to be vast importance to the commercial world," remarked a press representative.

"What it undoubtedly means is that submarine cables will be superseded, and that at a hundred-thousandth part of cost," was the reply.

ESPEE SHARES ADVANCE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The expectation of some important developments pending in the affairs of the Southern Pacific Railroad made the shares of that company the feature of the day in the Stock Exchange. More than 135,000 shares changed hands, and the price was advanced to 43¾, a gain of two points.

Much confidence is placed by Wall-street operators in the report that closer alliance than has hitherto existed between the Southern Pacific and Union Pacific is about completed. There is also a great deal of talk about a Southern Pacific dividend in the near future.

CZAR STILL IMPROVING.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

LIVADIA (European Russia,) Nov. 27.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The improvement in the Czar's condition continues, judging from the bulletin issued today: "The Czar passed a good day yesterday. At 9 o'clock in the evening his temperature was 97.9, pulse 66. During the night His Majesty slept well. This morning the Emperor's condition and general strength were perfectly satisfactory, temperature 96.8, pulse 66."

THE CZAR'S PHYSICIANS.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 27.—The professional attendants on the Czar are Dr. Hirsch, Dr. Popoff, honorary court physician, and Dr. Tychonoff. The first two are well known. Dr. Tychonoff was a country practitioner in the district of Riajask, province of Rozan. Grand Duke Peter Nocolaivitch discovered him during a typhus epidemic and engaged him as his physician, intrusting to him the care of the inhabitants on the Grand Duke's Crimean estate near Halta. This is why he is called to attend the Czar.

LAW LESSONS: EMPLOYERS AND EMPLOYEES.

VII.—AN EMPLOYER'S DUTY TO MAKE INSPECTION.

BY ALBERT S. BOLLES, LL.D.

AS AN employer is required to furnish safe appliances, etc., this rule requires of him in many cases to inspect the things that are to be used by his employés before they are put in to service. What is the nature of this inspection? In one of the cases the rule was applied to a railroad company with respect to a chain used on its cars. The case arose in Michigan, and the Supreme Court of that State said: "It not only can, but its duty requires that it shall, before it is placed on a car, cause every link of every chain used by its employés in places or under circumstances involving danger in case the chain should break, to be carefully tested and inspected by some one competent to judge of its fitness for the utmost strain that is likely to come upon it."

THE NEW YORK RULE.

This rule, however, did not find favor with the courts of New York, and so the Court of Appeals adopted another to the effect that reliance may be had on the maker that an article is proper. If it is bought of a reputable maker, that is a sufficient guaranty of its quality to dispense with any other test. The importance of this rule, will justify adding some of the remarks of the court. The case related to an injury that happened to an employé from the breaking of a hook he was using in lifting a girder. There was nothing on the surface of the hook to show that it was weak; in truth, the break resulted from a hidden defect in the iron. When it was purchased the employer supposed he was buying a hook of the best quality. The court remarked that a master could procure tools for servants in several ways. He could buy them ready made of a dealer, have them made, or buy the materials and make them himself. His "liability for an injury resulting from a defect in the materials of a tool will be determined by the same rule in each case." In the present case the employer was obliged to rely on the dealer and the manufacturer for the quality of material used. A hook ready for use could neither be cut nor bent over an anvil without impairing its strength, or perhaps destroying it altogether. "A test of that character applied to one of the lot would be no guaranty of the quality of the others. To apply such a test, therefore, to tools procured in that way is impracticable, and such articles are not usually tested before they are put in use. The modern idustrial system rests upon confidence in others." The court then turns to railroads, and declares that they cannot well apply such tests to the engines, of which its cars and engines are made, or to the rails which form its tracks. Reasonable inspection only was required. "But when articles are manufactured by a process approved by use and experience, and apparently properly finished and stamped, it is not usual for them to be tested again in quality, and such examinations are not generally required by law. If materials of the best quality are purchased and tools constructed from them by competent and skillful workmen; if there is nothing in the appearance of the material to indicate inefficiency, men in the ordinary affairs of life use them and place them in the hands of their servants; and there were no circumstances surrounding the manufacture of the hook in question to induce a prudent man to depart from the usual course, or to adopt extraordinary care and caution."

The court goes on to remark that all the best iron and steel is made by a few concerns, and that in the trial of the case it was shown that all practicable tests were applied during the process of making things. "If the best refined iron is required, the purchaser may assume that the tests necessary to produce that article have been properly made and the work properly done."

THE MICHIGAN AND NEW YORK RULES COMPARED.

This view of an employer's duty greatly differs from that previously stated by the Supreme Court of Michigan. By that rule an employer must do his own testing whenever it can be done; by the New York rule he can rely on another. We are not so certain as the Court of Appeals that the hook in question could not have been tested in other ways than by cutting or bending it. It appears that the hook broke when used in lifting a girder, and its ordinary use suggests at once an easy mode of testing it—namely, to apply weight. How much ought the hook to support? Did the maker apply this test? There is no evidence to show that he did. The New York rule may be right with the qualification that in every case it must be shown that the maker or seller properly tested the thing sold.

THE FEDERAL RULE.

The view of an employer's duty declared by the Supreme Court of the United States differs somewhat from both views above given. "It is not necessarily the duty of a purchaser of machinery, whether simple or complicated, to tear it to pieces to see if there be some latent defect. If he purchases from a manufacturer of recognized standing he is justified in assuming that in the manufacture proper care was taken and that proper tests were made of the different parts of the machinery, and that, as delivered to him, it is in a fair and reasonable condition for use. We do not mean to say that it is never the duty of a purchaser to make tests or examinations of his own or that he can always and wholly rely upon the assumption that the manufacturer has fully and sufficiently tested. It may be, and doubtless often is, his duty when placing the machine in actual use to subject it to ordinary tests for determining its strength and efficiency."

THE ILLINOIS RULE.

Two other views may be given slightly differing from these. The Illinois view is this: When employers have, so far as the employment of reasonable skill and experience enables them, employed experienced, skillful and prudent servants in the use of their machinery, have selected good and safe machinery, so far as known and well-recognized tests can determine, constructed of proper material, free from defects, so far as like tests will disclose, neither reason nor justice requires that they should be held liable for injuries that may result."

THE PENNSYLVANIA RULE.

By the Pennsylvania rule "it may be considered as now settled that if a person employs others, not as servants, but as mechanics or contractors in an independent business, and they are of good character, if there was no want of due care in choosing them, he incurs no liability for injuries to others from their negligence or want of skill. If I employ a well-known and reputable machinist to construct a steam engine and it blows up from bad materials and unskillful work, I am not responsible for any injury which may result, whether to my own servant or to a third person."

THE RULES COMPARED.

These varying rules are now competing for adoption by the courts of other States. The Michigan rule requires employers to test their appliances carefully before giving them to their employés to use. The Illinois rule also requires tests to be made, such as are well recognized; the New York rule is that purchases from reputable dealers or builders will suffice and no tests are required of the employer, and the Pennsylvania rule accords with this view. The Federal rule is peculiar; it adopts both views; in other words, an employer can rely on the reputation of a purchaser in some cases; in others he must test the quantity and strength of the appliance or other thing to be used by the employé, but throws not the faintest glimmer of light on the cases on which tests must be made. The Federal rule leaves all in the dark, each case must be determined by itself—whether a test ought to have been made, or whether the employer was justified in trusting to the reputation of the seller.

In the case wherein the Federal court applied this rule a railroad employé was injured by the explosion of the boiler of an engine. Though the court does not say directly that the company ought to have inspected the engine before using it, it conveys the idea that it ought to have done so and that this was done.

INSPECTION OF FOREIGN CARS.

The courts have had no little difficulty in answering another question—namely, what inspection ought to be made by a railroad company of cars belonging to another line that are received for the purpose of moving them over its own road. Every one knows that this is a matter of daily occurrence among railroad companies. The first thing to be noted in answering this question is the difference between foreign cars that are imperfect because they are not in good condition and foreign cars that are imperfect because they are faulty in construction for use on another railroad than the one for which they were made. Thus cars may be perfectly adapted to their own road, yet be very imperfect for use on another because they have different coupling appliances, or are so much higher that they cannot be coupled with others only with great difficulty or by using an unusual coupler.

WHEN A FOREIGN CAR NEED NOT BE RECEIVED.

A foreign car not in good condition need not be received by another road; to this rule all the courts agree. If it is received, what then? In New York, Vermont and some other States the courts say that the receiving road is bound by the same rule that applies to it with respect to one of its own cars. Thus in the case of Gottlieb against a New York railroad, Justice Earl said that it was bound to inspect foreign cars just as it would its own. "It owes the duty of inspection as master, and is at least responsible for the consequences of such defects as would be disclosed by ordinary inspection. When cars come to it which have defects visible or discoverable by ordinary inspection, it must either remedy such defects or refuse to take such cars; so much, at least, is due from it to its employés. The employés can no more be said to assume the risk of such defects in foreign cars than in cars belonging to the company. As to such defects the duty of the company is the same as to all cars drawn over its road." This rule is clear in the States where it exists. All cars are regarded as alike, foreign or otherwise, with respect to defects that may be discovered by ordinary inspection. And if such are run, the company is responsible to its employés for the consequences.

THE RULE IN MASSACHUSETTS.

In Massachusetts and some other States a different rule has been laid down, that of inspection and nothing more. Thus, in the case of Mackin against the Boston and Albany Railroad, the court declared that while the obligation of drawing cars over its road would not extend to those that were unsafe, yet if they were received the railroad's duty did not consist in furnishing proper means for service; in other words, proper cars, but simply the duty of inspection. Moreover, this duty in that State is performed by employing enough and competent inspectors who are to act under proper superintendence and rules. These inspectors are regarded as engaged in a common employment with the brakeman of the cars inspected while in transit. By this rule, therefore, a foreign car that is defective need not be received, but if it is passed by the inspector and injury follows to some of the employés, a brakeman, for example, he has no redress because both are in the same common service.

Is not this conclusion a plain violation of another rule, that an employer must provide suitable appliances, etc., for his employés, and though he may delegate the duty of selecting them to another, yet the employer is responsible for his negligence in doing this and can in no way escape from it. Surely it is an overthrow, in part, of this primary rule.

FOREIGN CARS THAT ARE IMPERFECT IN CONSTRUCTION.

Turning now to the other rule, that holds the receiving company liable as though the cars were its own, it seems at first as though an employé had some chance of redress if he were injured by a defect in such a car; but his chance soon disappears by the application of another rule, already considered, that an employer is not liable for risks that are known by the employé and taken by continuing at his post, and especially when he gives no notice of his discovery. While, therefore, there is a wide difference in form between these rules, in effect the employer escapes in nearly every case from liability under either of them.

Let us pass to the receiving of foreign cars that are imperfect simply because they are constructed in a different manner from those of the receiving company. These must be received, the law is imperative, and the risk from attempting to couple them and otherwise manage them while in the possession of the receiving company is one of the risks assumed by the employés. Said the Supreme Court of the United States, when applying this principle in a case brought by an employé of the Wabash Railroad Company, who was injured in coupling a foreign car: "It is not pretended that these cars were out of repair, or in a defective condition, but simply that they were constructed differently from the Wabash cars in that they had double deadwoods or bumpers of unusual length to protect the drawbars. But all this was obvious to even a passing glance, and the risk, which there was, in coupling such cars was apparent. It required no special skill or knowledge to detect it. The intervener was no boy, placed by the employer in a position of undisclosed danger, but a mature man, doing the ordinary work which he had engaged to do, and whose risk in this respect was obvious to any one. Under these circumstances he assumed the risk of such an accident as this, and no negligence can be imputed to the employer."

[OUR DAILY STORY.]

HOW A STORY ENDED.

BY ANNIE SHANNON MONROE.

MISS MIRAMON still sat at her desk, thinking.

"A Thanksgiving story, and a jolly one," was the order. She smiled as she remembered the emphasis the editor put on those last two words. "You must write of the brighter side, he had said more than once. "People want to laugh; they have troubles enough."

"But I write of life as I see it," she had answered. "I can't be true to life and make my stories end right."

"Stuff! Nonsense! Miss Beal does it. She is the brightest writer I know of. If she lives——"

But she had not lived. The wan little consumptive had died too soon to fill the order for a "regular jolly Thanksgiving story," and the task had fallen to Miss Miramon. "How incongruous of her—to die at such a moment," she said.

"But she was ever incongruous—always could laugh when there was really nothing to laugh about. And now she is dead and I must write the story. I wonder if she is laughing now, from somewhere in the beyond—laughing at me trying to be funny."

Suddenly out of the past a picture leaped and blotted out the dismal musings of a young girl full of faith and love, and the picture brought with it an overwhelming odor of crushing sage brush.

Memory led her back to a certain black night on the great plains. The child was living with her two uncles who had settled on a lonely section of desert sage. She had a pony, and from morning till night she rode over the valley and the hills.

One day she had climbed up hills and through ravines till she stood on the top of the ridge and looked over the wide valley to the Columbia River, glittering and gleaming like a silver snake through the miles and miles of lowlands. On the other side was her own great desolate valley; and, oh, how she loved it all! To ride, with the pure mountain air blowing against her face—it was life, life, life!

But on this day, as she turned to go down again into the valley, she observed a horseman, clear-cut against the evening sky.

"One of the cowboys," she said. "If I keep on ahead of him he will think I am a man." For she was dressed in man's attire. So she rode as fast as the little cayuse could be made to push his way down the steep descent. The "cowboy" rode fast also until he was within speaking distance.

NOT AN ISSUE.

An attempt has been made to create the impression that Herman Silver "is not sound on the water question." No attempt could be more short sighted and foolish. Mr. Silver's record on this question is an open book. He has been in public life for several years, and his official acts with reference to this and other public questions are matter of record.

It is noteworthy that those of Mr. Silver's opponents who are attempting to make it appear that he is "unsound on the water question" confine their efforts to vague generalities. They mention no specific instances. They point to no act on the part of Mr. Silver which supports their contention. There is a very good reason for their failure to cite proof in support of their allegations. This very good reason is that they have no proof to cite.

Herman Silver is sound on the water question, as he is sound on all other questions which pertain to the welfare of this municipality and its people. Reference to his official record will support this claim. His official record is open to the public, and what is here stated may easily be verified. Like his private life, his public life is without a stain. Let those who have aught against him make known their objections in specific terms or keep silence. Glittering generalities are all very well in their way; but they don't cut much ice when an attempt is made to use them against the character and standing of a man so well known and universally respected as Herman Silver.

But the so-called "water question"—to recur to that subject—is not in any sense an issue in the present municipal campaign. The question of municipal ownership of the water system has long since been decided by the voters of Los Angeles. The decision was in favor of public ownership. It is only a question of time when this will be accomplished. The matter is now in the courts, and progress is necessarily retarded by "the law's delays." The city's interests have been and will be well protected by capable counsel. There is nothing to do but to wait until the legal tangles are straightened out, and then go ahead with the public-ownership proposition. That Mr. Silver will be faithful to the public interests in this matter, whenever he may be called upon to act, is proven by his long and honorable connection with public affairs in this city. His record shows that he has never yet betrayed a trust or acted against the best interests of the public, and he never will be guilty of anything so short sighted and dishonorable.

Those who are seeking to make an issue against Herman Silver on the water question are wasting their time and are making themselves unnecessary trouble. They are digging up a dead issue, and are trying in vain to galvanize it into life by falsehood and misrepresentation. They will discover in due time that their efforts in this direction will not only be futile, but that they will prove a boomerang, and will work more injury to themselves than to Mr. Silver.

SENATOR DAVIS DEAD.

This morning's dispatches bring the announcement of the death of Senator Cushman K. Davis of Minnesota at his home in St. Paul. The melancholy news was not unexpected. Mr. Davis had been seriously ill for several days past, and his recovery was not regarded as probable, though the more favorable reports, of late, had given rise to the hope that his life might be spared for further usefulness.

The death of Senator Davis will be a severe loss to the people of Minnesota, whom he had served long and faithfully in various public capacities. But the loss is not alone that of the people of Minnesota. Mr. Davis, as a man of liberal ideas and of broad statesmanship, belonged to the nation rather than to Minnesota or to any particular section. He was one of the nation's great men, and his death is mourned by the nation at large.

From the time when he first took his seat in the United States Senate, in 1887, Mr. Davis has occupied a position of importance and leadership in that body. His personality was forceful, and impressed itself upon his associates in the Senate to a marked degre. His masterful and active mind left its impress upon much of the important legislation of Congress during the past decade. As chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, he occupied a position of the first importance; a position which has steadily increased in importance since the outbreak of the Spanish-American war. To say that Senator Davis discharged the duties of that position with signal ability is to state a well-known and generally-admitted fact. In many respects he was tried; in no respect has he been found wanting.

Senator Davis has passed from the scenes of earth in the full fruition of an honorable and useful life. His countrymen, while they mourn his loss, will revere his memory. His place is secure among the list of our illustrious statesmen. After a long life of useful activity he has entered into the rest which shall not be broken. But his works will live after him, in the wise laws which he helped to frame and in the high principles of American manhood of which he was a striking exemplar.

One thing may be said for Adlai; he seems to know when he is whipped.

NAVAL NEEDS.

Secretary Long of the navy, in his annual report, points out some of the needs of our naval establishment, which should receive the attention of Congress at an early day. Most pressing among these needs, perhaps, is the need for more men and officers to man our fighting machines. "The need of officers for sea duty," says Secretary Long, "is still growing, and at times the department is seriously embarrassed by lack of necessary officers to properly man vessels required for immediate service. This need will be still greater when vessels authorized or building are completed, and ready for commission." It appears from the report of the Bureau of Navigation that it would be impossible at the present time to man our available fleet if an emergency were to arise demanding such action. Secretary Long earnestly requests that immediate attention be given to this matter. He estimates that, with the completion of the vessels now under construction, "an immediate increase will be needed in the enlisted force of not less than 5000 men." He adds:

"For many years it has been found difficult to enlist a sufficient number of the seamen class to supply the demand. To obviate this difficulty the department decided to train its own seamen from raw material, and during the past year has assigned five vessels to the special duty of fitting landsmen between the ages of 21 and 26 for the higher naval ratings.

"This method differs from that of the apprentice system in that it opens the door to the enlistment and immediate training of young men who possess little or no nautical knowledge or sea experience, and gives them an opportunity to acquire the habit of the sea and a knowledge of the practical mechanical appliances which are found on board the modern man-of-war. This has been carried on during the past year to a greater degree than ever before, and the experiment has been successful."

It is obvious without much reflection that great battleships and powerful armament will lose a large part of their efficiency if there are not men enough to serve them properly. Our navy is fast taking rank among the great navies of the world. Congress has been commendably liberal in the matter of appropriations for new vessels, and when those now under construction or authorised are completed we shall have a naval fleet commensurate in some degree with our greatness as a nation, and with the work which naturally falls to the naval department. But the enormous expense attendant upon this building up of our naval establishment will be practically wasted if, through a mistaken policy of economy, a sufficient number of men be not authorised for the naval service under all possible exigencies.

Without much doubt Congress will take up this whole question—in connection, presumably, with the question of the reorganisation of the army—and will make adequate provision for the needs of both the army and the navy. Such action will be in accord with common sense, wise statesmanship and true economy.

The appointment of Henry Hawgood of this city to be the engineer of the new Salt Lake Railroad is certainly a very graceful tribute to Los Angeles, as well as a very wise choice for this responsible position. Mr. Hawgood has the respect and confidence of every business man in this community, and his fight for the San Pedro Harbor, in conjunction with Mr. Gibbon and a few others, has its proper reward in this promotion. A business administration of the Salt Lake road is certainly in prospect.

Referring to our recent rainstorm, the editor of the Iowa State Register pokes his head out of his cyclone cellar long enough to remark: "The train service in Southern California is at a standstill because of the many washouts. When it isn't an earthquake or a drought, it's a washout. California people ought to move to Iowa." And wake up in the night to find ourselves going Californiaward on the wings of one of those back-action, duplex, stem-winding, never-setting, howling Iowa twisters? Not on your tintype!

A dispatch from Constantinople expresses the belief that the sending of the battleship Kentucky to Smyrna "has made a marked impression in official circles." No doubt of it. And if the battleship Kentucky ever lets loose her big guns, "a strong impression" will undoubtedly be made in other quarters than in official circles.

THE PLAYHOUSES.

COLLAMARINI AND RUSSO. The box office of the Los Angeles Theater is besieged with telephone messages in regard to the coming engagement in this city of Collamarini and Russo. Col. W. A. Thompson, their manager, states positively that they will sing in this city in "Carmen," "Il Trovatore," and "Mignon," and that on Friday next he will announce dates and repertoire. Collamarini is by many regarded as the best Carmen on the American stage, and Russo is a prime favorite in Los Angeles. They are supported, it is said, by an excellent chorus and orchestra, and are surrounded by adequate scenic effects.

Thanksgiving matinées will be given at all the theaters in the city tomorrow.

LEAVING IT TO CONGRESS.

Right of Wilcox to a Seat Disputed.

Attorney-General Will Not Take Action.

General Satisfaction Over the Re-election of McKinley. Customs Payments.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A. M.]

HONOLULU, Nov. 20.—[Associated Press Correspondence. Wired from San Francisco, Nov. 27.] The result of the counting of the election vote in Hawaii has by no means brought an end of politics, but has rather given opportunity for the outbreak of a more bitter fight than ever between the so-called missionary and anti-missionary wings, or Dole and anti-Dole factions of the Republican party. Each is busily accusing the other of having knifed the ticket and helped to cause Republican defeat and Independent success.

A. B. Loebenstein of Hilo has made two unsuccessful efforts to have local courts listen to arguments that the election of Wilcox as delegate to Washington was illegal. Loebenstein claims that there is no law under which the election of a delegate could be accomplished, Territorial election laws to cover the point not having been enacted yet. Atty.-Gen. Dole refused to take any steps, on the ground that Congress is the only judge of the qualifications of its members, and today First Circuit Judge Humphreys also refused to summon Wilcox to make answer to the issues raised.

There is general satisfaction throughout Hawaii at the reëlection of President McKinley. Robert W. Wilcox, the Independent, who goes to Washington as Delegate, is quoted as saying that the result of the election is, in his opinion, better for Hawaii than the contrary result would have been.

The French bark Boessuet, which left here at the end of October, after a stay in port because her master was ill, has returned again for the same reason. She stopped here at the beginning of October, on her way from France to Portland, Capt. Pordoinee, entering a local hospital. The actions of the vessel are a puzzle to many people, as she had got nearly half way to Portland when she turned back this time. She came round the Horn in ballast, and is under heavy loss for delays here now.

Official notification of the finding of some more cases of plague in San Francisco have been received by the United States quarantine officers here, both from Washington and from San Francisco. Precautions will be taken against steamers coming from San Francisco hereafter.

Secretary Gage of the Treasury Department has suggested to Gov. Dole a way that customs duties may be paid so that the coin used may not leave the country. He says that duties on imports may be paid in San Francisco and the receipts accepted here by the local collector of customs. Nearly or quite all of the importers of European goods which are dutiable have agents in San Francisco, and always have money from that side due. The adoption of Secretary Gage's plan will put an end to a serious steady drain of coin from Hawaii.

Washouts and floods continue to be reported from all the different islands as a result of the recent storm, which was general throughout the group. With the heavy rains came the strongest "Kona" or high south wind, known here for many years. The only lives lost as a result of the storm, so far as is known, were those of two Japanese fishermen, who were blown to sea in a small boat and have not been heard of since.

The stockholders of Kihoi sugar plantation passed a resolution accepting an offer of H. P. Baldwin and L. A. Thurston to turn into the treasury of the corporation the sum of $539,000 in paid-up stock and to reduce the stock of the company from $3,000,000 to $2,500,000. Baldwin states that there is no reason for his action, except the conclusion that the purchasers of stock paid too much for the land when the corporation was formed. Baldwin sold the plantation to the company.

LIL CELEBRATES SUCCESS.

ATTENDS MRS. WILCOX'S LUAU.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

HONOLULU, Nov. 20.—[Wired from San Francisco, November 27. Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. Robert Wilcox, wife of the Hawaiian Delegate-elect to Congress, has begun the celebration of the native party's success. This will include luaus, or feasts, at several places on this island. Wilcox and his wife, accompanied by ex-Queen Liliuokalani, went to Kahului by special train last week to first feast at Laie. Ex-Queen Lil was the guest of honor, and hundreds of natives gathered to welcome her.

Plans are being made for a great feast in Honolulu tomorrow night, which will be attended by 10,000 people. Subscriptions were solicited, and $500 was raised to help pay the expenses.

The official returns of the election are not all in, so Wilcox could not sail on the Zealandia, as he expected. He will probably go to Washington by way of Vancouver.

DRANK INSECT POISON.

END OF THREE PORTUGUESE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

HONOLULU, Nov. 20.—[Wired from San Francisco, November 27. Exclusive Dispatch.] An extraordinary succession of deaths by poisoning occurred here last week. Antone Silva, a native of Maderia, died November 13. Three of his friends, who performed for him the rites of burial, died within three days after, and a number of others who attended his funeral are so seriously sick that their lives were despaired of. Silva was about 62 years of age, and had lived here many years. He had a wife in Maderia, but little was known of his history or family. He had a small vineyard, from which he made wine that had a great local reputation. It was this reputation, probably, that caused indirectly the deaths that followed his funeral.

When his friends came to bury him they found a number of bottles of liquid about his house, which, knowing his reputation as a wine maker, they assumed was a part of the product of his vineyard. They drank copiously from these bottles, and within two days three of them were dead. The liquid did not seem to effect them seriously for twelve or fifteen hours after they drank it. Then they began to experience excruciating pains in the abdominal and intestinal regions. This was soon followed by syncope and total collapse.

These deaths led to an investigation, when it was found that the bottles did not contain wine at all, but a combination of poisonous hellebore with methylated spirits and sugar. It was a concoction which Silva used as an ant poison and insecticide in his vineyard. About half a dozen others were seriously sick from drinking the poisonous stuff, but have recovered.

As a result of these deaths, twenty-three children, all under 15 years of age, are fatherless.

WANT TOURISTS.

West Indies Are Figuring on the Travel of the Winter—Advantages of Porto Rico.

[New York Sun:] Porto Rican newspapers are keeping a very close watch on the progress of yellow fever in Cuba. While the sympathy of the Porto Ricans is with the victims of the disease, they realize that its existence in Cuba's capital may be turned to their own profit during the coming winter. They expect that some of the thousands of people who visited Cuba last year in January, February and March because there was no yellow fever in Havana may this winter be diverted to other islands in the West Indies, through fear of infection. The San Juan News, an American newspaper published in Porto Rico's capital, suggests that special inducements should be made to attract tourists to Porto Rico. It favors the holding of a winter carnival of some sort in San Juan or an exhibition of Porto Rican products that would call the attention of travelers to the new American island.

The British island of Jamaica will probably make an effort to divert part of this travel to itself and so will the Bermudas. While Porto Rico is a little farther away there is no reason why it should not get the bulk of the business if an organized effort is made to secure it. Now that it is a part of the United States it is natural that a great many people should want to see it, and no one who goes there will be disappointed. It is probably the prettiest island in the West Indies. There are few railroads and these are along the coast, so that travel is mostly in carriages or on horseback. There are some magnificent roads across the island, and the drive from San Juan to Ponce on the south coast is well worth the trip from New York to Porto Rico. It can be made in a day, although it is ninety miles long. There are no livery stables which make a business of driving tourists from the north to the south coast, and relays of horses are kept at the necessary points, so that one may take an early breakfast in San Juan, a lunch on the way and a dinner in Ponce. The road leads up through the mountain to Albonito, and then down again to the Caribbean Sea. The scenery is beautiful beyond description.

One advantage of Porto Rico is the non-existence of yellow fever there. Strangely enough, although this island has had the same kind of sanitary administration as Cuba, there has been very little of the disease in Porto Rico. According to a report recently made by Dr. C. H. Lavinder, chief quarantine officer for Porto Rico and an attaché of the United States Marine Hospital service, the last serious epidemic of yellow fever in Porto Rico occurred in 1858 when 300 deaths were reported. These occurred mostly among the Spanish troops. In 1894 there were 76 deaths; 1897, 30; 1898, 30; 1899, none.

"These figures are surprising," writes Dr. Lavinder in his report. "Thirty deaths are attributed to yellow fever in the year 1898. The invasion of the island by the American troops occurred in July of that year and it seems to be a fact, that since that event there has not been, with a doubtful exception, a single case of this disease in Porto Rico. Seven of these thirty deaths are reported in San Juan, which was occupied by non-immune American troops in October. Under these circumstances, it is not very easy to reconcile these statements."

Dr. Lavinder, realising that an invasion of Porto Rico by a yellow fever epidemic would not be a pleasant proposition to consider, is doing all that he can to keep the disease from being introduced from foreign infected ports.

PROMINENT PEOPLE.

Mark Twain is the most distinguished name Missouri has given to the world, even greater than Thomas Benton. As yet the State scarcely realizes this fact.

Hon. Theodore Roosevelt will cease to be Governor of New York on December 31, and from that date until March 4 he will play the unaccustomed role of private citizen.

Gen. Thomas H. Taylor and Gen. W. F. Perry, two of the six surviving ex-Confederate brigadiers in Kentucky, are very ill. Perry commanded a brigade in Longstreet's corps.

The London papers say that soon after Gen. Baden-Powell was rescued from Mafeking he received at least a dozen offers of marriage from wealthy maiden women or widows in England. Two were telegraphed.

Thomas H. Birch of Burlington, N. J., is probably the youngest man who has ever been selected as Presidential elector. Mr. Birch, who has just passed his twenty-sixth birthday, is on the Democratic ticket. His father is a millionaire carriage builder of Burlington.

Secretary of the Navy Long was in Denver on election day, and had an opportunity to observe women voting. There was nothing to jar on the most sensitive spectator, he says. On the contrary, the tendency was to elevate and broaden, rather than to degrade or impair.

On March 4 next, two officers well known to the navy, will retire from the active list. These are Rear-Admiral Philip Hichborn, U.S.N., Chief of the Bureau of Construction and Repair, and Pay Inspector Henry G. Colby, U.S.N., both of whom will reach the age of 62 years on the same date.

Queen Victoria intends to spend the greater part of next March and April on the continent. She will reside for between five and six weeks at Bordighera, on the Italian Rivera, and will then go to Coburg. After leaving Coburg she will stay for a few days at Darmstadt before returning to England.

Few people are so kind to the autograph fiends as is President McKinley. It is said that in odd moments, when he happens to have a pen in his hand, he sits down and writes his signature on blank cards to the number of fifty at a time. When applications are received for the President's autograph, these cards are forwarded to the petitioners.

King Christian of Denmark has been advised to go abroad for three weeks, as it is thought that his health will be benefited by a short change. He will go to Ballenstedt, in the Harz Mountains, where he is to spend a few days with his sister, the Princess of Anhalt-Bernburg, before proceeding to Gmunden on a visit to the Duke and the Duchess of Cumberland at their estate on the Traun see.

RIPPLES OF MIRTH.

Not a Friend.

"Well, he isn't such an old friend, but he's darned familiar."

[Indianapolis Journal:] "What is reserve, pa?"

"Reserve? Well, reserve is holding in and not telling all you know for fear you will keep other people from telling all they know."

Going Up.

[Washington Star:] "Do you think that statesmanship is on the decline?"

"No," answered Senator Sorghum, as he riffled the leaves of his check book. "I am strongly of the opinion that some of it is on the accept."

Did He Smoke Then?

[Boston Transcript:] (Butts:) I never saw such a man as Fumer is to smoke. He is smoking all the time.

(Cutts:) Don't exaggerate.

Bones' Little Joke.

[Philadelphia Times:] (Tambo:) They say "time is money."

(Bones:) Yes, and did you hear the latest? They've arrested the secretary of one of the big corporations.

(Tambo:) What for?

A Great Scheme.

[From Life:] "I've got a great scheme to make money in Wall street. All you've got to do is to buy when stocks are going up and sell when they are going down."

"But how are you going to tell whether they are going up or down?"

"Wait and see."

Smart Tommy.

(Tommy, before his elder sister could reply:) Must have been about 10:30 o'clock, I guess. I heard Caroline's flame go out about that time.

She Never Tumbled.

[Philadelphia North American:] "Sarah," said the lady of the house, breaking the news gently to the new servant girl, "we shall have to get along without your services after the first of the month."

"Yes, mum," replied Sarah; I'm sorry the master's affairs are in such bad shape, mum."

Hadn't Figured on It.

[Brooklyn Life:] (Mrs. Cannaford:) Yes, it is a really high-class school. Teddy is learning Latin and Greek, Babylonian art and prehistoric gradations.

(Mrs. Pick:) But do you think they will be useful?

"Useful! Thank heaven, we haven't come down to that yet."

Borrowing the Neighbors.

[Chicago Post:] "A telephone is almost a necessity of modern life," said the agent of the company.

"That is quite true," admitted the woman who had come to the door in response to his ring.

"Then why will you not let me put one in?"

"Because," she replied, "so long as the people in the next flat have one it would be a useless expense for us."

An important discovery of oil is reported in Berryesa cañon, in Napa county. He held the flour sack open until it filled with air, and then, closing the opening with his hand, used the improvised life preserver to assist him to shore.

To the end of the day,
Whistle and sing till the sun goes down.

Hang with a dogged hold;
Fate never cares for the tears that you shed,
Hard is her heart and cold.

Wriggle and grin—
But don't you give in!
Whistle and sing till the sun goes down.

Some day or other your ship will come o'er,

Brace up your nerves for another swing;
Tell all the world you are still in the ring;
Wriggle and grin—
But never give in!

GOING FOR CANADA'S CAPITAL.

OTTAWA (Ont.,) Nov. 27.—It is stated that there is a possibility of the New York Central acquiring the Ottawa and New York Railway, and in that way gaining an entrance to the Dominion capital. When questioned with reference to the matter today, General Manager Hayes said that an informal proposition for the sale of the line to the New York Central has been talked of, but as yet it has not assumed any definite shape, nor would it until the road was finally completed.

BREAKER OF THE RECORD.

Monte Cristo's New Well Does the Trick.

The Biggest Producer of Kern River.

Bears and Bulls Clash On 'Change—Doings in the Local Field.

The Monte Cristo Oil Company's well No. 5 on section 5, 29, 28, is a record-breaker, it being from all reports the largest producer in the Kern River field. Measured gross, the output of the new well, which was put on the pump for the first time this week, foots up a little 3000 barrels for twenty-four hours. Of this yield 50 per cent. is said to be oil, the balance froth and sand. Notwithstanding the extraordinary yield, the casing, it is said, is only a little more than half perforated, there being but 275 feet of it punched, while the total amount of petroleum-bearing sand penetrated is slightly in excess of 1000 feet.

All things considered, it is the most remarkable well in the richest of California's oil fields.

HOME DEVELOPMENT.

NEW LARGE TANK.

Drilling has been resumed by the Green Mountain Oil Company on its property near Rockwood street. The hole is now over 200 feet deep, and the drill is reported to be in excellent formation.

The storage tank erected by Chief of Police Elton on Lake Shore avenue is about completed. It will be one of the largest oil tanks in the neighborhood.

A first-class derrick has been erected by the Liberty Oil Company on property leased near Temple street and Western avenue. The drill will be sent in today.

Indications are that the well deepened by C. V. Hall, just off Rockwood street, will be a success. The drill has resumed work and it is expected that the second oil sand will be found in the next twenty-five feet.

The two wells on Alpine street recently purchased by the Morse Oil Company from R. T. Harris are being deepened.

The second well of the United Petroleum Company started last week is now well under way, and gives promise of much richness.

NORTH AND SOUTH.

The Rodeo Oil Company is trying to pump its well out and hopes to be able to put the drill to work again. The company unearthed a body of oil but is not satisfied with the showing, as the operators are of the opinion that a much larger body of oil sand is to be found lower down.

The Congress Company has some oil in the hole, but very little.

The Pico Oil Company has nothing to report.

Two miles north of this field a derrick is being erected on the property of the Farmers' Oil Company, the northeast corner of Sixth street and Western avenue. This company is doing a little pioneering although but a short distance from the Pellissier tract.

ON 'CHANGE.

BULLS AND BEARS CLASH.

For the first time since the recent run on Westlake the bulls of the local oil exchange yesterday made a stand and by absorbing all that was offered succeeded in turning the tide that seemed bent on carrying Westlake to the rocks.

When the market closed Monday, Westlake was quoted at 20 cents, and with but little preliminary play yesterday it opened at a decline of 1 cent. Then an advance of half a cent was recorded, followed by a decline of a quarter of a cent. At this stage of the proceedings, the bulls made a master play for the situation and forced the stock back to 19½ cents, where a total of 3000 shares were sold.

Southern Consolidated proved an easy victim for the bears, as did Uncle Sam, both finding a lower market without a struggle.

The former opened at 15¼ cents, but was shoved down to 14¾ cents.

EXCHANGE BUSINESS.

The Los Angeles Oil Exchange has issued a call for a meeting of the members to be held Friday next for the purpose of nominating members for a new governing board.

At this meeting an effort will be made to pass the following as an addition to the present by-laws of the exchange:

"No exchange member shall deal with any other broker in Los Angeles who is a not a member of this exchange in any listed oil stock, except to represent him on the floor; and all business of the members in listed stocks shall be conducted on the floor of the exchange during exchange hours."

A large per cent. of the members favor the passage of such a by-law, as it in their opinion will put a stop to "curb dealing, which injures business on the exchange.

An effort may also be made to add mining stocks to the list of properties handled.

HERE AND THERE.

AROUND WHITTIER'S FIELD.

All plants in the Whittier field are now in full operation, and the majority of the operators are putting in their best licks.

On the Home property the drill is working overtime in well No. 10, which is now giving good indications. The derrick recently erected for well No. 11 is being rigged up.

Col. Hanson of Pasadena, manager of the Raymond and New England Oil Companies, reports that work is moving slowly on account of poor roads.

Since resuming work the Whittier Oil and Development Company has made 100 feet in its well, which is now in 300 feet. The well has been cased to that depth.

Drilling is still in progress in the new well of the Standard Crude Oil Company in La Habra, in spite of the water in the hole.

The Murphy Oil Company has commenced drilling well No. 7 on the top of the hill, and has a rig completed for well No. 8.

The Puente Crude will soon be at work. This company has ordered a 74-foot derrick to be erected on its property before December 10.

The drill in the Uncle John Oil Company's well at Saticoy has been sent in 250 feet.

FROM OTHER FIELDS.

The Lone Star Oil Company, on section 32, 12, 24, is down 600 feet in well No. 2, and has a slight showing of oil.

Drilling is once more in full swing in the well of the Arizona Western Oil Company on section 8, 29, 28. It is reported that two sands have already been struck.

The Blinn Oil Company has found some oil in its well on section 4, 29, 28. The Wilson Company, operating on the same section, has had similar luck.

Arrangements are under way by the Rio Bravo Oil Company to begin drilling on section 10.

Thirty acres in the southwest quarter of the southeast quarter of section 30, 28, 25, have been leased to the Nevada County Oil Company by the Amazon.

KERN OIL.

IMPORTANT SUIT DECIDED.

BAKERSFIELD, Nov. 26.—[Regular Correspondence.] Winfield S. Davis, representing J. D. Spreckels, has paid a substantial bonus for the purpose of securing the right to drill a hole to a depth of 1200 feet on the southeast quarter of 7, 29, 28, recently purchased from the Wilson heirs for $300 per acre, by M. V. Samuels and J. H. De La Monte. The location is now outside territory, but the apparent drift of the Kern River field toward the southwest makes the enterprise seem reasonably certain of success.

Judge Mahon of the Superior Court has decided that the monuments set to define the boundaries of a mineral claim include all the land that can be held under the location notice, even though the notice call for a larger amount. The case in which this decision was handed down was the Kern Oil Company vs. Crawford. When the plaintiff located the land it built its monuments, as was supposed at each of the four corners of the southwest quarter of 32, 28, 28, but through an error in the survey, some four acres on the east line were left out, and these Crawford filed upon. The court holds that he is entitled to them. The strip is half a mile long, 73 feet wide at the north end and 24 at the south, and owing to its narowness will give room for a very large number of wells, drawing from each side. An offer of $25,000 has been made for the strip, providing the Supreme Court sustains the lower court's ruling.

A sale has been made of the north half of the southwest quarter of 5, 29, 28, by the San Joaquin Company for $37,000, a figure that looks low in comparison with the prices ruling in the river district. The company, however, gave an option on the land six months ago, and the sale is but the fulfilling of that contract, at the stipulated price.

Not discouraged by its previous failure, the Golden Gate has returned to 2, 11, 24, to sink another hole. The strikes of the Occidental and the Superior, together with the showing made by the company itself in the abandoned well, make the territory almost absolutely certain.

Two strings of tools will soon be running in the Sandcut section, near Tehachepi.

The recent strike of the Pittsburgh Oil Company extends the known district north of Sunset for half a mile, and adds at least 320 acres to the territory.

ROBINS AND MEN.

How do the robins know
When it's time to go?
How can they tell when the day is at hand
To leave their nests and fly
Away to the southern, sunny land,
Where the blue is in the sky?
How do they know
Ere the north winds blow,
Bringing the chill and the ice and snow—
Why do they never foolishly wait,
Flirting with Chance and tempting Fate?

Ah, the robins are wiser far
They take no chances, nor fool around,
Thinking, because to-day is fair,
That to-morrow good cheer will still abound,
With never a woe nor care—
Thinking, because things come their way
In clusters to-day,
Good Luck has settled with them to stay!—
The robins proceed to get out of the wet

THE PUBLIC SERVICE—OFFICIAL DOINGS.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

Mary Cooper is in Judge Allen's court suing the Terminal Railway Company for $10,000 damages for personal injuries.

The Associated Charities have been invited to participate in a convention of charity workers in Oakland in January.

Harry Jones was examined before Justice Morgan yesterday on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon. He was charged with cutting a man named Washington. The court took the case under advisement.

FINE POINT ABOUT AUTOMOBILES.

DO THEY WALK, RUN OR GALLOP OVER THE STREETS?

New Ordinance Regulating the Speed of Vehicles Across Street Crossings Before Police Commission—No Heed to Sunday Violations.

Can an automobile walk? If not, how fast may it travel across street crossings?

These and similar deep questions regarding the speed of vehicles at street intersections were pondered by the Police Commissioners at the regular session yesterday, amending ordinance No. 202 was up for discussion. It was prepared by the City Attorney at the instance of Chief Elton and was primarily intended to prevent vehicles from crossing the intersections of business streets at a high rate of speed. It provided that no one should ride or drive a horse or other animal or any vehicle across certain intersections faster than a walk.

The interesting question arises what would be a walk for an automobile. Through long generations, mankind has gauged the paces of the horse but an automobile is a different sort of "crittur." As the natty carriages go whizzing along the street with a characteristic clang it is a matter of doubt if the average policeman can tell whether the thing is walking, cantering or galloping. Mechanical invention has greatly changed the modes of locomotion and it has just as surely necessitated changes in the wording of city ordinances.

The ordinance, as originally drafted, limited the speed of vehicles on Spring street intersections between and including Temple and Fourth street and on Broadway between and including Second and Fourth street. On account of some changes which the commission thought should be made in the wording of the ordinance and in the description of the interdicted section at the north junction of Main and Spring streets, the ordinance was referred back to the City Attorney with a tentative recommendation to the Council for its passage.

The L. W. Blinn Lumber Company presented a bill against Officer Redfern for money advanced to a son, Curtis by name for the payment of an oculist's bills. The amount was $9.50. The matter was referred to the Chief.

Chew Yuen & Co. made application for a druggist's liquor license at No. 308 Marchessault street. Mr. Chew was present to learn the fate of the application. He was much mystified when told the board would need a week for deliberation. A great flood of light was let in on the Celestial mind when the clerk in desperation pointed to Chief Elton and said: "Heap big Chief, one week investigate."

"Ah!" said Mr. Chew, "Me lunderstand, him vestligate."

The uniform with the big brass buttons had worked a charm.

McLain & Gleason were granted a transfer of the druggists' liquor license at Temple and Spring streets from the Thomas Drug Company.

After some deliberation H. J. Hurley was made a special policeman to serve without pay from the city. Hurley brought good recommendations with him, but the Mayor thought the territory he expected to cover more than could be attended to by one man. The new special will operate on Main, Spring, Broadway, Santee, San Pedro, Fourth and other streets as a special watchman for the property owners.

Not a word was said about the wholesale violations of the liquor ordinance that take place in the city every day. Hist! The political hen is on.

MUCH MONEY.

HEAVY TAX COLLECTION.

Whether due to the confidence inspired by the reflection of President McKinley, or to the general prosperity of the section, it is certain that the collection of city taxes this year has been most successful. More money has been paid in and it has been tendered in a more cheerful spirit than usual.

While the footings are not yet complete, it appears that the collection of the first installment of taxes will amount to over half a million dollars. This is regarded as an exceptional showing.

The amounts collected by the Tax Collector are as follows: Old city property, $450,401.49; annex of '98, $30,-049.69; annex of '99, $4008.69; total, $484,-459.87. The amounts to collect are as follows: Old city property, $310,338.47; annex of '98, $19,049.69; annex of '99, $3502.40; total, $332,940.56.

It will be seen from the figures that out of $817,400.43 charged against the Tax Collector nearly $500,000 has already been footed. The mail collections that have not yet been entered, it is believed, will amount to $50,000, bringing the total well over the half-million mark set by the Tax Collector.

All through the rush Mr. White has stuck to his post despite the fact that a city campaign in which he is vitally interested was in progress. Now that the rush is over, he will devote a few days to inspecting his political fences.

Many peculiar things happen during the collection of taxes. Many of the checks that are sent through the mail do not bear a revenue stamp, and some send pennies and postage stamps.

OCTOROON PASSES FOR ITALIAN COUNT.

John Harrison, Thought to Be "Jack the Choker," on Trial for Grand Larceny—Says Taking of a Diamond Ring Was a Josh.

John Harrison, an octoroon, was on trial before a jury in the criminal court yesterday, charged with stealing a $200 diamond ring from a sporting woman named Florence Allen, against the peace and dignity of the people of the State of California.

Harrison's defense will be that it was "just a josh."

But the officers can't look at it in that light. They say that the prisoner tried to sell the ring—although he had it in his possession only an hour or two. But officers of the law haven't any keen sense of humor.

The Allen woman lives with four other females of the abandoned ilk at No. 225 Marchessault street. On October 27—about 3 o'clock in the afternoon—Harrison glided into their parlors and began to flash a wad of money which he said he had earned in the Klondike. He also pretended to be an Italian count. He boasted about his conquests in the bawdy houses of San Francisco, but he was pleased with the little city of Los Angeles.

The women entertained him.

When he left about 7 o'clock that night he had the ring, which Florence couldn't make him give back to her. She had emptied her jewelry from her purse into her lap and was putting on her diamond earrings, when Harrison, who was seated comfortably by her side on the bed, picked up the ring and just kept it.

At the house he tried to do a little sleight-of-hand and find the ring under a quilt at the foot of the bed, but Benedict foiled him.

Harrison is supposed to be Harry Wilson of San Francisco, who made a reputation for himself there about a year and a half ago as "Jack, the Choker." His game was to strangle women of the half-world and make off with their valuables.

He dreaded his present trial, it is said, because the newspaper reporters would hash him up so mercilessly. He hates notoriety so! He is defended by Clifton Axtell, Esq., and prosecuted by Deputy District Attorney Willis.

GIRL'S DAMAGE SUIT.

NORMAL STUDENT'S INJURIES.

A jury was impaneled in Judge Allen's department of the Superior Court yesterday to try the $10,000 damage suit begun by Mary Cooper against the Los Angeles Terminal Railroad Company for personal injuries.

Miss Cooper is a young lady, 21 years of age, who was formerly a student of the State Normal School in this city, with her residence near South Pasadena.

On June 19 of last year she was driving in a surrey from Pasadena to her home, and as she was crossing the Terminal track at Fair Oaks Station was run into by a locomotive engine and train running at a good rate of speed.

The surrey, after the accident, looked like kindling wood; the horse was without a soul, and the throwing of Miss Cooper was a matter of a long distance. Contusion of the brain and an affected spine, besides legion of scratches and bruises were what the collision did for her.

She alleges that no bell was rung, nor whistle blown nor other signal given to warn her of the train's approach; and, therefore, she charges the accident to the negligence of the company's employés. She believes that she is disabled for life. At the conclusion of her Normal course she was planning to attend an eastern college; now she can't.

Wherefore she prays that the jury return her a verdict of $10,000.

COURTHOUSE NOTES.

CUTTING CASE. An information was filed in the criminal court yesterday against Francisco Aralsa, charging him with assault with a deadly weapon on the person of Milo Bowen at Pomona on October 27. Defendant will be arraigned this morning.

PENETRATING SOOT. The Los Angeles Gas and Electric Company has a large smokestack on the foundry in Los Angeles street, which is alleged to be a damaging nuisance to the lodging-house at No. 144 South Main street, on account of constant clouds of penetrating soot. The proprietresses of the house, Jennie Jones and Edith M. Baxter, were in Judge Fitzgerald's court yesterday suing for a judgment of $1500 as damages for a ruined business and spoiled furniture and furnishings.

DELEGATES WANTED. The Associated Charities of Oakland are arranging for a convention of charity workers to be held in that city from January 3 to 6. A meeting of the charity workers of the city will be called in a week or so to take steps toward accepting the Oakland invitation.

[POLICE AND JUSTICE COURTS.]

MYSTERY OF SLASH IN THE FACE.

EXAMINATION OF HARRY JONES WHO CELEBRATED FREELY.

Frank Guerro Told a Double-barreled Tale of Woe—The Trials of a Peacemaker—Peroni Convicted by a Jury. Two Little Tramps.

Did Tom Washington ram his face into the drawn knife of Harry Jones, or did Harry render unduly enthusiastic assistance in bringing the knife and Mr. Washington's face together? Justice Morgan took testimony on this point yesterday, but is still pondering.

From the facts brought out yesterday at the preliminary examination of Jones on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon, it appears that Mr. Jones and Mr. Washington were both at the Manhattan Club on the night of the 17th, when the little mix-up occurred.

When the festivities were over, Washington discovered that he had lost his money.

"You fellows are my friends, but somebody must have stolen that money," said Mr. Washington. Then a due sense of his injuries all of a sudden came over him. "And some — in this room must have it now," he said.

Somebody suggested that every one in the room be searched. Two or three were searched, and then Jones and Washington were seen to have a dispute. Washington slapped Jones in the face, and suddenly went to the floor with the blood spouting out from his face.

One of the most important witnesses swore yesterday that Washington ducked into the knife, and that Jones did not stab him.

Didn't Want Peace.

Some newspaper reporter whose identity has been lost through the excessive modesty common to the class, played the sweet role of peacemaker yesterday, and for a while was a hunted being. One of the men whose dissensions he assuaged desired to do him violence, but unfortunately fell into the hands of the police while tracking his prey.

The man's name was W. L. Roe. He is a caterer's employé. Night before last Roe went on a spree, one of the most delightful features of which was a free fight on the street. It was this that the reporter interrupted. A policeman was called in, and steered Roe off in the direction of home. Soon he was back again, however, looking for trouble and the newspaper reporter who stopped the fight. He wanted to lick him too.

He didn't find the reporter, but he found plenty of trouble, also the policeman again.

"It's hard to tell what a man will do when he is intoxicated; you know that," he said confidentially to Justice Morgan, before whom he was brought yesterday.

Changed His Plea.

Frank Guerro, a blue-eyed Mexican, who pleaded not guilty to indecent exposure in Justice Morgan's court the other day, changed his mind yesterday and confessed his guilt. The offense was committed in the yard of the Griffen-avenue school.

Guerro was properly in fear of the law. He determined not to lose any chances in gaining the sympathy of the court, and played all the cards in his hand. He told the judge how poor he is, with four children and a wife ill with fever, and only $3 in the house and the family clock in pawn.

The case went over until today to get witnesses.

"Blind Pig" Herder.

H. Peroni was tried before a jury in Justice Austin's court yesterday on a charge of selling liquor without a license out on Central avenue at the end of the car line. He was convicted and will be sentenced today.

Two Little Tramps.

Two miserably unhappy little boys, who thought it would be great fun to run away and be tramps, were trundled into the Police Station yesterday and booked on suspicion. One was Edward Hatch, aged 16, and the other William Hagarty, aged 15. Both are from San Francisco. They have been on the road for two weeks.

When searched at the station, they were found to be equipped with just the sort of an outfit a weary old tramp would carry.

Hagarty is a little bit of a fellow as freckled as a turkey egg. He was comparatively cheerful, but Hatch, one year older, was very desolate. He tried to be game and indifferent, but when the jail doors closed behind him, the tears began to stream down his cheeks. Humane Officer Craig will communicate with their parents.

Suspiciously Cheap.

At the Police Station there is a little volume of child poems awaiting identification. It is supposed to have been stolen by Andrew Broadstone, who was arrested on suspicion Monday night. The book is nicely bound in leather, but Broadstone tried to sell it for 15 cents at a second-hand store. He claimed first that it was given him by a niece, but now remembers that he found it on a bench in Central Park.

Broke for Liberty.

With a troop of small boys trailing after and in the fierce grip of an officer and a citizen pressed into service a forlorn hobo came sweeping into the Police Station in triumph yesterday as though he were a triple murderer at the least count. He gave the name of Bert Morris and was booked for begging on the streets.

Morris was the most prominent man in the public eye for a little while yesterday afternoon. On the corner of First and Main streets, he asked alms of a passer, who happened to be Special Officer Kittle. Kittle put him under arrest, but Morris was of no mind to go to prison, and made a break for liberty. He made a dash down the alley from First to Second street, and had the hue and cry following him. He was overhauled at Second.

Accused Newsboy.

Eugene Patterson, a newsboy only 12 years old, is in jail on the serious charge of grand larceny. He was arrested yesterday at the dog show by Officer Marden on warrant. Patterson is alleged to have stolen a small sum of money from another newsboy named Smith. A third newsboy is also involved in the theft, but he has not yet been arrested.

Money Found.

BANKRUPTCY LAW.

Wholesalers' Board of Trade Will Ask California Representatives and Senators to Aid Its Amendment.

The Wholesalers' Board of Trade of this city is working to secure an amendment to the present bankruptcy law, and to that end will send to each California Congressman and Senator, a set of resolutions which were passed at a meeting of the board of directors of the organization, called for the purpose of considering the existing defects in the present law. A copy of the resolutions will also be sent to George W. Ray, Chairman of the House Judiciary Committee.

It has been held by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, that all payments made by a bankrupt while insolvent within four months prior to the adjudication in bankruptcy, are preferences and are required to be surrendered to the bankrupt court before a claim can be proven against said bankrupt.

This, it is claimed, works a hardship to the merchants who in the ordinary course of business, receive payments from bankrupts without knowledge of their insolvent condition.

There is now pending in Congress an amendment to the bankruptcy act, providing that only those who receive such preferences who have cause to believe that said bankrupt is insolvent, shall be compelled to surrender them. It is this amendment which the Wholesalers' Board of Trade will ask California Representatives and Senators to support. They are also asked, in the resolution, to support the Ray Bankruptcy Bill, and an amendment to the bankruptcy act giving the district courts of the United States concurrent jurisdiction with the State courts in suits brought by trustees or receivers to recover property transferred by the bankrupt in violation of the bankrupt act.

(Jess:) What has he been doing to you?

(Tess:) He gave me his seat in the car today, and then, leaning over, said: "I beg your pardon. I must be getting hard of hearing; but you're very welcome."

EVENTS IN SOCIETY.

Mrs. W. E. Tyler entertained a number of young friends yesterday afternoon at her home on Grattan street, complimentary to Miss Eva Keating and Miss Lubel Felt. The rooms were artistically decorated with carnations, ferns and smilax. Mrs. Tyler was assisted by her aunt, Mrs. C. C. Gibbons, and her mother-in-law, Mrs. M. S. Tyler. The guests were entertained with seven-hand euchre. Miss Elisa Bonsall captured the prize, a handsome Gibson sofa pillow. Refreshments were served at the close of the game. Among those present were Mmes. Carroll Allen, George Y. Ridenbaugh, Glen Spence; Misses Bessie Bonsall, Eliza Bonsall, Louise McFarland, Florence Silent, Gertrude Mason, Wright, Bogart, Adelle Hambrook, Marie Hambrook, Georgie Knight, Georgia Pipeno, Grace Gregory, Bertha Pollard, Edna Bumiller, Stella Bumiller.

The Midwinter Cotilion Club members gave their first dance of the season yesterday evening in Turnverein Hall on South Main street, instead of Kramer's Hall on South Grand avenue, as was first planned. The affair was one of the most brilliant balls of the year, and was largely attended by young society people. John G. Mott is president of the club; Sam Haskins, secretary, and the Executive Committee includes Messrs. E. T. Stimson, Waller G. Chansior, William Stephens and Arthur F. Morlan. The club includes in its membership the most prominent and popular young society men of the city, as follows: Messrs. R. D. Branson, Harold Butler, L. C. Brand, A. G. Baldwin, W. G. Chansior, J. A. Mrs. R. C. O'Bryan entertained a company of friends Monday evening at her home on West Pico street. The party was a pleasant surprise to Mrs. O'Bryan's sister, Miss Worthing. Mrs. O. A. Worthing assisted her daughters in entertaining. The house was handsomely decorated with roses, ferns, smilax and palms. The guests were entertained with progressive hearts, followed by refreshments. Those present were Misses Marion Walker, Lloyd Morgan, Alma Bradley, Edith Megary, Ella O'Bryan; Messrs. Don Cameron, Harold Smith, William Viera, Floyd Lewis, Bert Haneman, Frank Morton.

A pleasant surprise was given Mrs. Cordelia H. Spense at her home, No. 1029 Buena Vista street Monday evening by the members of Columbia Circle, No. 24, ladies of the G.A.R., of which organization she is president. The occasion was her birthday. There were about forty persons present, including the Juvenile Band, which is composed of twelve boys and girls.

NOTES AND PERSONALS.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Cook, née Day, have arrived from Washington, and are temporarily located at the Abbotsford Inn.

Miss Hazel Siegel will entertain at cards Friday afternoon at her home on Westlake avenue, in honor of the Misses Evans of Oakland.

Mrs. J. C. Michener will leave this evening for San Francisco, where she will remain a month visiting her son, Park Michener, and Mrs. Tuttle and daughters, formerly of Los Angeles, who are spending the winter in the northern city.

FAILED TO PUT UP.

New Brewing Company Loses the Option on Mr. McGarry's Alameda-street Property, and Deal is Off.

Last summer a new brewing company was formed here with the prospective name of the Southern California Brewing Company. The promoter of the enterprise was Ang. C. Neuhausen. A tract of about eight acres of land on the corner of Alameda and Light streets, belonging to D. M. McGarry, was selected as the site. A glass factory to make bottles was to be an accessory of the brewing company. Mr. McGarry and others were to be stockholders in the company, and an option was taken on the land in question.

The time for purchasing the property has been extended more than once, and finally November 25, last Sunday, was set as the term to the option. Sunday came and went, Monday followed and Tuesday succeeded, but no one appeared to fulfill the conditions of the option. Mr. McGarry declined to leave the deal open longer without some substantial forfeit being put up. This was not forthcoming and he regards the whole deal as off. He states that hereafter he is altogether out of the scheme.

STRUCK BY A CYCLONE.

Dr. Johnson's Experience With a Wisconsin Zephyr—The Babe Came Through Without a Scratch.

"In the house with me," said Dr. Johnson at the Natick House yesterday, "was a woman with a small babe in her arms. The storm struck us and totally destroyed my house. The mother of the child was badly cut and bruised but not seriously hurt, and the babe was found lying under a heavy plank, without a scratch. As for myself, I was found by my friends sitting on a large radiator that had been on the second-story of my residence. I was very badly cut about the head, and was seriously injured about the groin and was so dazed that I didn't know anything until the next day. It is the result of the injuries received at that time that brings me to spend this winter in Los Angeles, though I have previously spent two winters here."

Dr. Johnson is a stout old gentleman with shattered nerves, and doesn't waste words in his talk.

RAILROAD NOTES.

Mr. Greaves, who is to succeed Mr. Hays in the management of the Grand Trunk, when the latter becomes president of the Southern Pacific at the beginning of the year, is well known here. Some few years ago ill health forced Mr. Greaves to give up railroad work. He came to Southern California and bought a ranch near Fullerton, where he spends much of his time.

Both the railroads have made one-fare rate for the round trip to the Phoenix carnival, which takes place December 10 to 15. A Los Angeles day will be one of the features, and it is hoped that a large number of people will go from here that day. The fare from here is $[illegible].

Col. Sanborn, general agent of the Burlington, who has been here several days, returned to San Francisco last night.

The Concordia Club of this city will have a great day of it on Thanksgiving day, spending the afternoon at Alpine Tavern, and having a ball at the Casino at Echo Mountain in the evening. About one hundred ladies and gentlemen will be of the party.

[Unidentified:] "I never sit down to a good dinner," said the old man with a reminiscent smile, "but I think of the expensive meal I once took in while out West. It was during the political excitement of four years ago.

"I was making a tour of the State, and one day while traveling was glad to stop at a farm and ask the man who owned it if he would be good enough to let me have something to eat, as it would be several hours before I would reach a hotel.

"'Come right in,' he said genially. 'We ain't got much, but I guess we can cook ye up a snack.'

"The political excitement was running high at the time, and I soon found that the old man was a wild devil of the silver faith, and he talked of nothing else while I was eating. Thinking to have a little fun with him, I pretended to find a five-dollar gold piece in the bacon, which I put in my mouth and went through the motions of swallowing.

"Much to my surprise the finding of the gold did not excite the old man a bit, so I picked out another gold piece and put that in my mouth. I took seven $5 gold pieces out of the bacon, one after another, and he never so much as lifted an eyelid and I gave up trying to amuse myself at his expense.

"'How much do I owe you?' I asked when I was through.

"'Thirty-five dollars and twenty-five cents,' he answered, calmly.

"'What?' I shouted in amazement.

"'That's what,' he grimly replied, as he fingered his gun. 'Bacon, $5 each; seven gold bugs at $5 a bug, $35. Hash in a condition, not a theory, that entitles ye!'

"I paid it, for the old man would not listen to reason or the explanation that I offered, and he had a way of handling his gun that positively made me nervous."

Another Phase.

[Detroit Free Press:] The two friends met after a brief separation.

"So you are married, are you?"

"Yes."

"I thought you would be."

"Miss Thornton."

"Isn't that the girl you met at the seaside?"

"Yes."

"You got engaged to her there?"

"Yes."

"Good-by."

The decadence of Palo ...Alto as a breeding farm lies in the ...fact that the late Senator Stanford was perfectly willing to sell horses at big prices, but not willing to pay a big price for a highly-bred stallion to mate with his splendidly-bred mares. To the same parsimonious policy of sacrificing good mares to inferior stallions, bred on the same farm with them, may be ascribed the downfall of Santa Anita, which turned out the winners of over $50,000 in three separate seasons while old Grinstead was alive.

Eddie Jones, the California jockey, has returned from England and says he had a most enjoyable time while in the land of John Bull. Eddie was not under engagement to any particular stable, but rode as a free lance. He managed to land thirty good winners, however, of which eight were in Ireland. He is under engagement to ride in Austria next season, at a retainer of $6000. Eddie says that Tod Sloan's troubles in England have arisen, not so much from any bad riding as from his peppery temper and the ill-natured remarks made by him, at one time and another, about prominent British turfmen. Tod will have to learn to be silent if he wishes to succeed in that country.

They have had a week of rain and slush at Tanforan Park, near San Francisco, and the horses that were expected to deliver the goods have generally failed to do so. The Call's turf prophet is about as smart as any of them, and he not only failed to tip a single winner on Saturday, but five out of the six horses he gave as winners ran in the steerage. The best tipper among all the turf prophets on the San Francisco dailies this season has been Benny Benjamin, formerly a reporter on the Los Angeles Herald during the ownership of that paper by Messrs. Ayers & Lynch. Imperious, the great mud horse of last season, who won the rich Burns Handicap at 15 to 1, has so far failed to earn a winning bracket.

Golden Age, the star of the Morris string (really owned by J. H. Haggin) came second in the $1000 stake for two-year-olds on Saturday, the race being won by his stable companion, Seide. As both horses were coupled in the betting, no complaint was forthcoming.

A protest was made against Ordnung, winner of the second race on Friday last. He ran in the name of C. Lind, commonly called "Frisco." It is claimed that he is really the property of John F. Schorr, whose horses won two races on Saturday, and that the entry was not in accordance with the rules of racing. Mr. Schorr owned the horse when he was 2 years old and, as there had never been any mention of his sale in the papers, the claim of fraudulent entry was made by some disgruntled better who had "piked up" against him. Ordnung is by Imported Order, sire of Ornament, who was the best handicap horse that has appeared in the United States since 1890. The stewards at Tanforan took the case under advisement. When Ordnung was good he could run circus rings about all such horses as Time Maker, F. W. Brode and Meadowthorpe, and that fact may have something to do with the complaint lodged against him.

DAY OF DELIVERANCE COMING FOR SHORTS.

FRANTIC EFFORTS TO GET OUT OF CORN CORNER.

Phillips May Be Swamped With Grain On the Last Day of the Option. Brokers May Escape Squeeze Through Reinspection.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

CHICAGO, Nov. 27.—Frantic efforts are being made by shorts caught in the Phillips corn corner to swamp him with grain on the last day of the option. The way in which they hope to down him and get themselves out of a tight place is by reinspection of this week's receipts, which had been graded No. 2, one grade too low to pass as contract.

"There will be big deliveries on Friday," said Charles L. Slide, manager for Counsgiman & Co., "and lots of corn which will be reinspected will pass as No. 2. At a time like this when there is a corner on, the inspectors are scared and to be on the safe side they grade corn No. 3 where there is any doubt at all, knowing that if it is wrong supervising inspectors will go over it and give the right grade."

"They won't get a car of it graded up," said Phillips, when he was told of the new tactics of the shorts. "When there is a corner on, there is always a big demand for reinspection, but it never amounts to anything."

Another scheme which has been evolved for the purpose of swamping Phillips is the purchase and shipment to Chicago of corn which was sold by the Pattens in Buffalo and Montreal when they went out of the deal in October.

Fifty-one cents marked up on the board today was a new high price in the November deal. Phillips came into the pit early and lifted the price from 49 cents, where it opened. Between 50 and 51, he unloaded 200,000 bushels, his actual sales for the day being 240,000 bushels. As he is selling corn bought at 36, his day's transactions netted him a profit better than $25,000. Other days this week are said to have been equilly profitable to him. Today's close was 50 cents. Big forwarders, who, it is said, constitute the short interest, are still hanging on stubbornly. Predictions are freely made that the last day of the deal will see November corn quoted at 75 cents.

"This deal differs from others," said Phillips today, "in that I have handled it by myself. All the buying and selling has been done in the open pit, and I have hired no brokers to hoodwink the crowd. I have known all along how big the short interest was, and who was short. They have known also how much corn I had."

The contract corn in Chicago is about a million and a half bushels. The inspection sheet today was again a disappointment to the bears, showing only 87,000 bushels transferred from private to public elevators. Only 57 out of 926 cars arriving today were No. 2, and only 120,000 bushels of contract No. 2 corn were added to the total in Chicago.

Panama Railroad Company Will Await Action by the Pacific Mail Company as to Contract Renewals.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—The Evening Post says:

"An official of the Panama Railroad Company is quoted today as saying that overtures for a renewal of the contracts between the Panama company and the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, which expire December 16, must come from the latter concern. The Panama company made propositions concerning the renewal of the contracts on different terms from those in force now, and is not disposed to alter them.

"If not accepted the Panama company will make provisions to run its own line of steamships on the Pacific Coast to San Francisco and other northern points."

THE ARMY OF HEALTH.

If all the people in the United States, Canada and Great Britain who make daily use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets could be assembled together it would make an army that would outnumber our army of one hundred thousand by at least five to one.

Men and women who are broken down in health are only a part of the thousands who use this popular preparation; the greater number are people who are in fair health but who know that the way to keep well is to keep the digestion perfect and use Stuart's Tablets as regularly as meal time comes to insure good digestion and proper assimilation of food.

Prevention is always better than cure and disease can find no foothold if the digestion is kept in good working order by the daily use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Mr. Thomas Seale, Mayfield, Cal., says: "Have used and recommended Stuart's Tablets because there is nothing like them to keep the stomach right."

Miss Lelia Dively, 4627 Plummer St., Pittsburg, Pa., writes: "I wish everyone to know how grateful I am for Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I suffered for a long time and did not know what ailed me. I lost flesh right along until one day I noticed an advertisement of these tablets and immediately bought a 50 cent box at the drug store. I am only on the second box and am gaining in flesh and color. I have at last found something that has reached my ailment."

From Mrs. Del. Eldred, Sun Prairie, Wis.: "I was taken dizzy very suddenly during the hot weather of the past summer. After ten days of constant dizziness I went to our local physician, who said my liver was torpid and I had over heated my blood; he doctored me for two weeks without much improvement; I finally thought of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets (which I had used long before for various bad feelings) and the first three tablets helped me.

The army of people who take Stuart's Tablets are mostly people in fairly good health, who keep well by taking them regularly after meals. They contain no opiates, cocaine or any cathartic or injurious drugs, simply the natural peptones and digestives which every weak stomach lacks.

CROKER SAYS REFORMERS ARE NOT SINCERE.

SAYS ANTI-VICE CRUSADE IS BUT A POLITICAL MOVE.

Election of a Republican Mayor Alleged to Be the Sole Aim of the Agitators—Wants a Single-headed Police Board.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—A dispatch to the Herald from London quoted Richard Croker as saying in an interview at his country home at Wantage, that the reformers of New York are not sincere. Says Croker in the interview:

"These men cannot fool the people of New York again. The only cause they are fighting for is the Republican party. Their only aim is to elect a Republican Mayor of New York.

"They are responsible for the New York charter. They created a bi-partisan police board, what we should have is a single-headed police board. Then we could place responsibility on somebody's shoulders. Two-thirds of the police captains in New York are Republicans. Is the Democratic organization, which does not control the police board, responsible for the administration of these Republican captains?

"What we mean to do is to satisfy the people of New York. These reformers talk about vice in New York. Have they ever been in London or Paris? They are not sincere."

CROKER RETAINS REIFFS.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

LONDON, Nov. 27.—Richard Croker will go to Carlsbad in a few days for three months. He had a long farewell talk this evening with the Reiffs, who will sail for New York Friday. Croker has engaged both Reiffs and his trainer, Wishard, for next season.

"I am satisfied that, had the Jockey Club limited its investigation to the running of The Scotchman II," said Croker to a reporter of the Associated Press, "it long ago would have been settled. But it fell into litigation, which Lord Durham's charges started. I have just returned from Newmarket and all my information has strengthened my faith in the Reiffs and Wishard. I am perfectly willing to abide by the result. The matter is giving me little trouble.

"I had to laugh at the alleged interviews with me in the London papers today. The idea that I am going to America is preposterous.

"I noticed the boom in American securities. Of course there are liable to be spurts of this kind when the trusts are in power, but I cannot regard it as an indication of the soundest public health. However, I have no intention to fall into an interview."

Johnny Reiff is going to the United States to attend school. Croker said: "Johnny Reiff is representative of the kind of boy the American boy is. With all his success in England, he is not satisfied. He is preparing for a useful life, while many jockeys are content to spend the winter unprofitably around the training stables. Johnny Reiff is not willing to limit his future to racing alone. I think that tells the whole story of American success on the English turf. The American training is the best medicine."

"Now Dont Get the Blues."

THE BLUES.

To keep a "stiff upper lip" is almost impossible for an ailing woman.

She doesn't like to say anything about her troubles to her husband, because she knows they will worry him.

She knows that he needs every minute of his time and all of his ingenuity to hold his position and make headway in his business.

She wants to help and not to hinder him.

Yet, she has those awful sensations of weariness and weakness which, fight as she will, she cannot conquer. She has headaches and a dreadful bearing-down feeling which nothing relieves. She doesn't sleep well, and is frequently attacked with dizziness.

She keeps her troubles to herself as much as possible and consults the doctor, who doesn't help her. Then she gets discouraged and blue, and after "a good cry," tells her troubles to her husband.

Of course, her troubles are his troubles, but a man is always more hopeful than a woman. It is impossible for him to understand how unbearable are her sensations. "Now, don't get the blues," he says to her. "Keep on with the doctor's medicine and you'll be all right soon."

She is more cheerful for a while after that, but the medicine doesn't do her any good, and the feeling of failure comes back, bringing the old melancholy and depression of spirit.

Let this disconsolate woman turn to Mrs. Pinkham and she will get the help she needs. In every neighborhood there are women who have been helped by her, and almost every day this paper prints letters from some of those grateful hearts.

If you are ailing and discouraged, why not do as these women have done and get the advice Mrs. Pinkham so freely offers to every suffering woman? Her address is Lynn, Mass.

Mrs. Pinkham's medicine has a well-deserved reputation for curing the ills that give women the blues. It overcomes menstrual irregularities and pain, all uterine and ovarian disorders, and brings the nervous system to a normal state. An ideal medicine for women is

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mrs. Pinkham Cured these Women.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I am glad of the privilege to tell of the great good your medicine has done me. I had inflammation and falling of the womb and inflammation of ovaries, and was in great pain. I took medicine prescribed by a physician, but it did me no good. At last I heard of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and after using it faithfully, I am thankful to say I am a well woman. I would advise all suffering women to seek advice of Mrs. Pinkham. I remain a sincere friend of Mrs. Pinkham and her Vegetable Compound."—MRS. G. H. CHAPPELL, Great Park, Ill.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—For years I had suffered with painful menstruation every month. At the beginning of menstruation it was impossible for me to stand up for more than five minutes, I felt so miserable. One day a little book of yours was thrown into my house and I sat right down and read it. I then got some of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills. I can heartily say that to-day I feel like a new woman, and shall always praise the Vegetable Compound for what it has done for me."—MRS. MARGARET ANDERSON, 60 Maple Street, Lewiston, Me.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I cannot praise your medicine enough. When I wrote to you last winter I was all discouraged. I had terrible pains in my back and sides and felt so weak. I did as you directed and now feel like a new woman. When my babe was born, labor was very short and I have a large healthy child, which we feel assured is the result of my taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I used ten bottles of your medicine and two boxes of Liver Pills. I beg of you to accept my thanks for what you have done for me. I would advise every woman in a pregnant condition to take your medicine, as it is such a help during labor, and makes a strong, healthy child."—MRS. W. A. BECKER, Shenango, Pa.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I suffered for several years with falling of the womb. Was treated by some of the best doctors in the city, but they failed to cure me. After taking six bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, I am a well woman. The pain in my back has left me after taking the second bottle. Your medicine has done for me what the doctors could not do, and I wish all who are troubled with female weakness might know its worth."—MRS. SARAH HOLSTEIN, 3 Davis Block, Gorham St., Lowell, Mass.

Mrs. Johnson is helped through "Change of Life."

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I send you this letter to publish for the benefit of others. I was sick for about nine years so that I could not do my work. For three months I was in bed and could not sit up long enough to have my bed made. I had five different doctors and all said there was no help for me. My trouble was change of life. I suffered with ulceration of the womb, pain in sides, kidney and stomach trouble, backache, headache, and dizziness. I heard of your remedies and began their use. By the time I had taken eight bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, two of the Blood Purifier, four boxes of Liver Pills, and used four packages of Sanative Wash, I was well and strong and felt like a new person. My recovery is a perfect surprise to everybody that knew me. There is no need of women suffering so much if they would take your remedies, for they are a sure cure."—MRS. CHARLOTTE JOHNSON, Moncton, Ohio.

[LOCAL POLITICS.]

SILLY DODGE WON'T WORK.

Snyder Trying to Shift Saloon Onus.

Futile Attempt to Put It On Silver.

Slot Machines Part of "Open-door" Policy of Snyderites. Campaign Notes.

The onus of being the candidate of the saloon element for the office of Mayor is telling against M. P. Snyder with such effect that he and his political managers are now trying every expedient to shake it off, and to make believe that it is Mr. Silver and not Mr. Snyder who has been angling for the saloon vote. But the dodge won't work.

Mr. Snyder began to flirt with the saloon interests so long ago and has conducted his amours in so open and notorious a manner (politically speaking) that it is now too late for him to attempt to divorce himself from them without making himself liable, at least, for breach of promise.

It can not be refuted that Snyder became tacitly—if not by actual promise—engaged to the saloon interests through his ardent and long-continued courtship which began when he was a Police Commissioner, was continued during his term in the City Council, and was carried on with renewed fervor during the latter part of his administration as Mayor, when he was striving for re-election. It was during the latter period that he stood sponsor for the Bowery balls and other forms of law-breaking, all of which was in the nature of love making to the beer-keg vote.

After the rebuff he received at the city election in December, 1898, one would have thought that he would cease his attentions to the liquor and sporting elements, but he didn't. On the contrary, he became more persistent than ever in courting favor with the saloon "push," and that his billing and cooing was reciprocated is plainly shown by the hearty espousal of his candidacy by the allied liquor interests and similar forms of business in his present campaign.

For Mr. Snyder to try to renounce his troth, or to pass the buck at this late date is a bluff that will not go.

MENDACIOUS CANARD.

The latest attempt to shift the burden of the saloon vote from the shoulders of Snyder to the back of his opponent was in the form of an anonymous communication in the Evening Record of November 26, reading in part as follows:

"It is claimed that a regularly duly accredited agent of Herman Silver, the Republican candidate for Mayor, has made overtures to the Liquor Dealers' Association for assistance at the hands of that body in the present campaign, and that the matter is now under advisement by the association, from which body a final decision is expected not later than tomorrow.

"The last regular meeting of the Los Angeles Liquor Dealers' Association was held on Friday, at which time Mr. Silver's agent made his appearance, without solicitation, so it is claimed, at the hands of the association or any of its members. The promises then and there made are said to have been in the nature of a guarantee that if the Republican nominee for Mayor is elected, the liquor interests of the city could be assured of being treated right. The feeling among several of those present was that such advances as which had been extended should be accepted in the spirit which it had been tendered, and after the matter had been more or less discussed, both pro and con, it was decided that the subject was too important for hasty action, and that the Executive Committee of the Association should take the request made in hand and report later, upon a plan of action. This report is expected to-morrow."

A more silly and mendacious canard has not been sprung during this campaign, which has been prolific of canards sprung by the opposition to Mr. Silver. So utterly false and improbable are the statements contained in the screed that it would have been treated with silent contempt but for the fact that some persons, in the absence of a denial, might think there was some foundation for the allegations.

OFFICIAL DENIAL.

In order that none of the Record's readers might be misled in the matter, Mr. Silver and the Republican City Central Committee yesterday addressed the following communication to the editor of the Record:

"In reply to the article in your issue of yesterday headed 'Wants Saloon Help,' the undersigned enter emphatic denial of the matters therein alleged or insinuated.

"We declare that neither of the undersigned have at any time in this campaign, or at any other time, approached the Liquor Dealers' Association, or any other of the saloon or liquor interests, seeking the aid of said association or interests in behalf of Mr. Silver's candidacy for Mayor.

"Nor have we, or either of us, authorized, accredited or empowered any person or agent to act for us, or either of us, in securing said aid or assistance; nor have we sought or asked the same.

"We farther declare that the charges and insinuations contained in the article above referred to are false, spurious and without foundation.

"This, we presume, is a sample of the campaign trickery which may be expected from our opponents from now on during the campaign.

"REPUBLICAN CITY CENTRAL COMMITTEE."

Of course, the expected report which was to have been made yesterday by the Executive Committee of the Liquor Dealers' Association, on the alleged request for an indorsement of Mr. Silver's candidacy, was not forthcoming, for the reason, as unequivocally stated in the reply of Mr. Silver and the Republican Committee, that no such overtures had been made or even thought of. Furthermore, the liquor dealers could not tender Mr. Silver an indorsement in sincerity, as they have practically committed themselves almost unanimously, as individuals, if not as an association, to the support of Mr. Snyder. Why? Because they count on having a "wide-open town" if Snyder if elected. At least, that is the common boast of the majority of the saloon men and their ilk who have been expressing themselves rather freely since the opening of the campaign.

WANT SLOT MACHINES BACK.

The "wide-open town," which the Snyderites are counting upon so confidently, includes not only the restoration of boxes in saloons, and open doors at all hours of the day and night, including Sundays, but also the bringing back of the slot machines which were banished from the city under the present Republican administration, for the city's good.

A prominent Spring-street cigar dealer, several days ago, in conversation with a member of the Republican City Central Committee, boasted that the nickel-in-the-slot machines would be reinstated in saloons and cigar stands if Snyder was elected, and threatened to go out of business in the event of Mr. Silver being successful at the polls.

The reply of the Republican committeeman was that if the voters of the city had to choose between Snyder with slot machines and Silver without them, they would undoubtedly choose the latter, even though such action were to drive a dozen Spring-street cigar dealers out of business.

The cigar stands and saloons seem to be doing a thrifty-enough business without the slot machines, however, so there is not much danger of any of them closing up voluntarily, even if Mr. Silver is the next Mayor, which he will undoubtedly be.

As for the slot machines coming back, it has long been one of the cherished hopes of the cigar men and saloonkeepers, and a chance of administration that would countenance their return has been eagerly looked forward to. It is expected, of course, that Mr. Snyder will make a public denial of his being a party to any such scheme, for to avow it would mean certain defeat, as the people have long ago made up their minds that the banishment of the machines was a good thing, and that they must be kept out at all hazards.

The fact remains, nevertheless, in spite of all the denials that Mr. Snyder and his friends may make between now and election day, that the slot machines form part and parcel of the "wide-open" policy which the saloon men so confidently expect M. P. Snyder to usher in.

REPUBLICAN RALLIES.

COMING EVENTS OUTLINED.

The Republican City Central Committee is going to whoop things up for the remainder of the campaign. Meetings have been arranged for in various wards during the remaining nights of the week, except Saturday, when a general closing rally will be held at some central point, probably Elks' Hall, Turner Hall or Hazard's Pavilion. Upon this occasion all the city candidates will be present to make their final bow before trusting their fate to the voters. Other campaign orators will also be heard.

Two ward meetings will be held to-night, one at Italian Hall, No. 728 Buena Vista street, to be addressed by George P. Adams, in English, and Ralph Sepulveda in Spanish; as many of the candidates as find it convenient will also be present. The other meeting will be held at No. 610 East Fifth street, Seventh Ward. J. W. McKinley and B. L. Oliver will be the principal speakers. A number of the candidates will also be present. There will be good music at both meetings.

The Sixth Ward Republicans will meet Thursday night at Fisher's Hall, corner of Central avenue and Adams street. L. C. Gates, chairman of the City Central Committee, and B. L. Oliver will address the meeting, and the city candidates will be present. The Southwest—McKinley Quartette will furnish music.

SEVENTH WARD POLITICS.

VON DER KUHLEN'S HARD FIGHT.

The Seventh Ward Good Government Club, which is booming C. W. Von der Kuhlen for the City Council, met at Second and Rose streets last night. There was the usual display of pyrotechnic oratory. Mr. Von der Kuhlen, who is running independently, is waging a bitter warfare against both Lauder and Ashman, the regular party nominees for the Council, both of whom he declares have been tried and found wanting. Von der Kuhlen's candidacy, however, does not seem to be taken in earnest by any one save Von der Kuhlen and a few of his intimate friends. The real fight is between Lauder, Republican incumbent, and Ashman (Dem.,) ex-Councilman and present Fire Commissioner, with each claiming to have the best of it.

BLANCHARD'S FINISH.

DEMOCRATS INDORSE HENDRICK.

The enemies of boss rule on Boyle Heights think they see the finish of E. L. Blanchard as the representative of the Ninth Ward in the City Council, in the independent candidacy of Hon. J. W. Hendrick. Judge Hendrick is gaining strength every day, and he will poll not only a large portion of the Republican vote, but practically the entire Democratic vote of the ward as well. The following address to the Democratic voters of the ward, recommending Judge Hendrick for their suffrage, has been issued:

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 27, 1900.

Dear Sir—Knowing that Judge Hendrick intended to run independently for the office of Councilman for the Ninth Ward, the Democratic city convention made no nomination for that office. Therefore, as the Democrats have no party nominee, we, as Democratic citizens of the ward, and as property owners and taxpayers therein, earnestly solicit your vote for Judge Hendrick, whose name will appear on the official ballot as an independent candidate.

With absolutely no personal interests to serve, and actuated solely by considerations of public welfare, we urgently propose to our fellow-Democrats that we elect Judge Hendrick to represent us for the coming two years, as he is the best man whose services are now offered to us.

We have his pledge publicly given, that he is absolutely in favor of municipal ownership and operation of the city water system.

BAZAAR A SUCCESS.

The attendance at the Sacred Heart Church bazaar, which opened in Y.M.I. Hall Monday, has been very large and promises to be one of profit for the church.

The programme yesterday evening consisted of a song recital by Catharine Collette, a well-known local singer, who has recently returned from the East. Miss Teresa Sullivan was piano accompanist. Several numbers were rendered by the Angel City Quartette, consisting of Messrs. Clarence Ragland, Frank Brandt, Claire Overholtzer and Oscar Ragland, and Prof. Gardner's Orchestra played.

Arrangements have been made to hold a matinee Thursday afternoon, when the pupils of the Sacred Heart Sunday-school will give a fairy play. This evening the farce comedy, "A New Broom Sweeps Clean," will be rendered by the dramatic section of the Y.M.I. Thursday evening the company will be treated to a minstrel show.

SILVER IS FOR GOOD GOVERNMENT.

A VOTE AGAINST HIM HELPS SALOON ELEMENT.

Non-Partisan Meeting at Vincent Methodist Church Is Addressed By Three Speakers and All Are Opposed to Snyder For Mayor.

Three speakers addressed a non-partisan political meeting at Vincent Methodist Church, No. 129 East Twenty-ninth street last evening. They were J. W. McKinley, Supervisor-elect; George Alexander and W. R. Carter, president of the Anti-saloon League. The meeting was presided over by W. H. Sallada, a blind veteran of the Civil War, and was held in the interest of good government.

Although the attendance was small, the speeches were received enthusiastically. The intent of all the addresses was that all good citizens should strive for reform in municipal government and prevent its falling into the hands of the saloon element.

Mr. McKinley said the campaign is not a political one but non partisan. The tendency of the age is, he said, to permit municipal affairs to fall to the control of the lower element, and for that reason it behooved the citizens of Los Angeles to struggle for good government. The two important issues of the campaign, he said, are the saloon issue and the ownership of the water works. The most important, is the former, and next Monday the citizens will have an opportunity to decide whether saloon rules and regulations shall be obeyed or the administration changed and such laws violated. He pointed out that the Democratic platform is weak in its declaration on this subject, while the Republican platform pledges its candidates to keep boxes out of saloons and close their side entrances. Then he compared the records of Mr. Silver and Mr. Snyder, showing wherein that of the former is such that it commends him to the people for their votes, while that of Mr. Snyder is not such as to commend him. He said that Mr. Silver is an avowed friend of municipal ownership of the water plant, and closed his remarks by appealing to the voters present to support the Republican nominee for Council in their respective wards.

Mr. Alexander said he was opposed to the saloon in politics. The saloons are supporting Mr. Snyder for Mayor, he said, and that is one reason why all good citizens should oppose that candidate and give their support to Mr. Silver. The saloon men have bragged that if Mr. Snyder is elected, Los Angeles will be a wide-open city. He also spoke in the interest of Mr. Matthews, the Republican nominee for City Attorney.

Mr. Carter said that through the Republican administration the people had secured a grip on the saloons and that a change of politics in the administration at this time would mean that the people would lose that which they had already gained. The change at this time, he said would mean for Los Angeles a result as damaging to the city as is Tammany control to New York. Never before have the saloon men endeavored more strenuously to become a power in politics than now, he declared, and he thought it was the duty of all good citizens to vote for the men who represent good city government, and those who, instead of being silent on the saloon issue in their platform, are not afraid to state squarely where they stand.

SNYDER'S OPEN BOOK.

Getting Somewhat Frayed and Dog-eared—"De Ate" Ward Peeps into It. High-wire Allender's Stunt.

Though Candidate Snyder's "open book" is getting "dog-eared" at the corners, he continues to put it on exhibition.

He had it at a Democratic meeting over in the Eighth Ward last night and palmed it off as the real thing, but then it didn't go.

The meeting was held at North Main and Leroy streets, and it was a humorous sort of a meeting of the cowboy type. The hall was constantly jingling with such cries as "Where's that McGuire?" "What's the matter with Bob Todd?" "That's right," "You bet your life."

Sometimes these mild interpolations threatened to drown the speaker, and in fact they made "Uncle Billy" Workman lose his place. Then the crowd laughed. So did Workman. Mr. Workman, the candidate for Treasurer, was put up after Snyder had "sputtered out," like a tallow dip in a snowstorm, and Workman was a humorist.

"I drove an ox team from St. Louis to Los Angeles," he said, "and I expect to remain here forever." He didn't say dead or alive, but nobody seemed to see the point.

"If you elect this ticket, including myself," continued the humorist, "I assure you you will have all the prosperity you want. I think you know a good thing when you see it."

After the candidates stood up and said their pieces, one and all, the contortionist was introduced.

Demosthenes Allender was his name. His shaggy foretop, the badge of genuine "don't cher know," was done up a la Shetland pony. It was done up to especially impress "de Ate." He shook it and tossed it about like an angry bull. He sawed the atmosphere and rent his garments at an awful rate. He's a star clown, on a high wire, is Allender, and he exhausted all the tricks of the "profesh."

He did a mean thing when he garbled and distorted Herman Silver's speech, made at Blanchard's Hall Monday night. But nothing else was to be expected. He was there to tickle "de Ate," and he exhausted his tickler, even appealing to their baser motives in his effort to create class prejudice.

When the high-wire performer shook out his foretop and tackled the city ticket he did himself proud. His eulogium was of the most exhaustive and florid type, until he came to one-armed Capt. Hance. There Allender stuck. He absolutely forgot Hance; that's what Allender would say if you were to ask him. But he didn't. That was the point at which the clown made a real simon-pure fool of himself.

The fact is, some people were sitting there waiting, with great interest, to see whether the small man with the big foretop would or would not mention Capt. Hance. Here is the sequel:

One time, quite recently, Allender went to Hance and asked him to sign a certain paper, which Hance for his own reasons refused to do. Allender, he of haughty mien and shaggy mane, got mad and has ever since wreaked petty vengeance upon Hance by refusing to mention his name when spouting rhetoric at all the other candidates. The friends of Capt. Hance are "onto" it, and are after the clown's hairy scalp with a big knife.

Allender was all unconscious of this last night, but he isn't now.

WATER DIMINISHING.

Many Rivers and Lakes in Central Asia and Some in Africa Reported to Be Drying up.

[New York Sun:] Lieut. O. Olufsen of the Danish Army has recently completed his second series of explorations in central Asia and particularly on the lofty Pamir plateau, where he first began his studies in 1896. He says that in the past few years the quantity of water in Turkestan and Bokhara has notably diminished. A number of oases that were cultivated with much success several years ago have now been abandoned because the streams that rendered their irrigation possible have dried up. This phenomenon is particularly prominent along the little rivers that feed the Syr Daria and the Amu Daria, whose sources are among the highlands of the Pamirs.

The quantity of snow on the Pamirs is decreasing on account of the rapid erosion of the soft schistose rocks which form the ridges, the filling up of the valleys and the increased average velocity of the wind. With high winds blowing over a surface that is now more level than formerly, the snows which fed the lakes, the sources of these rivers that helped to give fertility to Turkestan and Bokhara, blow away in large part and the result is that the lakes are much smaller than formerly.

He mentions in particular the Yechil Kul or lake, which was formerly at least 200 kilometers (about 120 miles) in circumference. The lake is now only about forty miles in circumference. Parts of it, however, still exist as little lakes cut off from the main lake in the lower parts of the former bed occupied by Yechil Kul when it was one unbroken sheet of water. This lake, however, is not one of the feeders of the rivers, for it is a salt lake.

A somewhat similar story comes from South Africa with regard to the famous Lake Ngami, discovered by Livingstone more than fifty years ago. The dessication of Lake Ngami, has made extremely rapid progress in the past ten or twelve years. When Livingstone reached the lake in 1849 he found a sheet of water with an area of about eight hundred square kilometers. The lake has now entirely dissappeared. Its old bed is a low-lying plain covered with jungle, with small areas of boggy lands here and there, but not a vestige of water surface to be seen.

The Okawango River, once the outlet of the lake, is entirely dry for some twenty miles from Ngami, where it begins to gather waters again. Formerly many natives lived around the edges of the lake and raised a great deal of grain there. But culture is now impossible, as there is no water to irrigate the crops, and the result is that the numerous villages around the lake have been abandoned. Only a comparatively few herders of cattle still live where in the flourishing days of Lake Ngami there was a large population.

Five prisoners held for burglary and assault escaped from the County Jail at Mexico, Mo., Monday night, sawing the casing of their cells and escaping through a brick wall. Eleven other prisoners, among them Ed Spencer, a preacher's son, convicted of murder, refused to leave.

meeting of the story-tellers' section of the Ebell Society, appointed for Monday, has been postponed indefinitely on account of the illness of the section master. The French section will have a very profitable practice hour. In addition to the French play, to be given in March, the section has in connection a social afternoon, when French games will be played and the language spoken exclusively.

Club.

The Fortnightly Art Club enjoyed a delightful morning yesterday at the Chamber of Commerce, viewing the curios and Mexican curios and pictures belonging to the Don Antonio collection. Miss Pitcher, who has conducted the club through the collection, related interesting stories relating to the various pictures and curios, many of these stories being taken from the early history of the country or from the history of the old family.

Monday Morning Club.

The current-events section of the Monday Morning Club met November 19 in Assembly Hall. Current literature and science were the topics discussed. Mrs. J. N. Phillips described a tree found in Florida whose leaves, a beautiful green, becomes a bright pink during a shower o rain, the water having the same effect upon it. It is called the "blushing tree." Mrs. Phillips also gave a talk about a book to read. Mrs. Carter read an article on the South Pole. Other matters, literary and scientific, were mentioned.

Ann Ebell.

The Ebell Society held its founders'-day meeting last Saturday afternoon. Miss Lottie D. Willard of Los Angeles, who was to read one of Shakespeare's plays, could not reach Santa Ana, and several members who were to take part were prevented by illness from doing so.

The different sections reported the outline of their study for the winter. The president gave a short address on the past work and the future needs of the society. Vocal solos were rendered by Mrs. Rafferty and Miss Chaffee, Mrs. Padgham accompanying. Mrs. L. H. Fuller pleased all by cleverly consenting to read a paper on "Women in Economics." It was prepared by her for her club in Chicago and was very interesting and well received.

The society, organized six years ago with about seventy-five members, now numbers over two hundred and is still growing.

A circular letter from the California Club of San Francisco was read, and the president was instructed to write to the member of Congress from this district, James C. Needham, requesting that he use his influence in the passage of bills to preserve the Calaveras big tree groves.

GIVE THANKS.

Thanksgiving will probably be more generally observed in Los Angeles this year than ever before. There is so much to be thankful for, and the people seem to feel grateful.

The churches of the city have arranged for services and have formed groups for the occasion. In each group one of the buildings will be decorated prettily and lavishly, and there the exercises will be held. These will be wholly of a Thanksgiving character, and will comprise fine special musical programmes. The services, as arranged up to last night, by groups, are as follows:

Episcopal Church—A united service of all the Episcopal congregations in the city will be held in St. Paul's Pro-Cathedral at 11 a.m., at which the rector of Christ Church, Dr. George Thomas Dowling, will deliver the sermon. It is expected to be an interesting occasion. The united offering is to be for the benefit of the Hospital of the Good Samaritan. At earlier hours in the morning collections are to be taken at some of the parishes.

Central group—These congregations will meet at the First Methodist Episcopal Church, corner Sixth and Hill streets, where the sermon will be delivered by Rev. H. W. Knickerbocker, pastor of Trinity Methodist Church.

University group—The service will be held at the University Methodist Episcopal Church and the Rev. J. F. Tubbs of the Presbyterian Church will preach the sermon.

South central group—Service at the Knox Presbyterian Church on Twenty-eighth street, near Main. Sermon by Dr. Knighten of Vincent Church.

Central-avenue group—The service will be held at the Eight Street Christian Church. Rev. H. W. Waltz of Newman Church will preach.

East Los Angeles group—Union service at the Congregational Church.

Boyle Heights group—Union service this evening at the Methodist Episcopal Church. Rev. J. N. Boyd will preach.

Union Thanksgiving services will be held at the East Eighth-street Christian Church at 10:30 a.m.; the Bethesda Presbyterian, Newman M. E. and Christian churches will unite. Rev. Mr. Watts of the M. E. Church will preach and the choir of the Presbyterian Church will sing.

FOR THE POOR.

The worthy poor of the city will not be overlooked tomorrow. Rev. Dana W. Bartlett and his helpers will distribute the offerings of the school children for the Associated Charities, and all expressmen or others who will donate their services or the use of their teams are asked to call before noon today at No. 510 Vignes street for assignment. All articles will be divided among the various benevolent societies, and nothing will be given to individuals until this distribution is made.

Bethlehem, representng the church and the Good Samaritan work, will give a Thanksgiving dinner to poor families, and all who will donate food supplies are requested to send all uncooked articles to No. 510 Vignes street by noon today, if possible. Cooked and prepared foods, such as meats, vegetables, pies, bread, cakes and other articles, may be sent to the same address any time before 10 a.m. tomorrow. Mr. Bartlett should be notified by telephone, John 26.

A liberal response is looked for this year from those who can afford to give.

William S. Taylor, connected with the Pennsylvania Railroad shops at Altoona, Pa., is at the Natick for a protracted stay. He says that the car shops were never busier than now, and that every branch of trade is booming in Pennsylvania.

The advent of winter has increased the number of smallpox cases in Butte, Mont. Five new cases were sent to the hospital Sunday. There are already forty patients in the detention hospital.

"BARBERRY DISTRICT."

Maine Vegetarian Settlement Which is Famed for its Health and the Beauty of its Girls.

[Chicago News:] When a corner in dressed beef in Chicago twelve years ago had forced sirloin steak to fifty cents a pound, a family in the village of Hogdon, Me., decided to become vegetarian in diet. Members told a few neighbors what they had done, and the neighbors said it was a good idea. After a week or more of fifty-cent steaks some one suggested a meeting at which the family could relate its experience at wholesale. The meeting was a success. Men, women and children were pledged to vegetable diet, and now, after twelve years, School District No. 2 in Hogdon has twenty-two families that are vegetarian in diet.

Farmers in this "Barberry District" keep horses and oxen for draft purposes; but they have no cows, sheep, pigs, chickens, geese or ducks. For butter they use cottonseed oil. They wear cotton goods to the exclusion of wools, and they carry their prejudices so far as not to use tallow for candles. Whence comes the title Barberry District.

The barberry shrubs have been planted as fences, and from the fruit of these plants a greenish gray fat is boiled out and molded into candles. A bushel of berries will yield six pounds of candles, sufficient for a month's lighting of a house in winter. These candles give off a pleasant smell that scents the whole neighborhood.

Residents of the neighborhood are noted for their robust vigor and healthfulness. The girls are famed for their beauty. It is said that consumption has not had a victim in the community in twelve years.

NEW FRUIT PROCESS. The New England Grocer has the following on a new process of preparing fruit for market:

"The superiority of California fruits is everywhere recognized, but unfortunately Easterners are obliged to believe in this superiority largely through hearsay evidence. In spite of the best of facilities for transportation, the choice and tender California products cannot be brought into the eastern markets in the perfection of condition. Elisha B. Worrell of Boston, however, has a process by which California fruits, he says, may be placed in the markets of the world in all their pristine freshness.

"This process is nothing else than condensation by a new method of which Daniel Sherman of Newcastle, Cal., is the inventor. This turns ripe fruits, fresh from the trees, into a compound, which, according to the claims made for it, retains all the juices and all the flavor of the fruit from which it is made and which resists all extremes of climate without the use of any preservatives. A factory to condense the fruits of California will be established in San Francisco. Machinery to cost $60,000 will be made this winter to be in readiness next summer. The plant will have a capacity for turning out practically an unlimited amount of the fruit in condensed form.

"Some time ago Daniel Sherman and Robert Sherman, his brother, visited Boston and made known his discovery. The result was the organization of the Sherman-Worrell Fruit Company, which was incorporated under the laws of New Jersey. Stock was subscribed to on among business men sufficient to provide for the necessary machinery. The Shermans had already produced the condensed fruit with crude machinery, so it was easily demonstrated what could be done.

"Mr. Worrell says that the new industry would not conflict with any other connected with the marketing of California fruits. It would simply add another method for utilizing fruits and presenting them to the public for use in winter, with the added advantage of having in them full flavor and nutriment unimpaired. Six pounds of fruit can be condensed into one. Experiments have demonstrated that the condensed fruits are as good at the end of three years as when they were originally treated. Mr. Worrell has samples of the fruit which are solid, and have evidently been moulded. He says that confectioners, bakers and all housekeepers will use it."

LACES AND VEILINGS. The New York Commercial furnishes the following views on a subject interesting to all dry-goods merchants:

"There has been quite active in the lace market during the past week. Many duplicates were received from the local buyers as well as from the out-of-town trade. Although the orders placed now are only for small quantities the total of the week's sales was very satisfactory.

"Many of the road men have started out to secure orders for next season. The class of goods they are showing now is only staples, including valenciennes and torchons. The novelties will not be out much before the first of the year. The orders taken so far are very gratifying, as they show clearly that buyers throughout the country have great confidence in the future of these goods.

"The cutting-up trade consumes lace largely, and many representative underwear, infants' wear and neckwear manufacturers were seen in the market.

"According to the letters received from the buyers that are now in Europe making purchases for next year there is reason to believe the trade will enjoy another good season.

"Lace is being used profusely on dresses, wraps, millinery and all articles of woman's apparel, and the men representing the large European houses are placing liberal orders for the coming season. In face of this large demand for goods, prices remain very stiff, and in some instances they have advanced slightly.

"Dress nets promise to be in good request next spring, and chiffon mousseline de soie and liberty silk are also largely under order.

"There has been considerable improvement in the demand for vellings recently. The road men are meeting with success, and house business is also better than it has been for several weeks. Fancy meshes, chenille and velvet dotted goods constitute the bulk of the business. Chiffon and sewing silk vellings and some novelties also are shown and are selling fairly well."

GENERAL BUSINESS TOPICS.

1897	27.9	163.5
1896	88.3	233.4
1895	178.1	417.9
1894	174.4	276.0
1893	256.9	1,290.9
1892	417.8	1,153.7
1891	430.9	1,153.7
1897	1,414.4	3,381.4
1896	2,252.7	3,381.4
1895	1,544.4	*8,000.0
1900	*4,000.0	*7,500.0

*Estimated production.

"The aluminium industry is growing most rapidly in France and in the United States. Canada will enter the list of producing countries next year with a plant of 5000 horse-power, and will add 1000 tons each year to the world's output. Presuming that the total amount of aluminium produced last year was used for the specific purpose of electric conductors, then the 2000 tons of aluminium would displace 12,000 tons of copper, or a like amount of aluminium sheet would be equivalent to 20,000 tons of sheet copper were the specification for culinary and cooking utensils. These comparative figures emphasize the important position that the metal has assumed."

REVIVAL OF AMERICAN SHIPBUILDING. The activity in the shipbuilding industry is indicated by letters which have been received by the Manufacturers' Record from several of the largest companies. The Harlan & Hollingsworth Company of Wilmington, Del., states that it has contracts for next year which will aggregate 20,000 tons. The New York Shipbuilding Company of Camden, N. J., which has just begun operations, has contracts which will aggregate 20,000 tons capacity, while the American Shipbuilding Company of Cleveland, O., will complete 40,000 tons of contracts this year. This company is also building several vessels which will be used in the Atlantic coastwise service, and one which will be fitted to take cargoes to foreign ports. These estimates do not include the two vessels which have been ordered for the Atlantic Transport line, to carry 15,000 tons of cargo each, and the four which will probably be contracted for in the near future by the same company, to be built in the United States shipyards.

Clement A. Griscom, head of the International Navigation Company, writing to a technical society on the outlook for shipbuilding in this country, says: "The next twenty-four months will show an increase over the past twenty-four months as great as the records of the latter exceed those of previous periods. Since the end of June there have been launched, begun or contracted for seventy-eight steel steamships of 350,000 gross tons, including ten ocean steamships each of 10,000 gross tons or over. Part of this work will extend over a period of two years, but in the twelvemonth from last June 250,000 tons of steel steamships will have been launched in the United States."

Citrus-fruit Shipments.

There were shipped from Southern California points on Monday two carloads of lemons and twelve of oranges, making for the season, November 1 to date, 126 carloads of lemons and 174 of oranges, a total of all citrus fruits of 300 carloads. Adding shipments to Pacific Coast points the gross total for the season is 311 carloads.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKETS.

LOS ANGELES MARKETS.

Stocks of fresh butter on merchants' hands are light. The market is kept pretty well cleaned up from day to day. Tub butter is firm at 23 to 25 cents a pound.

Live poultry is in good demand. Live turkeys are coming in very slowly. One dealer who generally gets in turkeys from the San Joaquin Valley for Thanksgiving does not expect any this year. It look as though there would be a shortage of local turkeys. If this be true there is hardly enough eastern dressed here to meet the demand.

Very little game is coming in. A few hares were on the market this morning.

SHARES AND MONEY.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—Selling to take profit overcame the market again today, and the general level of stock prices is lower than it was last night. The day's net changes, which are fractional except in a few stocks, gives no idea of the wide movement of prices during the day, nor of the notable strength shown at times by a few stocks. This is due to the fact that the market was generally strong in the early dealings, and was only carried below last night's level by a very sharp decline, which also reduced the gains. The strong points were in the coalers, Southern Railway preferred, Baltimore and Ohio, Southern Pacific and the American Smelting stocks. The movement in the coalers was helped by the wintry weather reported. The movement caused the revival of old rumors of consolidation, or change of control, the effect being notably manifest in New Jersey Central, which rose six points, reacting 1½. The business in the group was small, except in the Readings. Large buying of Southern Railway preferred continued. This was about the only stock, except Denver, Rio Grande, of yesterday's strong group, which held out today. American Smelting stocks rose on talk of absorption of the principal competing interests. Before the close, very large buying of Southern Pacific came into force, the individual transactions running from one to six thousand shares, and lifted the stock two points. During the early part of the day, when the general market was strong, the steel and copper stocks were weak. The steel stocks showed a disposition to rally, but closed unchanged. Amalgamated copper was very heavily sold. The general reaction of the market was not accompanied by any unfavorable development in the general conditions, but the disappointment of speculative expectations. The principal of these was that today's London stock exchange settlement would develop a very heavy short interest in America. On the contrary, it was shown that quite a large long account existed in America, and that London sold stocks here for the new account. Another speculative assumption was that Chicago and the West had been prevented yesterday by the interruption of wire communications from buying very largely, but the opportunity of today was not taken advantage of. Conditions in the money market continue very easy. Bonds were active and prices higher. Total sales $3,075,000. United States 3s declined ¼, and the new and old 4s advanced ¼ on the last call.

London Financial Market.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—The Commercial Advertiser's London financial cablegram says: "The markets have been dull and firm today. Americans were active on all-around advance, though the close was a little under the top. The bull account revealed by the settlement was of only moderate proportions. The general rate was 4@5 per cent. Money was in strong demand, though quotations were unaltered. Silver was firmer on Chinese buying, as the Philippine government has imposed a 10 per cent. export duty on Mexican dollars."

GENERAL EASTERN MARKETS

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

CHICAGO, Nov. 27.—November corn, with Phillips still in control and shorts trying in every way to get No. 2 to deliver to him before the close next Friday, was the feature today, and while not spectacular, was fairly active. Fair delivery this month corn sold between 6 and 6¾, and closed 1 cent higher at 69c. Private elevators delivered 90,000 bushels of contract grade, and 57 out of 929 cars received graded contract. Contract stocks for the week, 1,351,000 bushels, show an increase of 461,000 bushels, 35 was reported that shorts had ordered No. 2 corn previously shipped to Buffalo and Montreal to be shipped back by fast freight. The report had no effect on the market, as it is doubtful that the corn can be brought here in time. Phillips sold about two hundred thousand bushels during the session. Much of the buying was on stop-loss orders from shorts. December was firm early, on light country acceptances, but during the afternoon a drive was made at it and the price fell 3c. December closed 8@ 9c lower at 36. Wheat was dull and inactive. The market opened weak; December ½c lower at 70¾@70¾, on weak cables, but rallied later to 70¾@70¾ on reports of damage to the crop in the Southwest. The report of the death of the Czar influenced considerable selling near the end, and December dropped sharply to 70¼. The close was weak, 2@2½c lower at 70¼c. There was considerable changing of December for May, at 3½c difference. A scarcity of news, due to the trouble with telegraph wires, again interfered with business. There was little change in the monotonous situation in oats. December closed a shade up at 21⅜. Provisions were earlier early on a heavy run of hogs, but rallied later on buying by an influential trader. The close was fairly steady. Lard, 2½c lower and ribs a shade down; January pork closed unchanged.

POMONA.

S. P. TRACKS RUINED.

POMONA, Nov. 27.—[Regular Correspondence.] The washout on the Southern Pacific Railroad at San Dimas is so extensive, and the making of repairs would be so expensive and difficult, that it is understood the company will not undertake the work. Its plan is said to be to secure a new right of way into San Dimas, if possible. No trains can be run via this branch from Pomona to Los Angeles for some time. The damage to the Southern Pacific tracks is a pretty large item on this branch alone.

POMOLOGICAL CLUB.

A meeting of the Pomological Club was held at "Thornycroft," the home of George F. Ferris, on Cucamonga avenue yesterday afternoon. A. R. Sprague, president of the Southern California Deciduous Fruit Association, addressed the meeting on "Markets and Coöperation."

CROPS AND WEATHER.

The storm that set in at the close of last week with generally steady precipitation, which at times became heavy and in places torrential, continued till Thursday, when it broke and was followed by bright, growing weather, according to the weekly climate and crop bulletin of the Weather Bureau for Southern California. This storm gave the best rains that have occurred for a number of years: it broke the long drought and restored confidence. Some damage resulted from washes and flood water, but this was offset by the general great good. Feed is growing fast. Plowing and seeding are in progress generally, and now-sown grain is coming up.

ORANGE COUNTY ROAD CONTENTION.

NEW HIGHWAY OPPOSED BY BOLSA CHICA GUN CLUB.

Santa Ana Valley Irrigation Company to Improve Its Main Canal. Washed-out and Damaged Bridges Requiring Attention—Trustees Lively.

SANTA ANA, Nov. 27.—[Regular Correspondence.] The contention over the opening of a new public highway along the ocean front in the vicinity of the Bolsa Chico Gun Club's grounds is again before the Board of Supervisors. It came up yesterday at a hearing of the objectors to the proposed improvement. The gun club was represented by an attorney, and after some discussion it was decided to postpone a further hearing until December 5. The board then appointed a committee of two of its members, Messrs. Nickey and Potter, to confer with the gun club relative to the objections urged against the opening of the road, and to report at the next meeting.

CANAL IMPROVEMENTS.

The directors of the Santa Ana Valley Irrigation Company have decided to make extensive cement improvements on the main canal. The company has desired to make this improvement for the past three years, but the water has been so low that it would have been impracticable. The water will be turned out of the main canal December 1, when the work will begin, and be pushed ahead as rapidly as possible.

MORE BRIDGES TO BUILD.

The recent heavy rains have made it necessary for several new bridges to be built in this county, particularly in the northern portion. Supervisor Potter yesterday reported that two bridges had been washed out and one had been badly damaged across Coyote Creek on the county line, and that two bridges east of Placentia and one in La Habra Valley at San Sanida crossing had been not only washed out, but completely destroyed. He stated that the crossings at these places were impassable, and that in his judgment it was necessary to rebuild them at once. The board instructed Mr. Potter to have the bridges rebuilt or repaired at the earliest possible moment.

ANIMATED MEETING.

The Board of City Trustees held an animated meeting last evening, the question of granting a saloon license being the cause. Oscar Lawler of Los Angeles was an interested visitor, representing, as he did, several of the creditors of one of the applicants for the license, and it is not unlikely that for a time he imagined himself in a '49 mining camp. No guns were pulled, however, and apologies were made to Mr. Lawler after the meeting for the violent demonstration of several of the participants in the melée. The license was finally granted to Louis Young, the application of George P. Bessonette for the same favor being denied by the board.

Ernest L. Gregory of Berkeley and Miss Effie Frambes of this city were married today by the Rev. J. G. Green. Robert Wardlow and Miss Lida Swift of Talbert were married this afternoon.

RIVERSIDE COUNTY.

Fraser, heretofore assistant manager, has been promoted to the active management of the company; J. M. Myine will occupy the position of engineer. William Irving, who has been at the head of the Trust Company interests, will hereafter act as consulting manager and engineer. The planted lands and ranch houses on Arlington Heights, owned by the Trust Company and the Riverside Orange Company, will hereafter be worked jointly in behalf of these two companies by the Arlington Heights Fruit Company.

RAILROAD FRANCHISE.

At a meeting of the City Board of Trustees today, an ordinance passed to its first reading, granting the Riverside and Arlington Electric Railway Company a franchise to build a single track road on Cridge street, from Park avenue to Myrtle avenue, thence on Myrtle avenue to North Date street. Work is to begin within six months, and the road is to be completed within eighteen months. Trustees Covert, Brown and McFarland voted yes, and Trustee Peters no.

THANKSGIVING DAY.

Thanksgiving day in Riverside will be observed by a union service at Calvary Presbyterian Church at 10:30 a.m. The sermon will be preached by Rev. A. R. House. A football game will be played in the morning at Athletic Park, commencing at 10 o'clock, between the business men's and High School elevens. In the afternoon there will be an interesting programme of horse and bicycle races at the Riverside Fair and Driving Association's grounds.

RIVERSIDE BREVITIES.

The new grand jury will apparently have little to do but examine the books and accounts of the county officials. There are no criminal matters requiring attention.

Judgment in the sum of $1630 was rendered for the plaintiff yesterday in Judge Noyes's court, in the foreclosure suit of the Savings Bank of San Bernardino vs. I. C. Girard.

The surveyors, who have been running lines in this section for the new Salt Lake Railroad, have been encamped near High Grove during the past week.

The remains of Miss Winifred Shibley, who died Sunday at her home in Colton, were interred here this afternoon in Evergreen Cemetery. The deceased was 18 years of age and was a cousin of Mrs. Mark M. Hearn of this city.

W. G. Cox, a painter, met with a painful accident yesterday. A scaffold on which he was working gave way, precipitating him to the ground. He was badly bruised.

One of the engines for the city power plant arrived Sunday and is already in place. The second engine is expected to arrive the latter part of the week. The new set of boilers were fired up yesterday for the first time.

Traffic was resumed today on the Orange branch of the Santa Fe.

FULLERTON.

FOR BETTER ROADS.

FULLERTON, Nov. 27.—[Regular Correspondence.] Residents of Fullerton and Placentia are again talking of grading and graveling the road between the two places, and a meeting will be held at Placentia schoolhouse, under the auspices of the Fullerton and Placentia Farmers' Club, a week from Monday night, to appoint committees to solicit subscriptions and take the matter up with Supervisor Potter, who, on the part of the county, offers to pay for the gravel and have it placed along the road, a distance of three miles. The business men of Fullerton have promised to pay for palm trees to be set along either side of the improved road, which, when completed, will be one of the most beautiful driveways in the county. There will be room, according to plans, on one side of the road for a bicycle path, and on the other for a sidewalk and cement ditch. It is estimated that the cost will be about $6000.

ORANGES AND WALNUTS.

Early crop oranges will begin to move next week for the holiday trade. The Placentia Association will pack in its own house this season; E. K. Benchley will pack in the Golden Belt house; the Fay Fruit Company will occupy a packing-house on the south side of the track; Thacker will ship from a house west of the depot; the Earl Fruit Company is opening the large packing-house; Thomas Strain will use the house on the lumber-yard sidetrack, and C. C. Chapman will pack at the warehouse on his Santa Ysabel ranch.

The last payments for the walnut crop are coming in. The growers here this season will receive between $180,000 and $190,000 for the output, about ninety-five carloads. The season's crop is double what it was three years ago—when the nuts sold at 6½ and 7 cents. This year there was an active market for the entire output at 10 cents for softshells and 9½ cents for hardshells, and the growers feel good over the high prices obtained.

STORM AFTERMATH.

W. J. Hole, the pioneer settler of La Habra Valley, telephones in that the damage in the whole valley, caused by the late flood, will foot up but a few dollars.

Fullerton has been "dry" since Thursday night's heavy rain, the city waterworks having been flooded and the machinery damaged so that the pumps would not work. People in town had to haul water in from nearby farms and private tankhouses.

After the heavy rain Saturday one of W. M. McFadden's employés, August Siem, started into the cellar to pump the mud and water out, but was overcome by a gas from cyanide and vinegar which mixed when turned over. It was half an hour before he recovered. Mr. McFadden estimates his loss at $400.

The heavy rains drowned thousands of gophers in the hills; in fact, only a few have been seen since the storm. This means a large sum of money to the grain growers this season.

SANTA BARBARA COUNTY.

STORM ON CHANNEL ISLANDS.

SANTA BARBARA, Nov. 27.—[Regular Correspondence.] The sloop Kingfisher, Capt. Julius, has reached here, reporting a furious storm among the Channel Islands. The vessel lay in the harbor of Santa Cruz Island and weathered the blow and rain there. On Tuesday there was a terrific rain. For several hours the water simply poured from the sky, the fall amounting to a cloudburst in the tops of the island mountains. The water rushed with irresistible force down a narrow valley to the sea. After the storm it was found that the beach had receded 700 feet from its former position.

SAN BERNARDINO COUNTY MAN WANTED.

Posse After John McCullough in Alaska—Alleged to Have Murdered Fred Humphreys—Once a Prominent Mining Man Who Lived at Perris.

SAN BERNARDINO, Nov. 27.—[Regular Correspondence.] John McCullough, formerly a prominent mining man of this county, who lived with his family at Perris, is a fugitive from justice for a crime he is alleged to have committed at Circle City Alaska. He is accused of having murdered Fred Humphreys, a miner. Three years ago McCullough left his home at Perris and went to Alaska. He left behind a wife and two minor children—in fact, he practically deserted his family. At Seattle, it is alleged, McCullough was joined by a woman of the half world, who accompanied him to Nome and later to Circle City. There McCullough and the woman quarreled, and during the dispute McCullough beat the woman until she became unconscious.

The crime of which McCullough is accused, and is now a fugitive from justice for, was committed at Circle City about a month ago. While seated at the supper table he became engaged in a dispute with Fred Humphreys as to who was the owner of a valuable mine. Heated words were followed by blows, and McCullough got decidedly the worst of the fight. The following day Humphreys disappeared. Nothing was seen or heard of him for five days, when his body was found secreted beneath some bushes about three miles out of Circle City. His head was crushed, and his forehead had been pierced by three bullets. McCullough was suspected of the crime, and to escape the wrath of the miners at Circle City he started overland for Canada. A posse was sent after him.

THANKSGIVING BIRDS FREED.

Some turkeys that had been intended for the Thanksgiving table will not be served, owing to a collision at the Santa Fé station yesterday afternoon. The Los Angeles local bumped against a large express truck loaded with crates of live turkeys. The truck and the platforms of two cars, on the Riverside train were badly battered, and scores of the birds were set at liberty. Some got away and are still running, but most of them were soon in crates again.

SHAM DIAMONDS.

With the Redlands burglaries in mind, the officers started on the trail and finally captured a fellow, whose "diamonds" were of the alum variety and bore not the slightest resemblance to the Fisher jewels.

REDONDO.

BRAKEMAN'S FOOT CRUSHED.

REDONDO, Nov. 27.—[Regular Correspondence.] W. N. Perry, a brakeman employed by the Los Angeles and Redondo Railway Company, was working on cars which were switched from one of the wharves, when his foot was caught between a car and a projecting skid. A big nail at the end of the skid tore a gash in the foot. The shoe heel protected the foot somewhat, but the member was severely wrenched. It is thought that no bones are broken, but Perry is suffering severely, and it will probably be several weeks before he will have recovered.

The Redondo golf links were in excellent condition for playing within a day or two after the recent rains. They have been liberally patronized by Los Angeles devotees of the brassey and cleek.

FOOD IN NEW YORK.

An Experienced Physician's Work.

Dr. Hylande MacGrath in experimenting on the result of food on his own body, says: "After eating four heaping teaspoons of Grape-Nuts with a little cream, I had occasion to walk about fourteen miles and was surprised at my feeling of strength and buoyancy. On other occasions, when I have taken careful note of my feelings and sensations, I have discovered that intellectual tasks are comparatively easy when using Grape-Nuts at each meal.

"Of course I understand that the theory regarding Grape-Nuts is practically perfect. That is, the food contains elements that are well known, and furnished in a concentrated and quite delicious form, it is reasonable to expect results, but the physical demonstration of these results is more satisfactory, always, than the mere statement of theory.

"Grape-Nuts combined with fruit and seasonable vegetables, I prescribe to ailing women and delicate men, and have not had a case yet that has not furnished gratifying results. A nervous, irritable man of 72 became fat and amiable using Grape-Nuts food as a regular (but not exclusive) diet.

"I have found slender, anaemic girls improved rapidly in health, spirits, weight, and looks, on Grape-Nuts food. It would be a blessing to thousands of such girls if this food was used more largely in boarding schools and seminaries, not to be administered as medicine, but as a pure, healthful, and highly nourishing food." Dr. MacGrath lives at 96 5th Ave., New York.

Welcome to Blades.

After a meteoric and otherwise busting career in San Francisco, in which he succeeded in wrecking a newspaper property that has swallowed up many thousands of his friends' money, Sr. Don Paul R. Blades has returned to this town and again assumed the mismanagement of the Los Angeles Evening Record, which doubtless will soon follow in the downhill and toed-in footsteps of its cousin, the San Francisco Report. Nobody of our acquaintance better knows how to mismanage a newspaper than our friend, Caballero Blades. The Times bids him welcome to the scene of his former labors.

Some of the Republican State Senators-elect and Assemblymen-elect of Southern California, held an informal caucus yesterday afternoon at the office of Henry E. Carter, Senator-elect. Those present were the Republican members of the Legislature from this county, with the exception of Senator Currier and Mr. Pendleton, Dr. Haseon, Assemblyman-elect from Orange county, and Mr. Colwell, Senator-elect from Riverside county.

Monsen of the staff of Camera Craft of San Francisco. The slides are selected from a large number used in the illustration of Mr. Monsen's repertoire of lectures and in some instances, are reproduced from photographs that have never been duplicated. This is notably the case in the instance of a collection of views of the world-famous Death Valley, taken by Mr. Monsen while a member of the United State Geological Survey.

Trained Animal Show.

Norris & Rowe's Trained Animal Show continues to attract large crowds to the tents at the corner of Eleventh and Flower streets. The performance by the ponies, dogs, elephants, zebras, and monkeys is little short of marvelous, and there is not a feature of the programme that can be considered objectionable. The little animals are exceedingly well trained, go about their work with an apparent pleasure, and show their appreciation of the kind word or gentle stroke of approval which their master gives at the conclusion of each trick. It is apparent to all that the beasts have been taught to do their work by kindness rather than by punishment. The performance is made up of entirely new features. Performances will be given at 2 and 8 p.m.

MR. WU'S AUTOMOBILE.

[Chicago Tribune:] The Chinese minister, clad in the loose, flowing silken robes of his native country, racing about the streets at almost breakneck speed in an automobile, with his right hand upon the lever complacently guiding the machine, darting in here and whirling out there with an equanimity that is somewhat astonishing, is a familiar sight in Washington. Mr. Wu combines business with pleasure, for all of his trips down town to the State and other departments and to the Capitol and various business houses of the city are made in his auto.

Mr. Wu generally conducts his own machine, but as a matter of precaution he is always accompanied by an expert automobilist, a black man, who understands every piece of the intricate mechanism and who is carried along to assist in case of accident or other emergency.

In speaking of the automobile, Mr. Wu said: "I think that this machine is one of the greatest of modern inventions. It has certainly revolutionized the prevailing mode of ordinary travel and in time I believe it will supplant the horse almost entirely. I never liked horses much; therefore I appreciate the automobile all the more.

"Many of the customs of the Americans appealed to my reason when I arrived in this country, and I have adopted hundreds of them. They were all sensible, logical, and conducive to personal comfort and happiness. But I think the automobile is pre-eminently superior to any other agency I have seen here both in point of human usefulness and individual comfort. I will never give up my automobile, and when I return to China, I shall take it with me."

Free Masonry In the Middle Ages.

[New York Mail and Express:] The Free Masons were one of the innumerable trade guilds of the middle ages, each of which had its oaths, its passwords and its symbolic drama bearing on the theory and practice of the craft. The builders held the place of honor among these guilds because their work was the noblest. The nameless architects of those majestic cathedrals which shine out like jewels on the dark side of mediaeval anarchy and ignorance were Master Masons who had gone through precisely the same ordeal every Free Mason goes through to-day.

Get this Dean Soap.

Most three-for-a-quarter soaps are just ordinary soaps that come out of the same vat as five-cent soaps, but have a little more perfume or more fancy wrapper to justify the larger price.

The soaps we show in the window this week at 25 cents for a box of three cakes, come from the same stock as the high-priced soaps, but have a little less perfume and are not so well milled as the finest soaps. But the soap quality is there. You can't miss it by buying largely of the varieties shown.

A Common Cause of Sickness.

When the liver is sluggish and inactive the stomach will not digest food, and constipation, headaches and a general state of ill health result. In this condition use nothing but Wills' English Pills. They regulate the stomach and give vital force and energy; they drive away drowsiness, tired feelings and all troubles caused by an inactive liver.

Dr. Schiffman extracted five teeth for me without pain, and made me an under and upper set, which are a perfect success. It gives me much pleasure to testify to the perfect success of his painless and harmless method of extracting and his success as a fitter of plates. Respectfully yours, E. W. EDSON, Manzana, Cal.

Carpets and Rugs

Perhaps you have some misgivings where you had better buy your new carpets and Rugs. This is not at all strange as you stop to contemplate how many otherwise attractive homes are marred because of the lack of harmony in the interior furnishings, an apparent condition of war between the painter and decorator or the carpet dealer and upholsterer. These difficulties can easily be remedied by first going to experienced dealers in the different lines, whose reliable advice would be your proper guide. To be sure of getting coverings that will guarantee the greatest satisfaction, come to us. We have long experience in buying and expert salesmen to assist and advise customers how best to secure the most artistic blending of colors and matching that the best possible effects may be obtained. Prices are always enough below other dealers to make it an object for you to deal with us. We would remind you that we have numberless articles especially appropriate for holiday gifts.
